Halloween Vandals Ran Riot Over Area

The Editor's Column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Over 125 Illinois newspapers entered the 1957 Illinois Newspaper Contest. There are many good newspapers in Illinois. All of them cannot be perfect, but we feel very happy over the fact that awards given Paddock Publications included 2 in general excellence, and one each for community service and best typography and makeup.

The editorial staff is to be credited for the general excellence awards; our compositors and pressmen for the typography and makeup. All the bosses did was to attend the convention and receive the awards that employees and staff members made possible.

According to the Illinois Press association the Des Plaines Journal published the best story of the year that appeared in the 125 newspapers which entered the annual contest.

The story was an expose of the closing to the press of records and files by the Des Plaines police department.

The Des Plaines editor told us that the story, published last July, brought results and the police files are now open to his reporters.

One of the shortest acts passed by the state legislature this year makes mandatory the opening of public records. It is only a page in length, but it provides ammunition for the editorial guns of a newspaper which is denied access to official records.

The new law provides for immediate hearing on such a mandamus petition, and assesses all cost on the reluctant public official. A jail sentence and fine are also possible.

The law does not prohibit an executive session of a body as long as no official action is taken.

We are not planning mandamus proceedings against any local official but it is comforting to know that we can do just that.

Members of the breakfast club are not showing much excitement over the second satellite that the Russians have sent upward. Its members do not even discuss the possibility Russians can put an end to civilization any place in the United States it wills.

"It-can't-happen-here attitude is no stranger in these parts. As one member told us Tuesday, if Uncle Sam cannot scare us into Civilian Defense, how do you expect us to get scared because a dog in a satellite is a few hundred miles overhead?"

Remember those years when Arlington Heights railroad parks grew flowers as well as green grass? An oldtimer suggested to us a return to the flowers would be an admirable project for one of the garden clubs.

Cook county treasurer will apply to the county court Monday for sale of tax delinquent property advertised in this paper last week. The actual sale starts November 21.

The county tax machinery has started to grind out data on which next spring's taxes will be based. Personal property valuations are the first step and Barrington is the first township to be published. It will be found in the Palatine Enterprise edition this week.

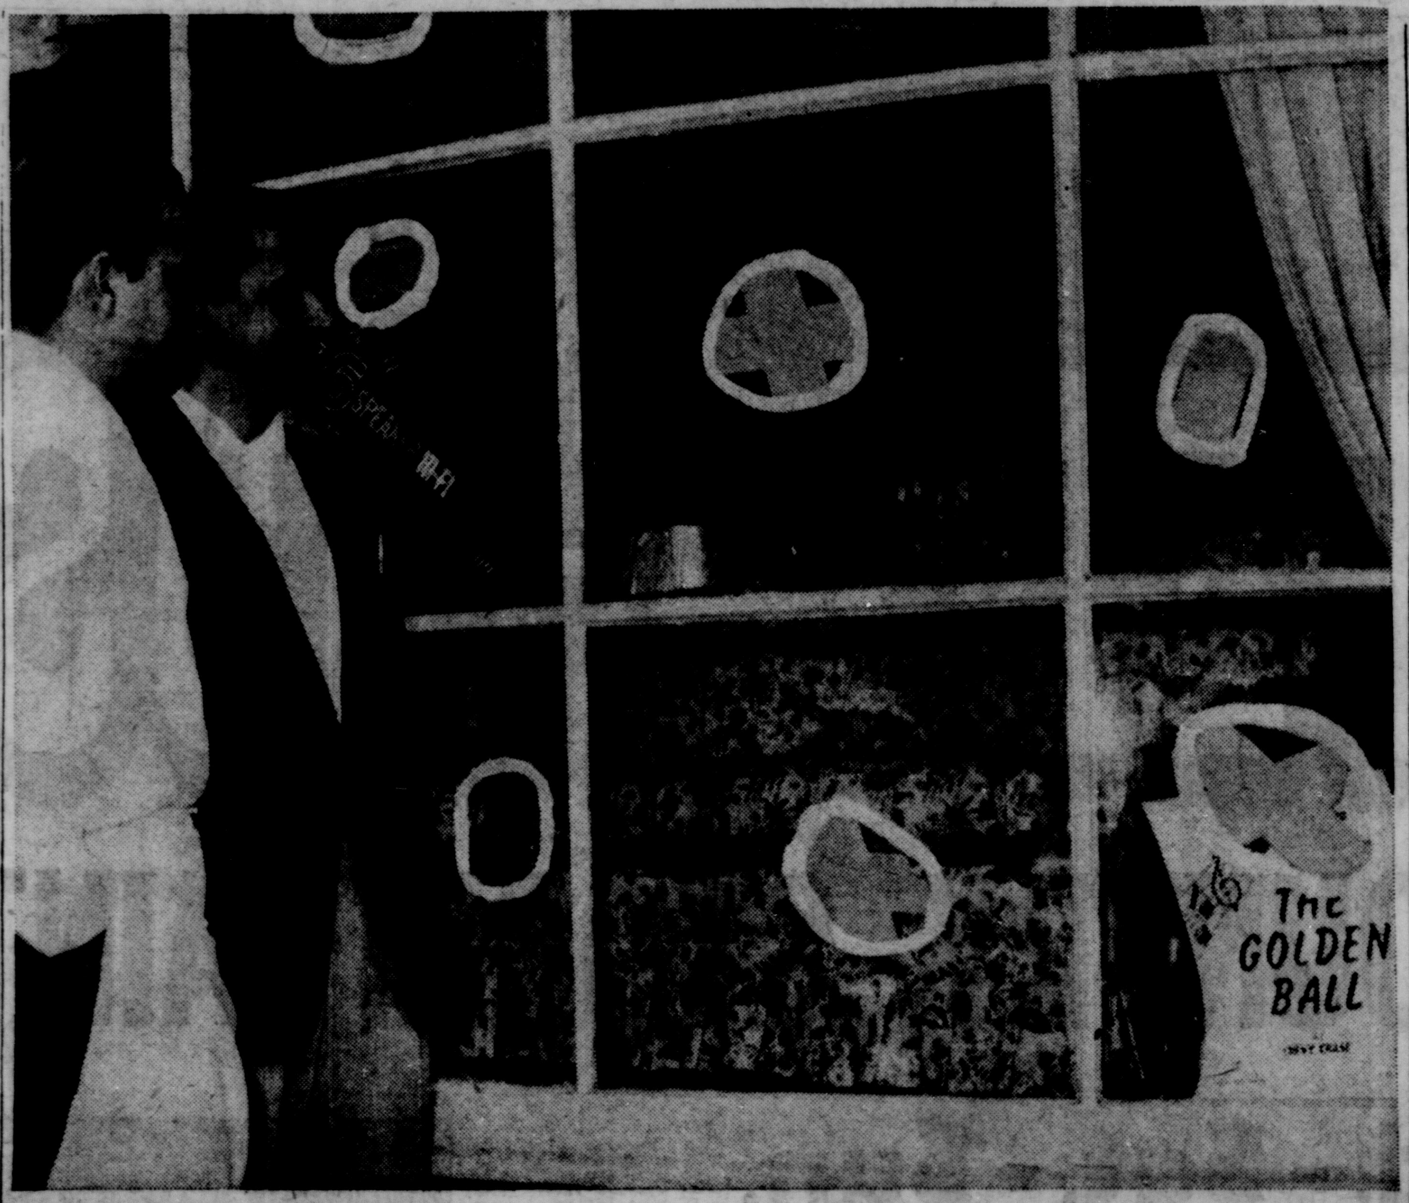
The complaint department asks us to tell you readers that the closing hour is Monday night on society news, business briefs, feature news stories, the Fence Post, Campus Capers, and With Uncle Sam. It is so important that the editorial staff handling such departments cannot go to bed Monday nights until news for those departments is completed. Tuesday is really too late.

All-Time High

This week's editions of Paddock Publications reach an all-time high total of 26,000 homes in northwest suburbs with 6 pages of "For Women", 6 pages of sports, 6 pages of want ads, as well as the regular weekly features on the farm page, editorial page, and picture page.



HALLOWEEN VANDALISM reached a peak in the northwest area this year. Surveying some of the extensive damage at the Prospect Heights shopping center are Bill Hildabran, grocer, and Joseph Schneller, furniture merchant (right). BB's were shot through 32 windows and Schneller estimated total damage as more than $5,000. Neon signs at the fire station and inside a barber shop were also shot up.

Nation Informed of Need For New Police Chief

The search for a new chief of police for Arlington Heights is ranging as far as California.

In a report to trustees made Tuesday, village manager F. R. Buechner said he has written to several universities and agencies to advise them of Arlingtons need for a police chief.

CHIEF CARL H. SKOOG will resign at the end of the current calendar year.

Advertisements listing the requirements and benefits of the position have been placed in news letter of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and a publication of the International City Managers' association.

The ads give the salary range of $6300 to $6930, as provided in the employees' salary pay plan, Buechner said.

"IF THESE ADS do not attract enough qualified applicants, an increase in the salary range may be necessary," the manager added.

Buechner has inquired of O. W. Wilson, an outstanding authority on police administration and head of the police training school of the University of California, as to standards for the selection of a police chief.

Wilson and Ray Ashworth, director of Northwestern university's Traffic institute, were also asked to suggest qualified candidates.

APPLICATIONS TO date include one local application and another from an experienced chief of police in a small Illinois town. Neither name was made public by the manager.

Referring to the fact that no examination is required or tenure given for the appointive chief's job, Buechner told the board:

"The principal difficulty encountered thus far is that most policemen and state highway officers are under civil service (while) the chief of police opening here has no security."

Another possible handicap, he continued, is that the chief "cannot participate in the Police Pension fund and can only participate in the Illinois Municipal Retirement fund, which is not as liberal in its benefits, except for disability."

Moving Days Here For Public Works

Monday and Tuesday were moving days for the Arlington Heights department of public works.

Superintendent William W. Luehring and his crew of water and street maintenance and repairmen vacated their cramped quarters in village hall in favor of the spacious building erected for them on Ridge ave., north of Wing st.

THE BUILDING adjoins the water reservoirs on a village-owned tract. Constructed at a cost of about $85,000, the steel-and-brick structure will also serve as a garage for vehicles formerly left out-of-doors.

The police department and administrative offices will move into the empty rooms in the village hall. An architect is now drafting plans for the conversion.

New Secretary

Wilbert C. Hartman, 603 N. Beverly, former owner of a local retail shoe store, this week was appointed manager of the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce.

Arlington Motorist Injured in Wreck

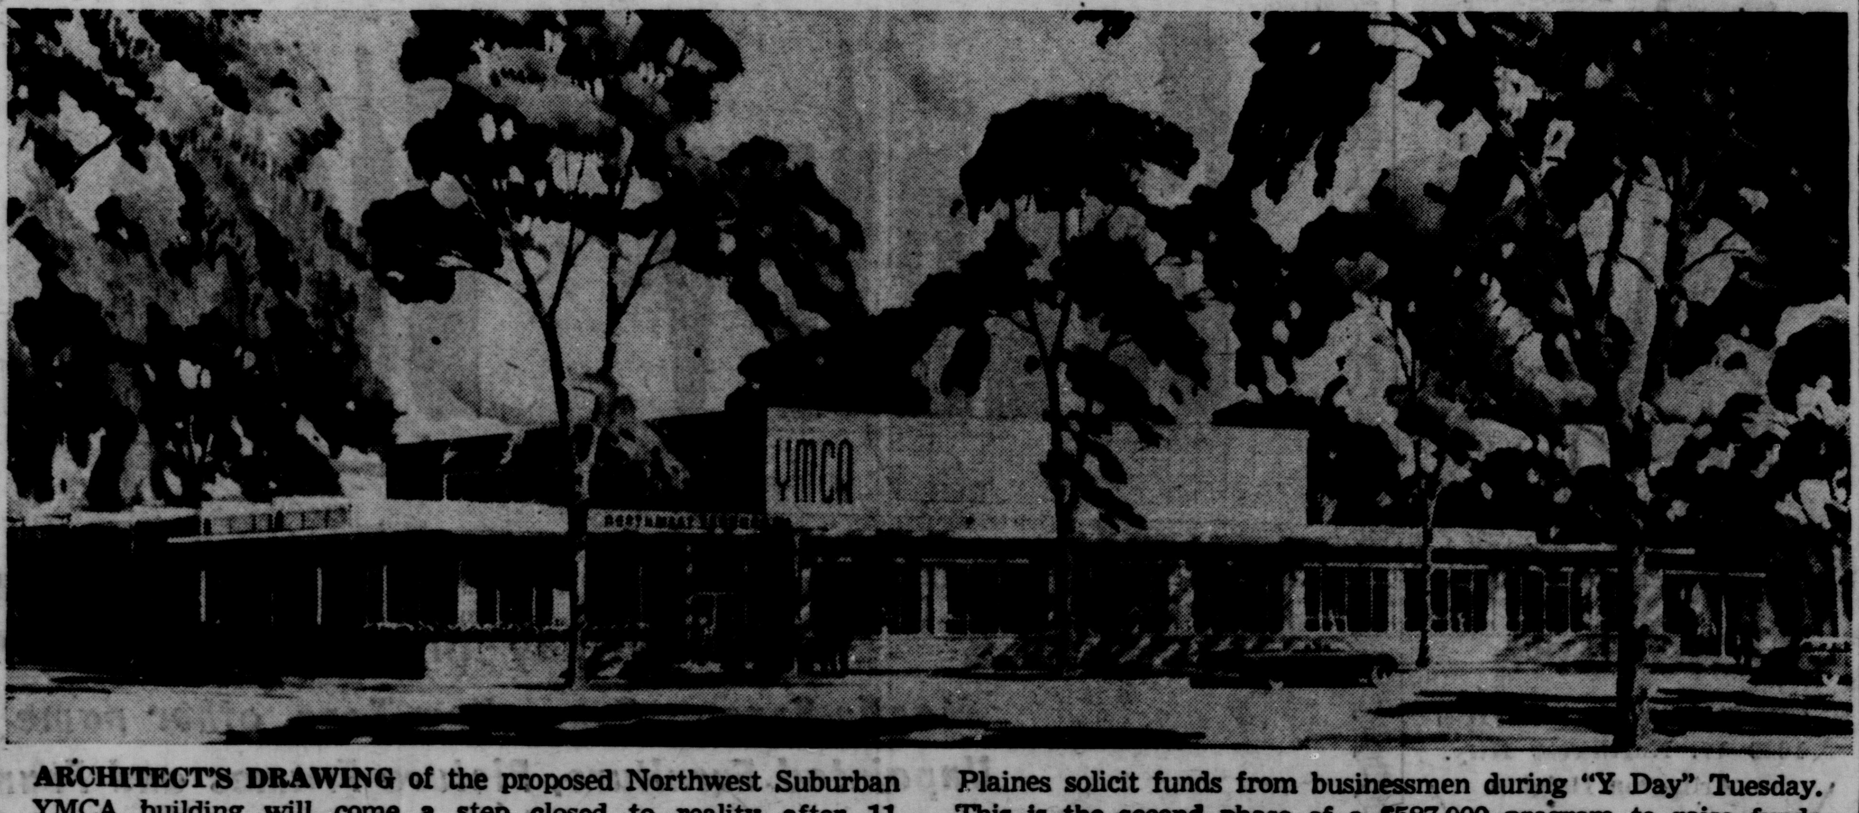
An Arlington Heights motorist was among 6 persons injured in a flaming rear-end crash of 2 autos at rt. 53 and Lake st., DuPage county last Wednesday night.

He was Clair B. Owen Jr., 36, of 218 Drury ln., who suffered deep facial cuts. Others involved were Chicago residents.

A Lot of Bother Nets Only $3

A pair of fast-working thieves went to considerable trouble to steal a purse in Arlington Hgts. Saturday but obtained less than $3.

Two young men entered the House of Jarvis about 3 p. m. While one talked to a salesgirl, the other took a purse from the back of the store. The pair fled when questioned by a girl about the purse by another sales girl in the parking lot.



ARCHITECT'S DRAWING of the proposed Northwest Suburban YMCA building will come a step closed to reality after 11 service clubs in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, and Des Plaines solicit funds from businessmen during "Y Day" Tuesday. This is the second phase of a $587,000 program to raise funds for a local YMCA building.

Report Senseless Damage

Vandals went on a rampage of senseless destruction in rural and unincorporated areas of northwest suburbia over Halloween, victims and police reported.

By the time things had quieted down Friday morning, a barn had been burned down, an attempted bridge-burning had been doused by firemen and dozens of costly store front plate glass windows had been shot out.

VILLAGE POLICE protection helped to keep the damage to a minimum within town limits but even so there were many cases of broken store and car windows, dumped garbage cans and the like.

Estimates of the total damage mounted to thousands of dollars. Merchant Joseph Schneller of Prospect Heights estimated that BB-guns did "over $5,000" worth of damage to stores in that community's shopping center, for example.

Here is a roundup by locality:

BUFFALO GROVE — This sprawling settlement northwest of Wheeling was the scene of both the cases of apparent arson. A 100-year-old barn on the farm of Oscar Weidner, Aptakisic rd., burned to the ground about 8 p. m. Wednesday. Weidner's wife said neighbors saw some one fleeing from the building shortly before the fire started.

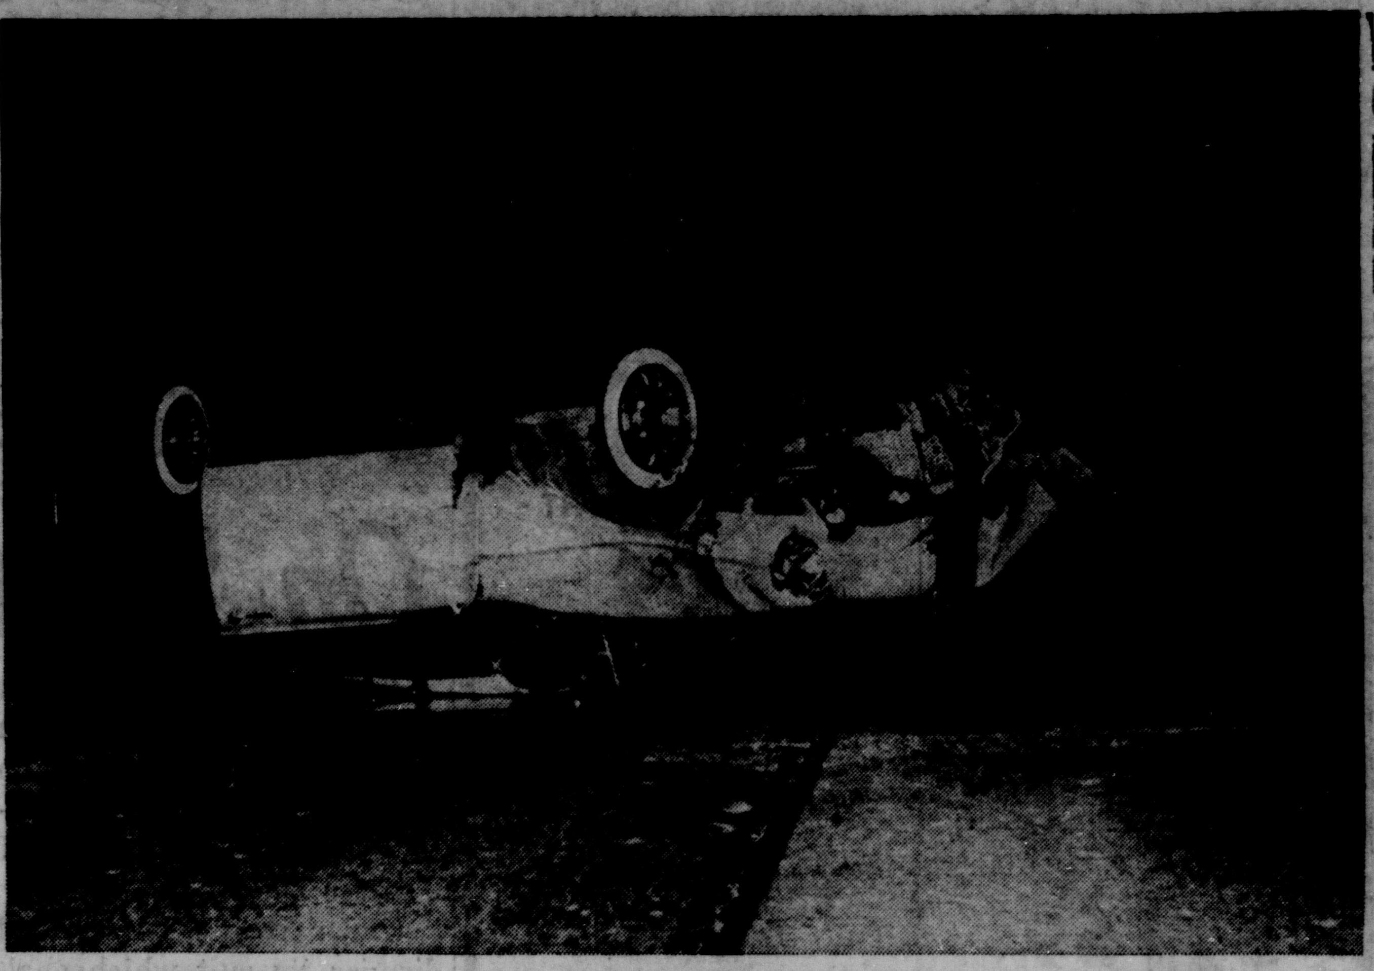
Others along the road had mailboxes and fences ripped out. A bridge in the center of Buffalo Grove was set aflame with oil or gasoline about 11:30 p.m. Thursday and Wheeling firemen put out the blaze before it had a chance to get going.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Rhodes Appliances, Inc., west of the village, had 9 windows, valued at $150 each, shot, beer bottles were tossed downtown and a real estate office window broken, a picture window at the Jerome C. Thomas home, 120 E. Maple, was smashed, at least 3 autos lost panes to bricks or BB's and firecracker bombs landed on several east side front porches. Two quart beer bottles sailed through the glass front of Lattof Motor Sales, 800 E. Northwest hwy., dimming the debut of the 1958 model autos a few hours later.

MOUNT PROSPECT — Chief of Police Whittenberg said "a few BB's went off and hit windows."

WHEELING — Reported Police Chief Marvin Horcher: "Not a complaint all evening." A giant hot dog-and-milk party for all village youth kept 1400 kids off the streets. Wheeling merchants, who supplied the treats, were in turn well-treated as not a window was broken.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS — Neon signs over the fire station and 32 store windows were drilled by BB's, prompting angry owners to decide to raise a fund to reward anyone who gives information leading to the arrest of the perpetrators. Hit were drug, liquor, real estate, furniture, hardware, grocery, barber and women's wear shops.



A $7,000 CADILLAC driven only 4 months was demolished Thursday night in a spectacular 2-car crash on Rand rd., between Eucild ave. and McDonald rd. But its occupant George Rairie of Palatine, escaped serious injury as did the couple in the other vehicle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crothers of Lake Zurich. Rairie said the Crothers auto collided with his just after Crothers had turned north onto Rand rd. from the Rolling Green country clubhouse driveway. Rairie's auto sheered off a phone pole after the impact.

Wheeling Township Auto Death Toll Mounts to 8

The 1957 highway death toll in Wheeling township, an area only 6 miles square, climbed to 8 persons Tuesday.

The figure compares with a total of 4 persons fatally injured during the entire 12 months of 1956.

TWO PERSONS died as a result of highway accidents during the 5-day period from Wednesday through Monday. Both of the accidents occurred outside the township villages of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Wheeling.

Killed last Wednesday was William C. Gronert of Arlington Heights, whose auto collided with another at Euclid ave. and Wolf rd., northeast of Mount Prospect. Details on the accident are carried in another story in this issue.

A 14-year-old Chicagoan lost his life Sunday night in a second accident in the southeastern corner of the township, less than 1 mile from the spot of the Wednesday tragedy.

DEAD IS CHARLES Ludington Jr., 2434 N. Ridgeway ave., Chicago, a passenger in an auto driven by his father, Charles Sr. The father was critically injured, as was a second passenger, Tony Mendyk, 12, also of Chicago.

Two others were injured in the accident on River rd., 1 mile south of Milwaukee ave. They were Daniel Ramage, 18, of 2 N. Wolf rd., driver of the other car, and Kenneth Morgan, 18, of Rte. 2, Des Plaines.

According to state police, Ludington apparently was making a U-turn to go south on River rd. when his car was struck on the left side by Ramage's auto.

A 78-YEAR-OLD resident of a rest home at 3410 N. Milwaukee ave., Northbrook, apparently wandered away from the home Tuesday night. George Kaucher, formerly of Wilmette, was hit while walking across Milwaukee ave. and died later.

Police did not hold the driver, Nick Niessner, 28, of 100 W. Jeffrey, Wheeling, whose auto hit Kaucher near Sanders rd. in rural Northfield township.

Boy, 7, Critically Hurt By Hit-and-Run Motorist

A 7-year-old Arlington Heights boy riding his bicycle home for lunch was struck by a hit-and-run driver and seriously injured Tuesday noon.

John F. Skallerup, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M., 1511 Oakton, a second grader at Ridge school, remained in serious condition at Resurrection hospital, Arlington Heights police said late Wednesday morning.

THE BOY'S internal injuries had not been determined but police said his jaw is broken. He "had a peaceful night" Tuesday, added police.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Oakton st. and Princeton ave. about 12:05 p.m., less than 2 blocks due east from the boy's home. He was westbound and the auto southbound when the vehicles collided in the south half of the intersection.

Witnesses told the police that the driver, a woman, continued driving south toward Northwest hwy., dragging the bright red bicycle underneath the auto. The witnesses saw the car turn right onto the highway, turn left at Wilke rd. and head south again.

THE BICYCLE fell out from underneath the auto on Wilke rd., just south of the railway crossing.

Police questioned residents living near the intersection seeking witnesses. One woman whose auto closely matched that of a description of the fleeing car was questioned by police. However, as of 11 a.m. Wednesday, no arrest had been made.

Scrapings taken from the underside of the auto were being checked against the bicycle paint to see if they matched. The crime lab of the Chicago police department normally requires a week or more to complete its scientific investigation, reported Arlington police Sgt. Ray Jahnke.

VILLAGE POLICE would not make an arrest until so advised by the State's Attorney office, he explained.

The right front and right rear wheels of the auto passed over the boy's abdomen, police said. But the boy stood up and staggered toward his home, finally collapsing in a front yard several doors away from his home.

Tuesday afternoon village police crawled under dozens of autos throughout the northwest area to look for telltale evidence. Police of Rolling Meadows, Palatine, Wheeling and other communities aided in the search.

Arlington police said only one person is being questioned about the accident, however.

Unique Arlington Store Makes Nation's Headlines

To newspapers from Willimantic, Conn. to Fullerton, Calif., Arlington Heights is the town with the quaint paint store.

A feature story sent out to daily papers across the nation by the United Press is responsible.

THE STORE IS the Country Store Paint Co., located in the Dunton Court shopping center in downtown Arlington.

Owner Mrs. Clare Gunderson recalls that the syndicated story had its beginning with a visit to the store by Mrs. Alfred Leech, 621 S. Vail. Her interest and liking for the general store and cracker barrel atmosphere of the place were conveyed to her husband, a feature writer for the Chicago office of the newsservice.

Leech spotted the feature possibilities of the place — particularly the contrast between the modern exterior with its full glass door and the old-fashioned furnishings inside —and wrote the story.

SOON PICTURES will follow to the hundreds of newspapers which receive the UP service.

Clare and her husband Russ, who helps out at the store when he's not working at his other job, are thrilled and amazed at the power of the press.

"Since the story appeared, we've had people come from Evanston, Libertyville and even Milwaukee just to see the store," she said.

AMONG NEWSPAPERS which used it are The Milwaukee Journal, Newark, N.J. Evening News, San Diego, Calif., Tribune, Fullerton, Calif. Tribune Willimantic, Conn. Chronicle and the Bolivar Commercial of Cleveland, Miss.

Monday The New York Times published it, and the Gundersons will fly to Gotham to get a clipping, if necessary.

Even Mayor Edward G. Carlisle figures in the story.

A MISSISSIPPI woman who read the item wrote to the Gundersons, but her letter was returned for lack of a proper address. The second time the woman addressed it to the mayor, who opened it Saturday morning and brought it to the store.

The woman — an antique fancier — wanted to buy some dishes, which the Country Store neither stocks nor sells.

One of the papers printed the account with a headline that the red-haired owner hopes is prophetic: "Buyers Like Idea of Old Country Shop."

Trading Stamps To Be Discussed

Pros and cons of trading stamps will be discussed Tuesday night at a meeting of Arlington Heights chamber of commerce. Businessmen in Mt. Prospect and Palatine have also been invited to attend the meeting at 8 p.m. in the south room of Recreation park field house, Arlington Heights.

Among questions to be discussed are: What is the cost of trading stamps? Where are prizes purchased? Where does the stamp money go? Which stamp plan is best? Can anything be done to compete with trading stamps?

Trading Stamps To Be Discussed

Pros and cons of trading stamps will be discussed Tuesday night at a meeting of Arlington Heights chamber of commerce. Businessmen in Mt. Prospect and Palatine have also been invited to attend the meeting at 8 p.m. in the south room of Recreation park field house, Arlington Heights.

Among questions to be discussed are: What is the cost of trading stamps? Where are prizes purchased? Where does the stamp money go? Which stamp plan is best? Can anything be done to compete with trading stamps?

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Grownups, Too, Enjoy a Gay Halloween

A number of Arlington Heights residents, convinced that there's no point in letting the kids have all the fun on the Halloween holiday, observed the occasion over the weekend with celebrations of their own.

The George Kendall home, 733 S. Dunton, was the meeting place Saturday night for assorted adult Halloween spooks who celebrated the holiday with a costume party. Ten couples from the 700 block on S. Dunton tried to identify one another with a couple from Evanston, friends of the host and hostess, added to further confuse the issue. An evening of games and dancing was thoroughly enjoyed and "goofy" prizes for the best costumes awarded to Milt Wendorf, Dora Colan and Ginny Selan.

Saturday night was the time, too, for Arlington Heights dentists to put aside their white coats and don less professional attire to attend with their wives, a Halloween costume party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Lidge, 212 E. Euclid. Assisting the Lidges with the entertainment and the serving of a midnight buffet were Miss Betty Novak of Elmwood Park and Dr. Jack Baker, who added to the cause for celebration by announcing their engagement and approaching November 23 marriage.

Among the 16 couples were the Lidges' special guests, Dr. Lidge's assistant and her husband, the Eugene Schamnes. Masqueraders with the most original costumes were Mrs. Daniel Kennedy and Dr. Frank Psota, who won first prize with other prizes going to Dr. and Mrs. Harrie Hall, Dr. Vernon Boman and Mrs. Paul Bostian.

Sanitary District Agrees On $350,000 Settlement

An informal agreement has been reached between the village of Arlington Heights and the Metropolitan Sanitary district of Greater Chicago.

Under it the village will dismiss its suit which challenged annexation to the Sanitary district.

In return the village will receive $350,000 as compensation for facilities sold and leased to the district.

THIS WAS announced Tuesday in a joint statement by Anthony A. Olis, president of the Sanitary district, and Mayor Edward G. Carlisle. The agreement is to be ratified by the boards of trustees of both governments.

Under the terms of the agreement, the Sanitary district will:

1. Buy the village's 8 foot by 12 foot box sewer within the village to the outfall at Central rd., for $200,000.
2. Pay the village $150,000 for perpetual flowage rights in the 72 inch Forrest ave. sewer and the Dryden pl. sewer, and in the 6½ foot by 9½ foot box sewer between Dryden pl. and the 8 foot by 12 foot box sewer.
3. Pay the cost of operating the Arlington Heights sewage treatment works from January 1, 1957 until the District's intercepting sewer is connected to the outfall of the Arlington Heights local sewer system.
4. Clean out and enlarge Weller creek from Central rd. to Elmhurst rd., helping storm drainage in both Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights.
5. Clean the 8 foot by 12 foot outfall sewer in Arlington Heights betweein Central rd. and the 6 foot sewer in Davis st.

CARLISLE SAID the village will retain all ownership and rights in the Arlington Heights treatment works and site, which will become idle when the Sanitary district interceptor is completed.

Olis said the sewers and the sanitary sewage flowage rights purchased from the village will help serve outlying areas now beyond Arlington Heights and will eliminate the need for costly new construction.

Arlington Heights is within the territory annexed to the Sanitary district in the referendum of November 6, 1956. The suit challenging the annexation was filed in Superior court April 1, 1957.

RESIDENTS of the newly annexed territory will be assessed the Sanitary district levy — exclusive of the bond and interest levy for Sanitary district indebtedness existing at the time of annexation — on their 1958 tax bills covering the calendar year of 1957.

The $350,000 is expected to partially pay off an estimated $600,000 debt on the treatment plant, whose oneman staff has been offered other employment with the village. (AF

Residential Building Is On Upswing

Residential building took an upturn in Arlington Heights in October in the face of the "tight money" situation.

Building commissioner Fred Hammer reported that permits were issued for 38 single family homes with a valuation of $736,050. With 20 more permit applications on his desk Tuesday afternoon making the November outlook bright, the construction picture at the end of the year appeared much healthier than during the early part of the year.

OTHER PERMITS were issued in the past month for a $25,000 remodeling of the Krause block of stores on the south side of Campbell between Evergreen and Dunton, for a $30,000 MacDonald drive-in at Northwest hwy. and Wilke rd. and for a $5,000 addition in the 200 block of N. Evergreen for a new delicatessen.

There were 16 garage and 14 other alterations and additions, boosting the overall valuation to $875,698.

After a week there and in Virginia visiting friends, they spent a week at the Skytop club in the colorful Poconos mountains in Pennsylvania.

The W. G. Frankes returned home to 120 S. Pine last Friday after a 3500-mile 2-week coastal tour of Florida and a few additional days spent in Indiana on their return trip. They brought back greetings from former Arlington Heights residents with whom they visited in Florida.

Among those saying hello to old friends here were the Ira Parkers, now of New Smyrna Beach and Mrs. Doris McCary, now residing in Orlando, and her daughter, Lucy, who was recently married. At St. Petersburg Mr. and Mrs. Franke joined Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Baumann of Arlington Heights, also enjoying a Florida vacation, and the foursome made a tour of the impressive Cyprus Gardens.

The Frankes' return trip was made by way of French Lick, Ind. where they attended the 4-day meeting of the American Roadbuilders association. Their final stopover was in Bloomington to visit their daughter, Sana, a student at Indiana university and a member of the Pi Beta Phi society which recently selected Sana as the sorority's candidate for Arbutus Queen.

Ten young friends of Nancy Grabow helped Nancy celebrate her sixth birthday Saturday with luncheon and an afternoon of games at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Grabow, 1201 N. Mitchell. The birthday girl completed her big day at an evening family party in her home with grandma, Mrs. Edward A. Grabow, and other relatives from Chicago.

Their hosts for a weekend in that state at South Fort Mitchell were the Robert Barons, formerly of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Rogers, 312 N. Dwyer, are home again after 2 weeks in Washington, D.C. and Pennsylvania. Although they just missed the visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip to Washington, the Rogers enjoyed seeing the city as it had been beautified for the royal couple's tour. After a week there and in Virginia visiting friends, they spent a week at the Skytop club in the colorful Poconos mountains in Pennsylvania.

The W. G. Frankes returned home to 120 S. Pine last Friday after a 3500-mile 2-week coastal tour of Florida and a few additional days spent in Indiana on their return trip. They brought back greetings from former Arlington Heights residents with whom they visited in Florida.

Among those saying hello to old friends here were the Ira Parkers, now of New Smyrna Beach and Mrs. Doris McCary, now residing in Orlando, and her daughter, Lucy, who was recently married. At St. Petersburg Mr. and Mrs. Franke joined Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Baumann of Arlington Heights, also enjoying a Florida vacation, and the foursome made a tour of the impressive Cyprus Gardens.

The Frankes' return trip was made by way of French Lick, Ind. where they attended the 4-day meeting of the American Roadbuilders association. Their final stopover was in Bloomington to visit their daughter, Sana, a student at Indiana university and a member of the Pi Beta Phi society which recently selected Sana as the sorority's candidate for Arbutus Queen.

Electronic Brain Moves Into New Arlington Office

Something new has been added in Arlington Heights.

It's a large scale electronic computer moved into the Pure Oil company's new offices at 311 S. State rd.

The company says it will probably take 2 weeks before the device is set up, tested, and ready to operate.

The computer, an International Business Machines model "705," occupies a specially air conditioned room that looks large enough to accommodate several bowling alleys.

PURE OIL officials regard the computer "as just another advanced office device with a tremendous capacity for work," and pointedly discount the fact that it is popularly known as an "electronic brain."

"The finest computer is useless without men to plan its best use and to interpret the data it produces," Pure officials state. "We have been preparing for the arrival of the "705" for 2 years, and we still have a great deal to do before we can hope to utilize its full capacity.

"Our hope is that by performing many routine and thankless jobs at high speed the machine will free many employees to do more interesting and worthwhile work. Also its correct use will allow us to tackle problems that previously were too long and complicated to attempt. It should give us better information with which to make operating decisions."

BASICALLY, the "705" is a machine that adds, subtracts, multiplies and divides at super-speeds.

The "705" has three principal elements—1) control unit, 2) a two-ton central processing unit, and 3) input-output units. The input and output units are interchangeable. They consist of ten magnetic tape units equivalent in general to a slightly undersized telephone booth. The tape units are "on input" when they are feeding information via tape into the central processing unit. They are on "output" when they are recording the answers from the "705" onto tape.

The "705's" operations are characterized by speed. The machine can make 1,270 multiplications per second of 5 digit figures like 69,702 x 72,971.

If the contents of the 1,037 page novel "Gone With The Wind" were put on tape, the "705" could read the entire novel on tape in four minutes. This is at the rate of 900,000 characters a minute. The information recorded on tape can be written out by a printer that is fed by another tape unit. The printer can print 500 lines of 120 characters to each line in a minute. At this rate it could print "Gone With The Wind" in the matter of an hour. If you or I were to read "Gone With The Wind" at the fast rate of 60 pages an hour, it would take us over 17 hours to finish the book!

THE CENTRAL processing unit memory or storage contains thousands of magnetic cores which enable the processing unit to store instructions and later to put these instructions to use in producing answers. The instructions, like the problems, are fed into the unit on tape.

Only a small number of the 180 employees who moved into the Pure Oil building last week are assigned to the computer. The rest are attached to the company's northwest and midwest marketing divisions' accounting departments. Branson Barron will supervise the 2 accounting departments, while the computer operations will be directed by Pure's economic analysis and planning department with headquarters in Chicago.

Initially, the computer has been assigned to accounting and statistical work for the 2 accounting departments.

BUT COMPANY officials state that Pure has plans for the computer far beyond those of an accounting nature. They expect to use it in operations in producing, refining, transportation, marketing, and research work.

As an example, in refining plans are being made to use the computer to determine the most efficient use of the company's 4 refineries. This involves relationships between types of crude oil used, kinds of products processed, market prices for various types of products. Given the right information, the computer can be of invaluable assistance in exploring the possibilities as to the optimum ratios between the several hundred products now made at a typical Pure Oil refinery.

Pure's computer is the sixth "705" to be installed in Illinois.

PURE IS LEASING the 2-level brick building which was constructed by the Trude Land Development company of Arlington Heights. Walter Kroeber of Arlington Heights was the architect.

The oil company's plans call for moving most of its present Chicago office force to a new suburban office building that will be constructed on Golf road between Rohlwing and Meachem roads, south of Palatine.

The move, scheduled for 1959, will involve more than 1,000 employees. Pure's leasing of office quarters in Arlington Heights is an interim step in this program.

Wanted: An Eagle Scout, 14 to 17

The Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, is seeking an Eagle Scout between 14 and 17 years of age to be its "Report to the Nation" Explorer in 1958 Safety Good Turn the organization will launch during Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13, marking its 48th anniversary.

The Eagle Scout selected will represent the Northwest Suburban Council at local events launching the safety campaign. He will accompany other Explorers similarly chosen by other Boy Scout councils in the state to call on Governor Stratton at the state capital in Springfield on Saturday, February 15. Governor Stratton will launch the Safety Good Turn on a state basis and receive a Safety Good Turn Plaque.

FRED E. WELSH, president of the Northwest Suburban Council, with headquarters in Des Plaines, said today that contestants must have a good record in camping, advancement, and community service. Each will submit an application by November 22 to Council Commissioner Raymond Woodruff at Northwest Suburban Council, BSA, 575 Lee st., Des Plaines, Ill., with a 500 to 700 word thesis on "Saving the Basic Resources of Our Nation — Its People."

Region 7 of the Boy Scouts of America, comprising Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, will select a state representative from among the local council winners in each state. These Explorers will make the official reports to the governors.

ONE OF THE state winners will go to the White House early in February to take part in ceremonies launching the Safety Good Turn on a national level.

He will be accompanied by the Explorers representing the other 11 regions, and by Kenneth K. Bechtel of San Francisco, president of the Boy Scouts of America, and Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, of New Brunswick, N. J., chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, at the White House ceremonies and also at a breakfast in Washington, D. C., February 11, to be attended by over 100 leaders in safety work and representatives of all branches of the federal government.

The Explorer among the 12 regional "Report to the Nation" Explorers found to be the outstanding member of the group will be selected for still another honor. He will go to Chicago next May to report before the 48th annual meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America. (B8

Something new has been added in Arlington Heights.

It's a large scale electronic computer moved into the Pure Oil company's new offices at 311 S. State rd.

The company says it will probably take 2 weeks before the device is set up, tested, and ready to operate.

The computer, an International Business Machines model "705," occupies a specially air conditioned room that looks large enough to accommodate several bowling alleys.

PURE OIL officials regard the computer "as just another advanced office device with a tremendous capacity for work," and pointedly discount the fact that it is popularly known as an "electronic brain."

"The finest computer is useless without men to plan its best use and to interpret the data it produces," Pure officials state. "We have been preparing for the arrival of the "705" for 2 years, and we still have a great deal to do before we can hope to utilize its full capacity.

"Our hope is that by performing many routine and thankless jobs at high speed the machine will free many employees to do more interesting and worthwhile work. Also its correct use will allow us to tackle problems that previously were too long and complicated to attempt. It should give us better information with which to make operating decisions."

BASICALLY, the "705" is a machine that adds, subtracts, multiplies and divides at superspeeds.

The "705" has three principal elements—1) control unit, 2) a two-ton central processing unit, and 3) input-output units. The input and output units are interchangeable. They consist of ten magnetic tape units equivalent in general to a slightly undersized telephone booth. The tape units are "on input" when they are feeding information via tape into the central processing unit. They are on "output" when they are recording the answers from the "705" onto tape.

The "705's" operations are characterized by speed. The machine can make 1,270 multiplications per second of 5 digit figures like 69,702 x 72,971.

If the contents of the 1,037 page novel "Gone With The Wind" were put on tape, the "705" could read the entire novel on tape in four minutes. This is at the rate of 900,000 characters a minute. The information recorded on tape can be written out by a printer that is fed by another tape unit. The printer can print 500 lines of 120 characters to each line in a minute. At this rate it could print "Gone With The Wind" in the matter of an hour. If you or I were to read "Gone With The Wind" at the fast rate of 60 pages an hour, it would take us over 17 hours to finish the book!

THE CENTRAL processing unit memory or storage contains thousands of magnetic cores which enable the processing unit to store instructions and later to put these instructions to use in producing answers. The instructions, like the problems, are fed into the unit on tape.

Only a small number of the 180 employees who moved into the Pure Oil building last week are assigned to the computer. The rest are attached to the company's northwest and midwest marketing divisions' accounting departments. Branson Barron will supervise the 2 accounting departments, while the computer operations will be directed by Pure's economic analysis and planning department with headquarters in Chicago.

Initially, the computer has been assigned to accounting and statistical work for the 2 accounting departments.

BUT COMPANY officials state that Pure has plans for the computer far beyond those of an accounting nature. They expect to use it in operations in producing, refining, transportation, marketing, and research work.

As an example, in refining plans are being made to use the computer to determine the most efficient use of the company's 4 refineries. This involves relationships between types of crude oil used, kinds of products processed, market prices for various types of products. Given the right information, the computer can be of invaluable assistance in exploring the possibilities as to the optimum ratios between the several hundred products now made at a typical Pure Oil refinery.

Pure's computer is the sixth "705" to be installed in Illinois.

PURE IS LEASING the 2-level brick building which was constructed by the Trude Land Development company of Arlington Heights. Walter Kroeber of Arlington Heights was the architect.

The oil company's plans call for moving most of its present Chicago office force to a new suburban office building that will be constructed on Golf road between Rohlwing and Meachem roads, south of Palatine.

The move, scheduled for 1959, will involve more than 1,000 employees. Pure's leasing of office quarters in Arlington Heights is an interim step in this program.

Wanted: An Eagle Scout, 14 to 17

The Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, is seeking an Eagle Scout between 14 and 17 years of age to be its "Report to the Nation" Explorer in 1958 Safety Good Turn the organization will launch during Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13, marking its 48th anniversary.

The Eagle Scout selected will represent the Northwest Suburban Council at local events launching the safety campaign. He will accompany other Explorers similarly chosen by other Boy Scout councils in the state to call on Governor Stratton at the state capital in Springfield on Saturday, February 15. Governor Stratton will launch the Safety Good Turn on a state basis and receive a Safety Good Turn Plaque.

FRED E. WELSH, president of the Northwest Suburban Council, with headquarters in Des Plaines, said today that contestants must have a good record in camping, advancement, and community service. Each will submit an application by November 22 to Council Commissioner Raymond Woodruff at Northwest Suburban Council, BSA, 575 Lee st., Des Plaines, Ill., with a 500 to 700 word thesis on "Saving the Basic Resources of Our Nation — Its People."

Region 7 of the Boy Scouts of America, comprising Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, will select a state representative from among the local council winners in each state. These Explorers will make the official reports to the governors.

ONE OF THE state winners will go to the White House early in February to take part in ceremonies launching the Safety Good Turn on a national level.

He will be accompanied by the Explorers representing the other 11 regions, and by Kenneth K. Bechtel of San Francisco, president of the Boy Scouts of America, and Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, of New Brunswick, N. J., chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, at the White House ceremonies and also at a breakfast in Washington, D. C., February 11, to be attended by over 100 leaders in safety work and representatives of all branches of the federal government.

The Explorer among the 12 regional "Report to the Nation" Explorers found to be the outstanding member of the group will be selected for still another honor. He will go to Chicago next May to report before the 48th annual meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America. (B8

Newspapers Should Have Access to Police Blotters

Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz of New York State, in an informal opinion, has stated that newspapermen should have access to police blotter information unless such access would interfere with the apprehension and prosecution of persons accused of crime. The blotter records arrests and complaints.

The opinion was issued after the Schenectady (N.Y.) Union-Star had charged police in the town of Niskayuna, a suburb, were establishing a censorship by refusing to permit newsmen to see the blotter. The request for the opinion was made by H. R. Ekins, managing editor of the Union-Star.

JOHN T. McGOVERNOR, Niskayuna police chief, maintained that while the court blotter was a public record, the police blotter was not.

Lefkowitz noted that there is no statute compelling police to reveal information from the blotter. However, he said police should exercise "wise and reasonable discretion" in doing so.

HIS OPINION was given in a letter to Edward F. N. Uthe, executive secretary of the New York State Association of Towns. He wrote, in part:

"The value of public disclosure must be weighed against the harm which would ensue to the public and to the purposes for which the information is sought. Even though the records be 'public' in the strict sense it does not follow that they must be disclosed for idle curiosity or other improper reason. Of course the inspection of a police blotter by a newspaper reporter is not for 'idle curiosity or other improper reason.'

"IN VIEW OF the legislative intent . . . and the judicial decisions, it is my opinion that because of the very nature of the official duties of police officers, not every entry on a 'police blotter' is open to public inspection, including inspection by newspaper reporters, but that discretion is vested in the police authorities maintaining the blotter to withhold inspection thereof.

"I believe, of course, that this discretion should be wisely and reasonably exercised by police authorities to the end that representatives of the press may have all possible information available to the public which will not interfere with the detection, apprehension and prosecution of persons charged with crime. When an arrest has been made I believe that that fact and the complaint which has given rise to the arrest is information which should properly be available to newspapers."

Bank Robber Gets Prison Sentence

Fifteen years in federal prison were meted out Thursday to a Des Plaines man who robbed a Dundee bank at gunpoint September 30 and was captured by state police within 40 minutes.

James Garnick, 25, of 1441 Cora, Des Plaines, received the stiff sentence from U.S. District court Judge Philip L. Sullivan for his one-man holdup of the First National bank of Dundee. The $5,216 in cash he obtained was recovered shortly after his apprehension on a Barrington township farm.

GORNICK apparently won't be prosecuted for allegedly taking part in other holdups in Dundee, Elgin and Chicago. Assistant U.S. Attorney Frank McGarr told the court he had been advised that neither Cook nor Kane county authorities will prosecute the cases.

The Kane county robberies in which he was identified were September 12, at Bethke's clothing store, Dundee, when $202 was taken, and September 27, at Nelson's pharmacy, Elgin, when $1,330 in cash and checks were the loot.

SOME $12,000 in watches and jewelry stolen in a September 20 stickup of Ward Jewelers, 54 W. Madison, Chicago, was later found in Gornick's home.

No relative of Gornick was in court, although he has a wife and child. As in other appearances, he was wearing an unbuttoned blue shirt, with the tail outside his jeans.

Gornick served time in prison for 2 previous robbery convictions. (B8

Democrats Whirl, Fete Candidate

More than 800 persons attended a dance October 19 to boost the candidacy of James Stavros for Wheeling township Democratic committeeman.

The dance at the Union hotel in Wheeling was sponsored by the Wheeling Township Democratic club, a group of precinct captains and others supporting Stavros for the post now held by Jack Clark of Arlington Heights.

LOUIS FARINA, president of the Young Democrats of Cook county, spoke in praise of Stavros. Also in attendance were Vincent Garrity, radio and television personality, and Joseph Fanta, state representative from the 9th district.

Guests were awarded prizes donated by merchants in Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights, Wheeling and Mount Prospect. (ACM

Forest Preserve Speeds Barrington Acreage Plans

(CNS) — The Forest Preserve District of Cook county is moving ahead with plans to acquire 1,400 acres in Barrington township under a court approved settlement worked out with the Barrington Countryside association.

"We should be closing deals any day now for 2 more large tracks to add to the more than 400 acres we've already acquired in the Spring Creek valley," said Charles G. Sauers, general district superintendent, Monday.

CIRCUIT JUDGE Harry M. Fisher last week entered an agreed order limiting the district to 1,400 acres in the area south of Lake-Cook road and west of Bateman road.

The east boundary for much of its distance is a line 500 feet east and parallel to Sutton road. Algonquin road is the southern boundary.

Under the compromise worked out by Sauers and Newton Noble, president of the countryside association, the district abandoned plans for land south of Algonquin road.

THE COURT'S order, in fact, limits the district to the area agreed on. However, it said the district has no right to the land left out.

The district also agreed to set aside its new preserve for flora and fauna preservation, not a mass recreation area. Two small sections fronting on Bateman road will not be acquired under the court order.

The county's original program in 1955 called for the acquisition of 3,914 acres, which included land in the Spring Creek valley as far south as Higgins road.

OPPOSITION developed and this was cut to 2,400 acres, which included tracts south to Dundee road.

In 1956, Andrew H. Dick, 2301 Birchwood ave., Wilmette, a mortgage broker, filed suit, challenging the purchase of any of the land.

The matter remained deadlocked until now, although the forest preserve district acquired more than 400 acres through piecemeal negotiations with the owners involved. (B8

Superior Judge Tackles Perplexity of Wrong Lots

(CNS) — Superior Judge John A. Sbarbaro has been assigned the perplexing problem of what to do about 2 homes a builder constructed on the wrong lots near Arlington Heights.

The lots with the 2 5-room brick bungalows costing $19,000 each belong to Roy and Martha Carlson, 5330 N. Melvina ave., Chicago. They own the south ½ of lot 27, which is the fourth parcel north of Olive st., one block west of Wilke road in the Arlington Crest estates, an unincorporated area in Palatine township.

THE BUILDER is Frank Troiani, Niles, who owns the south ½ of Lot 28 in the subdivision. This tract, adjoining the Carlson's, is vacant.

Troiani has been running a losing race ever since September when he came upon the mistake and finally filed suit for help.

THE CARLSONS INSIST, the suit said, that he remove the homes and leave the lots as he found them. They've refused his offer to trade lots, he said. And they won't sell, he said.

Both sides were to be in Sbarbaro's chambers Wednesday in hopes of reaching an equitable settlement. (A

Quite often we at LANDWEHR'S TV notice that people have their television sets standing near windows where the sun shines on the screen during a part of the day. This is bad because it does not take long for the fluorescent material inside the picture tube to be destroyed causing your picture to dim and yellow.

Bank Robber Gets Prison Sentence

Fifteen years in federal prison were meted out Thursday to a Des Plaines man who robbed a Dundee bank at gunpoint September 30 and was captured by state police within 40 minutes.

James Garnick, 25, of 1441 Cora, Des Plaines, received the stiff sentence from U.S. District court Judge Philip L. Sullivan for his one-man holdup of the First National bank of Dundee. The $5,216 in cash he obtained was recovered shortly after his apprehension on a Barrington township farm.

County Official Shrugs Aside Pit 'Eyesore' Fears

(CNS)—A county official scoffs at fears that borrow pits being carved out of the countryside will end up as abandoned eyesores rather than appealing residential-lake developments.

He is Andrew Plummer, assistant to Cook county highway superintendent William Mortimer. The 2 officials drafted the regulations which contractors must meet to obtain 60 iron pit permits. Since May, more than 2 dozen permits have been issued to contractors who furnished proof that underground springs would transform the pits into lakes and who agreed to develop the areas for residences. Contractors want the earth and rock for fill in toll residences. Contractors want the road and other highway work.

For a long time the county had withheld issuance of the permits because of fears of protestors that the borrow pits would end up as garbage dumps or other eyesores.

Fears have persisted. But Plummer says, "I'm sure all the lakes will be used and developed. I'll bet my last bottom dollar on it."

WORRY ON PART of some landowners that the pits will be abandoned with no taxes paid all because the system is a "cheap way" to get the fill and "more than get their money out of the land" was labeled "needless" by Plummer.

The property is too expensive for a contractor to walk out on it," said Plummer. "I'm sure they'll have to develop the sites. If they don't, I know of plenty of people happy to take the land off their hands. Residential lake sites are too valuable."

Does the county have any legal guarantee the sites will be developed? How much of a bond must contractors put up?

The answers, respectively are no and nothing because the answer to another question is in the negative. That is, does the county have a legal right to require either?

PLUMMER WOULD have preferred to evade mention of this.

"But, the truth of the matter is," he said, "there's nothing in the county zoning ordinance that deals with lakes. They could have dug the pits anyway because this is a permitted use in a farming zone."

The county could have sat on such applications but in the end it would have meant a court test.

"And no court would uphold such tactics," Plummer said.

"This way we at least have control over the situation," he added. (B12

School Bus Big Business in Area

Cook County Superintendent of Schools Noble J. Puffer reports that 55,700 pupils were transported in Chicago and suburban Cook county last year.

A total of 520 vehicles were used to transport these children. More than $2,076,000 was spent on transportation of which $1,436,987 was spent in suburbs — $737,720.09 in transporting suburban elementary pupils and $699,267.83 in transporting suburban high school pupils.

THE STATE reimburssed the suburban schools the sum of $588,398.40 as its share of the cost of transporting children who lived at least a mile and a half from school.

"Many suburban school districts," said Puffer, "find it necessary to transport children to school who reside less than a mile and a half from school because some of our suburban communities have no sidewalks, and the children are forced to walk in the streets and along heavily traveled highways, creating a serious safety problem, particularly for small children." Northwest Suburban Council PTA to Meet in Des Plaines

There was a time, not too long ago, when PTA was a misleading name. Most of the active members were mothers. However, in the Northwest Suburban Council of Parent Teacher associations, 8 of the 23 unit presidents are men — "P" means "Parents," not just mothers.

The first council meeting of the 1957-58 year is scheduled for November 7 at 8 p.m. at Algonquin school, Algonquin and Wolf rds., Des Plaines.

Mrs. Martin Seifert, state scholarship chairman, will discuss the Golden Jubilee Scholarship fund. Mrs. Russell Miller, exceptional child assistant, district 21, will explain the various problems common to that group and Mrs. R. B. Yadon, legislation assistant, district 21, will inform those present of the procedures by which the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers carries out its legislation platform.

It is the hope of the council board that each PTA unit will be represented by its scholarship, exceptional child and legislation chairmen, as well as the regular delegates. (AMPK

THURSDAY, NOV. 7, 1957

THOMAS M. BLAKE, president of Littlefuse, Inc., and chairman of the Northwest Suburban YMCA Board of Directors watches as Mayor Edward G. Carlisle signs proclamation that November 12 be declared "Y-Day." Standing left to right are Herbert H. Behrel, mayor of Des Plaines; Charles Hodlmair, president of Elk Grove Village; and Theodore Lams, village president of Mount Prospect.

Northwest Suburban Council PTA to Meet in Des Plaines

There was a time, not too long ago, when PTA was a misleading name. Most of the active members were mothers. However, in the Northwest Suburban Council of Parent Teacher associations, 8 of the 23 unit presidents are men — "P" means "Parents," not just mothers.

The first council meeting of the 1957-58 year is scheduled for November 7 at 8 p.m. at Algonquin school, Algonquin and Wolf rds., Des Plaines.

Mrs. Martin Seifert, state scholarship chairman, will discuss the Golden Jubilee Scholarship fund. Mrs. Russell Miller, exceptional child assistant, district 21, will explain the various problems common to that group and Mrs. R. B. Yadon, legislation assistant, district 21, will inform those present of the procedures by which the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers carries out its legislation platform.

It is the hope of the council board that each PTA unit will be represented by its scholarship, exceptional child and legislation chairmen, as well as the regular delegates. (AMPK

Delegates to Attend Girl Scout Confab

Mrs. Crawford Mrs. Mathews

Mrs. John Crawford and Mrs. T. E. Mathews of Arlington Heights will be among the 15 delegates from northwest Cook county Girl Scout council who will travel to the national Girl Scout convention in Philadelphia November 11 to 15.

"Can You Count on Her?" will be the theme of the national conclave, where northwest suburban delegates will learn new developments in local and nationwide Girl Scouting. Other northwest delegates will travel from Park Ridge, Skokie and Des Plaines. (AMPhW

PTA Luncheon

District 21 ICPT will hold a magazine-scholarship luncheon November 13 at Redeemer Lutheran church, Highland Park. Purpose of the meeting is to inform magazine and scholarship chairmen of local PTA's and councils about subjects which are a vital part of PTA work. (H

Everywhere There's Song, Dance in Lively Mexico

by KAREN LACINA

Mexico is the land of music for even as you walk down what seems to be a very deserted street you will hear the strains of a guitar drifting over the walls along the street or a happy chorus of voices lilting down from an open window.

The Mexican music expresses the clash between Indian and Spaniard and in mood it varies from very sad to very happy to a mystic type of music.

IN THE EARLY DAYS of Tenochtitlan (Tay-nosh'-teet-lahn'), what is now Mexico City, the Aztecs played on drums made from tree trunks called the huehuetl (whay-whay-til) and the teponaxtli (tay-po-nash-tilee'), gords, turtle shells, and flutes.

With these early Indians the song, dance, and instrumental music was never separaged one part from another; it formed a whole and always served their religion. Their dance was a very expressive type of imitry which usually portrayed some hero or important event.

Although the Mexicans of today do not beat on huehuetls or teponaxtlis, nor do not play turtle shells they still have a unity in the musical element of their lives.

It is seldom that you will find a song that cannot be danced to, or a dance that cannot be sung to, and they always seem to find the fitting words and dance steps to any instrumental number. Modern dance, the contemporary descendent of mimetric dance, is now struggling to hold its own in Mexico.

THE SIXTEENTH century saw much interchange with Europe in the field of music and dance.

The religious music of the continent along with the French chaconne and pavane were brought to Mexico while Lope de Vega introduced several dances from Mexico as "American dances" in Europe.

These dances became quite popular, were performed in the royal courts, and eventually developed into the so-termed "original European sonata." In the music of this period there existed quite a visible clash between the "hispanismo" and the "indignismo," or the Spaniard and the Indian.

THE TYPICAL music of Mexico, or what we might call the basic types, were influenced greatly by European factors. The Mariachi music of Mexico is one of the best examples and also one of the best-loved types.

In 1862, when Maximillian came to rule Mexico, he brought with him small, wandering groups of musicians who usually followed a wedding procession to and from the church playing extremely happy and alive music.

The group consisted of 5 to 10 men who played mostly stringed instruments — many violins and ancestors of the guitar — plus one or two trumpets. The word "Mariachi" was derived from the French "mariage" pertaining to the minstrels following the bride and groom. Other Spanish and Indian elements influenced the Mariachis and changed the character somewhat to what is now strictly Mexican.

The groups began to wear the wide, jingling sombreros and fancy, decorated costumes of the "Charros" or the gentlemen experts with the horse and rope who owned the huge ranches.

Even though some Mexicans believe the Mariachi music has been vulgarized by the yells and screams which always accompany the selections today, there are few who will not admit that the Mariachi is dear to his heart and an important part of his culture.

The music itself is wild, and a happy type of music just as the wandering minstrels played for Maximillian but even the basic elements have a distinct Mexican flavor now.

THE CORRIDO, ROMANCE, chanson de geste, or ballad, (call it what you like) is another of the typical elements of Mexican music although today it exists in only a decadent stage.

It always tells a story — humorous, tragic, heroic, or of an important event.

The day after the earthquake, July 29, I was walking through a market and a little fellow came running up to me and asked "Don't you want to buy the corrido of the earthquake, lady?"

I was quite surprised because I had heard that not many corridos were written about important events anymore. I had been told that today the corrido exists as a cultural form only and a part of the past because it had been a way of communicating the important things of every day life to the people when not too many people were educated enough to read.

WE FOUND the regional dances of Mexico to be quite entertaining for they are usually done in full costume by people who live in the area from which the dance comes. The jarana is a very sweet and lilting courting dance from the Yucatan Peninsula, in which the verses are said at intervals when the dancers stop or break.

The huapango, which is much livelier than the jarana, is very poetic and humorous both in the words and the actions. There is some dispute as to the origin of the word "Huapango"; some say it was derived from the Huasteca Indians who originated the dance and lived on the Pango river, and the other faction claims the reason was a platform which the Huastecas used for this dance which was called a pango.

The region of this dance is the east coast of Mexico around Veracruz. The jarabe, which comes from the state of Jalisco to the northwest and borders on the Gulf of California, is the national dance of Mexico. Its full name is jarabe tapatio and the dancers wear the ornated charro costumes and the beautiful, somewhat oriental costumes of the "china Poblana," or the pretty Chinese girl who came to live in Mexico in the town of Puebla and influenced some modes of dress. The jarabe is quite easily distinguished from the constant use of the harp.

The fourth type of regional dance with which we became acquainted its the zandunga from the state of Oaxaca which is southwest of Mexico City. This dance is done in a waltz tempo.

THESE REGIONAL dances are a combination of the early Indian dances and the Spanish dances of the conquerors. Mexican dances use mainly intricate foot movements whereas the Spanish dances are full of flinging arm movements and tosses of the head as well as foot movements.

The early Indian religious dance and the original Spanish dance have been added to, subtracted from, integrated and now form the Mexican dance. There are several places in Mexico City to see these dances but they are at their best in each respective region.

The nineteenth century reflected a new-found nationalsim and has developed to the point during the present day where people are supporting new forms of music in Mexico such as operas and concerts to increase their national pride. More people are gaining belief in music for careers. More musicians, composers, and outright supporters are emerging from the Mexican culture today than ever before.

Talented individuals are rising to the need of their culture and helping sustain and develop their heritage of music. (B8

Area Workers Help Push Hospital Fund Toward Goal

Field work in the Northwest Community Hospital extension canvass gets under way in several communities this week, to help lift the hospital funds to its goal of $2,250,000.

A series of zone meetings, preparing workers for their extension canvass calls, is being concluded in Rolling Meadows this week.

A MEETING AT 8 o'clock tonight in the Oak Street school in Palatine will mark the kick-off meeting for leaders of the Palatine campaign. Walter R. Sundling, chairman of the extension canvass in Palatine, has issued invitations to captains and workers in last fall's successful drive to sign up for the 1958 effort which will be directed primarily at newcomers to the area who have not yet had a chance to contribute to the Northwest Community Hospital fund.

Sundling will act as chairman of the workers' meeting which will also be attended by campaign aides from Inverness, Arlington Crest, and Hoffman Estates.

THE INVERNESS group is headed by Leonard Ziehm, who also directed the funds drive in that community last year. The Arlington Crest workers are headed by Wayne Goodpasture, and the Hoffman Estates solicitors will be directed by Fred Will.

Participating in the meeting in Palatine tonight will be N. M. Lattof, chairman of the hospital board of trustees, and Harold M. Dotts, chairman of the canvass throughout the entire northwest residential area. Sundling will remind the Palatine workers that residents in their drive last year pledged over $100,000 to the campaign, averaging over $70 for each pledge, and he will urge this year's solicitation army to work to surpass last year's accomplishment.

AMONG THE LEADERS who have already signed up to assist in the Palatine solicitation are Gray Sanborn, who is serving as co-chairman, Robert Lampert, Robert Moss, David Knight, Jean Baumgart, Wilfred Muller, George Larson, George Unger, Arthur Gabrielson, Harris Helgeson, Hal Leimann, and Charles Zanzic.

In Rolling Meadows, Richard Windsor has Joseph Stecker as his co-chairman, with the following already signed up for leadership work in the Rolling Meadows drive: Richard Blane, Godfrey Johnson, Larry Lopina, Frank Smith, Arthur Nyblin, Jack Grady, Ed Goldacker, James Radcliffe Jr., Robert Green, Fred Pingatore, Robert Klancic, Grant Vevang, Leonard Berberick, Victor McCrum, Lawrence Iverson, Gordon Vevang.

AFTER A SEPARATION OF 37 YEARS, Leo Zabbia, 1036 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, and his 78-year-old mother, Mrs. Frances Pauline Nigliacceo, were reunited in Corelone, Italy, last summer. Mr. and Mrs. Zabbia, residents of Arlington Heights for 21 years, left for Europe in August, returning October 2. Zabbia also enjoyed visits with a sister in Corelone and other relatives in Italy.

Area Workers Help Push Hospital Fund Toward Goal

Field work in the Northwest Community Hospital extension canvass gets under way in several communities this week, to help lift the hospital funds to its goal of $2,250,000.

A series of zone meetings, preparing workers for their extension canvass calls, is being concluded in Rolling Meadows this week.

A MEETING AT 8 o'clock tonight in the Oak Street school in Palatine will mark the kick-off meeting for leaders of the Palatine campaign. Walter R. Sundling, chairman of the extension canvass in Palatine, has issued invitations to captains and workers in last fall's successful drive to sign up for the 1958 effort which will be directed primarily at newcomers to the area who have not yet had a chance to contribute to the Northwest Community Hospital fund.

Sundling will act as chairman of the workers' meeting which will also be attended by campaign aides from Inverness, Arlington Crest, and Hoffman Estates.

THE INVERNESS group is headed by Leonard Ziehm, who also directed the funds drive in that community last year. The Arlington Crest workers are headed by Wayne Goodpasture, and the Hoffman Estates solicitors will be directed by Fred Will.

Participating in the meeting in Palatine tonight will be N. M. Lattof, chairman of the hospital board of trustees, and Harold M. Dotts, chairman of the canvass throughout the entire northwest residential area. Sundling will remind the Palatine workers that residents in their drive last year pledged over $100,000 to the campaign, averaging over $70 for each pledge, and he will urge this year's solicitation army to work to surpass last year's accomplishment.

AMONG THE LEADERS who have already signed up to assist in the Palatine solicitation are Gray Sanborn, who is serving as co-chairman, Robert Lampert, Robert Moss, David Knight, Jean Baumgart, Wilfred Muller, George Larson, George Unger, Arthur Gabrielson, Harris Helgeson, Hal Leimann, and Charles Zanzic.

In Rolling Meadows, Richard Windsor has Joseph Stecker as his co-chairman, with the following already signed up for leadership work in the Rolling Meadows drive: Richard Blane, Godfrey Johnson, Larry Lopina, Frank Smith, Arthur Nyblin, Jack Grady, Ed Goldacker, James Radcliffe Jr., Robert Green, Fred Pingatore, Robert Klancic, Grant Vevang, Leonard Berberick, Victor McCrum, Lawrence Iverson, Gordon Vevang.

Dramatists Spark Ancestral Farce

SERVING AS THE CHORUS for Arlington high school's "Yellow Jacket" was Randy Bolsinger, whose Chinese charm changed the scenes and won him the praise of a Paddock critic.

Ancestral spirits, sword play and singsong dialogue were charmingly woven into laugh-provoking entertainment by Arlington high school's Drama club last weekend.

Sell-out audiences on both Friday and Saturday nights testified to the universal appeal of "Yellow Jacket," a tale of royal murder and intrigue written in the Chinese classic style. A typical melodrama, the play offered humor, love and action, all in generous doses.

DIRECTOR DOUGLAS K. Murphy's teen-age actors took to the conventions and stilted manner of speaking of Chinese drama like Apaches to a horse opera. Murphy had worried before curtain time that the crowd might not go for the slapstick and slightly corny symbolism.

Fortunately, the major part of the audience was extremely youthful and the lack of subtlety didn't bother them a bit. They roared when characters of high station stomped across the stage or dismounted from a feather duster representing a horse.

OUTSTANDING IN the cast of 30 were Randy Bolsinger, Frank Embrey, John Nimmer, Rosemary Barry, Donn Smith and Jean Sullivan.

Bolsinger was master of the Oriental grimace and very eloquent as the chorus interlocutor. Embrey as the supposedly "intensely invisible" property man managed to steal several scenes while perched on his property box at the side of the stage.

Nimmer as "a man of daffodil nature" and usurper of the imperial throne was delightfully mincing.

MISS BARRY as a scheming flirt and Miss Sullivan as a scowling mother-in-law appeared briefly but handled their chores well. Smith was emphatic as a "dealer in hearts."

Young hero Tip Yeager acted with zest but could have slowed and lowered his voice oftener to accommodate the play's tortured grammar and fancy talk.

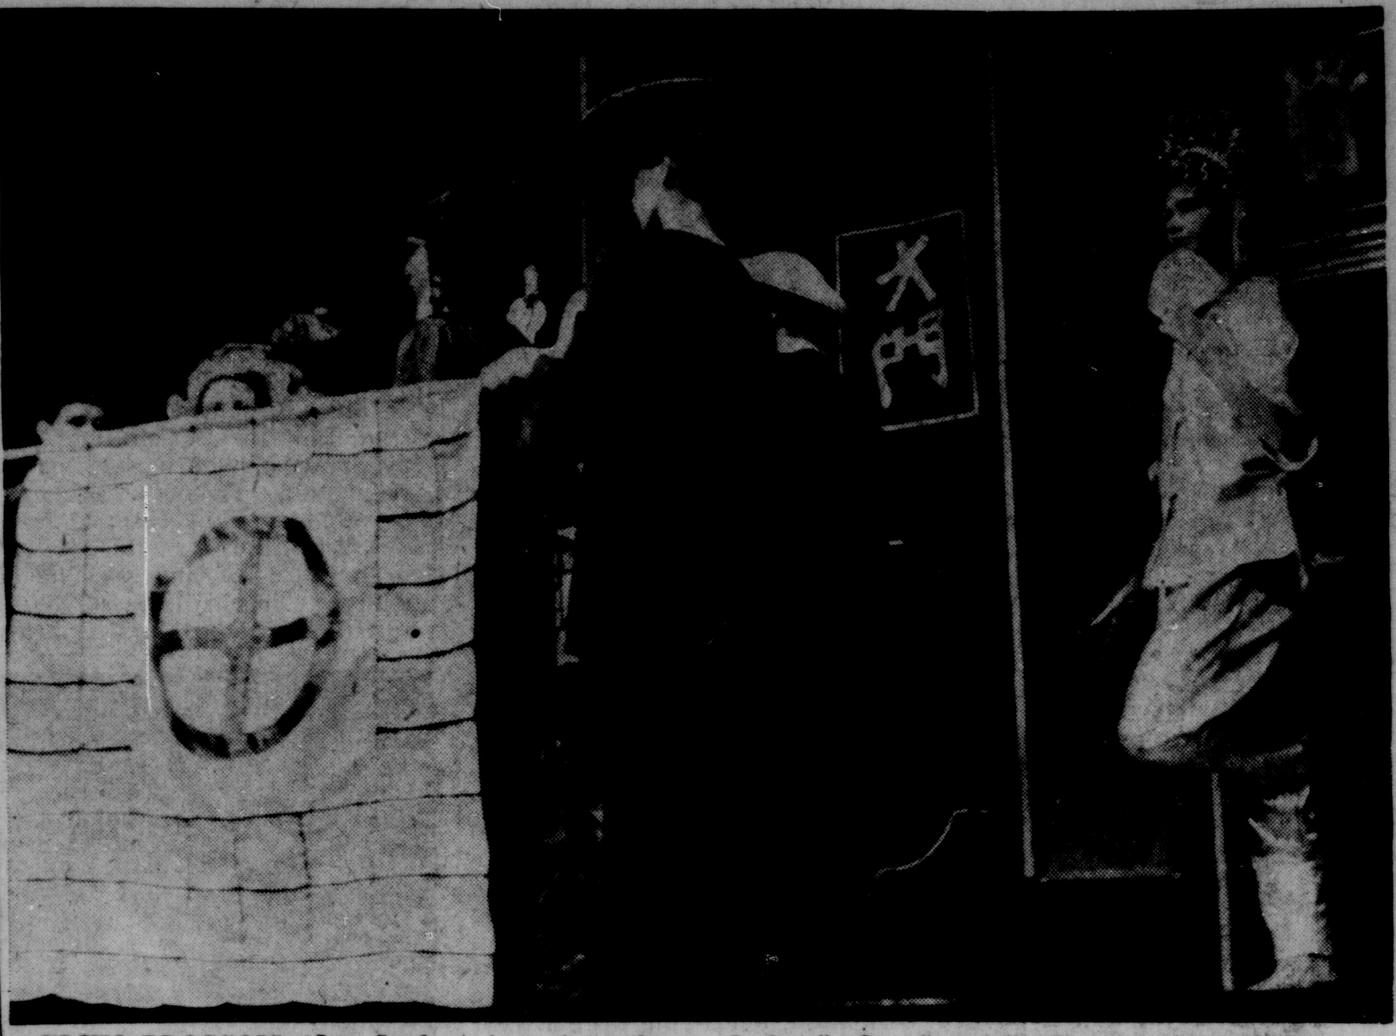
Many others, too many to single out in fact, performed competently. Among them were Tom Behm, Judy Glaser, Dennis Gaul, Penny Pearne, Barry Walsh, Linda Barnard, Neil Robertson, Stephen Colvin, Phil Lambdin, Jan Jorden, Ann Warren and Betsy Creviston.

CREDIT IS ALSO due to teacher Lyovanne Trad for her gorgeous set and Tom Hermann for its construction.

Since it was written in 1912, the play has been seen in more than 20 countries. Briefly the struggles of an orphaned boy to regain his rightful identity and his right to wear the "yellow jacket" of the emperor.

AS BABY, WU HOO GIT is deprived of both in the first act by palace treachery which results in the death of his mother and the seating of a rival on the throne.

Obstacles natural and supernatural, i.e. women and gods, are tossed into Wu Hoo Git's path by the rival and the hero grows into a wiser man by conquering them. With the help of his own ghostly forebears, We Hoo Git eventually wins the throne and lovely Plum Blossom.



PLUM BLOSSOM (Jan Jordan) hops into the court of powerful Wu Sin Yin (Tom Behm) in Arlington high school's presentation of "Yellow Jacket." Overflow crowds attended the Friday and Saturday night showings.

Suburban Teens To Attend Fete

Metropolitan Chicago YMCA will hold a Festival of Youth in the International Amphitheatre November 16. Ten thousand high school youth are expected to attend this "Kick-off" to the 100 years of the YMCA in the Chicago area.

Northwest Suburban YMCA expects to transport 500 students by chartered Centennial bus. They will leave the Arlington high school parking lot at 6 p.m. and stop at Mt. Prospect village hall at 6:10 p.m. before going to Des Plaines.

SOME OF THE program highlights at the festival will include a marching band, city-wide cheerleading finals and the Irving Park YMCA chorus. Ray Rayner, Wally Phillips and Ronnie Born will act as master of ceremonies throughout the evening to introduce movie, radio and TV stars such as Jayne Morgan, The Stepp Brothers, Nick Noble, The Oscar Peterson Trio, The Highlights, Joy Layne, Bob Williams and others.

This festival is not only meant as an evening of very fine entertainment, but has been based around a youth opinion poll of major teen age problems. Approximately 35,000 students in the Chicago area have taken this poll, 1,500 of which have been in the northwest suburban area. Nearly 800 of these are being administered at Arlington and Prospect high school. The city-wide results of this poll will be released at the festival program on the 16th.

Tickets for the festival are being sold in high schools.

A message from George Harris, "Your Pharmacist"

NOVEMBER IS TRADITIONALLY THE MONTH when all of us count our blessings and give thanks for them.

DO YOU REMEMBER how seriously sick patients would be? Day after day, sometimes for months, the doctor would have to call and, finally, the fortunate ones who survived would have to spend much sickness time recuperating. Medical, hospital and drug bills would cost hundreds of dollars.

NOW, MORE LIVES ARE BEING SAVED. A few visits from a physician and, within days instead of months, the patient is usually as good as new again.

REMEMBER THOSE KIDNEY INFECTIONS that used to make permanent invalids out of so many people? Your physician now prescribes one of the new sulpha combinations that cost just a few dollars, and sometimes overnight a cure is accomplished.

WE ARE THANKFUL that we now have many important new medicines that can be depended upon to help you more than ever before. We are grateful that our profession of pharmacy permits us to work for your better health.

This Week with PTA

Something New Has Been Added

Snowsuits are the "something new" added to the boot and skate exchange. Boots, rubbers, ice skates, roller skates and snowsuits in sizes 0 through 6X will be exchanged and sold.

The big day is Saturday, Nov. 16 from 10 a.m. until noon, at both South and Miner Junior high schools. If anyone has an item to sell, it should be at his child's school (all schools) Thursday or Friday, November 14 and 15, between 9 and 9:30 a.m. and 1 and 1:30 p.m.

Articles should be marked with size, price, seller's name, address and telephone number. If there is more than one piece to the item the pieces must be firmly held together.

This project benefits the PTA in that 20 per cent of the proceeds is retained. It also benefits parents by providing them with an opportunity to outfit the next generation at a real saving.

The committee for the exchange is: Mrs. Ernest Tessmer and Mrs. Gerald Beckman, general chairmen; Mrs. Oscar Miller, Mrs. Gerald Chapman, Mrs. Web Hartman, Mrs. Robert Becker, Mrs. Arthur Schulze, Mrs. William Diviney, Mrs. E. W. Johnson, Mrs. Clark Gutru and Mrs. H. Curtis.

'Desk Set' Financial Success

Approximately $975 was netted by the PTA-sponsored play "Desk Set." The association is grateful to the Village Theatre for making possible this substantial contribution to the treasury.

Where Does That Money Go?

To acquaint new members with the manner in which PTA money is raised and spent, the following summary is presented.

Income is obtained from membership dues and profit from ways and means project.

It costs 50 cents to join the PTA. Out of this, 5 cents goes to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, 15 cents to the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers and 30 cents remains in the local unit.

Ways and means projects for 1957-58 are round robin bridge, Village Theatre play, boot, skate and snowsuit exchange, card party, talent show and book fair.

Proposed expenditures are: (1) organization expenses: national, state and council dues; membership and attendance prizes; annual teachers' breakfast; summer round-up, etc. (2) Program expenses: speakers for preschool, exceptional child and 7 school meetings; calendar-yearbook; Speakers for 2 general meetings (3) Publicity: the Foreward, monthly bulletin sent to each home. (4) Contributions to youth activities: scholarship fund, public health, reflective tape for bicycle safety program, patrol boys' and auxiliary girls' outings, 6 Cub Scout troops, 1 Boy Scout troop, 7 Girl Scout troops and 6 Bluebird troops.

Surplus: In past years surplus money has been used for equipment for school kitchens, playground supplies, film library, etc.

District 21 Report

"Parents, Teachers, and Administrators: A Three-Dimensional Relationship" was the subject of the 36th annual conference of district 21 of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers last Tuesday at Northbrook.

Board members who attended were Mrs. Robert Schultheis, president; Mrs. Lester Ploetz, first vice president; Mrs. Wesley Kasl, ways and means chairman and Mrs. Stewart Richmond, Park school chairman.

The theme was effectively presented by a series of short talks on the subjects parent education and study courses, ways and means, school education and school finance, legislation and exceptional child.

Superintendent R. E. Clabaugh, who is school education chairman on the state board of ICPT, discussed "Powers and Function of School Boards" at this meeting.

Northwest Council Meets Tonight

The annual book fair will also begin at the November 14 meeting and will continue on the following 3 alternate Sundays, Nov. 17, and Dec. 1 and 15. Camp Fire Girls Tour Natural History Museum

Two hundred Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, leaders and sponsors from the Arlington Heights district of Camp Fire Girls attended the Indian lore tour and movies at the Chicago Natural History Museum Saturday, Nov. 2. Four chartered buses were employed for this district project.

An Indian program, consisting of 3 movies, were shown: "Pioneer Boy in the Midwest," "The Oregon Trail," and "Indian Family of Long Ago." After the films, groups explored Indian country in the east wing of the main floor of the museum. Each group, upon completion of the "Expedition to Indian Country" booklet and a follow-up Indian project, will receive a museum certificate.

Individually, a girl may become a museum traveler after successfully completing 4 museum journeys, a museum adventure after 8 such journeys and a museum explorer upon completion of 12 journeys. A special award from the museum director accompanies the explorer rank. (A

Carolyn Burkett CLearbrook 3-6217

Round 'n About Westgate

Young co-hostesses at a Halloween costume party for school mates were Judy McIntosh and Carol Graczyk, daughter of Bert and Andy Graczyk, 1417 Fremont, whose home was filled with music and girlish laughter from 3:30 to 8 p.m.

A spooky atmosphere was achieved in the basement of the Madden home at 1501 Euclid, where Lois and Jack provided fun-filled games including a fish pond and apple bobbing for their youngsters Michael, Barbara and Steve, as well as Sheryl and Mike Smith, Bruce, Sherry and Scott McMurry, Renee, Sissy, Kathy and Billy Johnston and Kirk Verbeck.

A Halloween motif was used at a party for tiny hob-goblins when Candy Lynn Burkett, 1405 Euclid, celebrated her second birthday with Susie Scott, Judy Fitzpatrick, Brian Smith, Eddie Hauth and Jimmy Johnson. Her brothers, Darryl and Blake were on hand as "mother's helpers."

Entertaining at a cocktail and dinner party over the weekend were Elaine and Bob Maley, 305 Reuter. Guests included Jackie and George Rudolphy, Louise and charlie Kuharich and Eleanor and Bud DeZonna.

Saturday night guests at the home of Jeanne and Ed Huster, 1411 Fremont, were Pat and Jim Kane of Chicago and Juanita and Pete Klauss of Skokie, the latter couple staying over for Sunday.

A night of bridge playing was enjoyed by friends of Fran and Bill Johnston, 1505 Euclid. Guests were the Howard Kehls of Skokie, the John Pridmores of Northbrook and the Larry Mulvaneys of Chicago.

Marycarol Verbeck of Naperville spent the Halloween weeken with her aunt and family, Arlene and Marv Verbeck, 1511 Euclid, and went trick and treating with cousin Kirk.

A weekend guest who combined business with pleasure is Dick Kehoe of Roseville, Mich., who spent several days with Louise and Ken Smith, 1515 Euclid. He and Ken traveled to Madison, Wis., and rooted to victory their alma mater, Michigan State university, as they defeated the University of Wisconsin.

A friend of long standing stopped over for an evening of reminiscing with Carolyn and Dick Burkett, 1405 Euclid. He is Russell Oetting of North Highlands, Cal., and is topical in that he is currently working on the new missile Vanguard.

Accident

Jack Heinz, teenage son of Jerry and Jack Heinz, 1611 Euclid, managed to survive numerous football games without injury, but a front yard tussle with friends proved somewhat tougher and Jack emerged with a broken left arm, especially rough on a "southpaw." Wishes for a speedy recovery are sent his way.

New Arrival

A third girl has come to live with Gloria and Reynold Nelson, 216 Reuter. She arrived October 25 in Swedish Covenant hospital, weighed 8 pounds 11 ounces and is called Sandra Gae. Her sisters are Jamie Sue, 5, and Teri Lynn, 2½. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Perry, Palatine.

Travelers....

"To each his own" could be the vacation theme for Joan and Fred Miller, 505 Yale. Joan flew to East Alton to spend 12 pleasant days with her folks, the Elmer Wrights, and sister, Patty, and visiting numerous relations. Fred headed northwest to South Dakota for some fancy pheasant hunting. A good shot, he got the limit and the Miller freezer is well stocked with game.

Four loyal Notre Dame fans motored to South Bend for the classic Notre Dame-Navy game but returned saddened by the 20-6 defeat. They are Jane and Ed Quigley and Kay and Bob Alm.

Attention Dancers

Residents are reminded of the Westgate Wobble to be held November 23 at Fred's Place on Rand rd., from 8 pm.. The girls will wear skirts and sweaters and proper attire for the fellows will be slacks and sport shirts. Westgate 2 and Arlingdalers are welcome. Profits will be used for the children's Christmas party.

A teen Halloween party was given by Jeanne and Richard Anderson, 1215 W. Sigwalt st., Friday. It was a gay party with games, dancing and refreshments for those attending. Guests were Sharon Ackerlund, Arleen Matheson, Sandra Brusko, Lois Brown, Susan Carle, Mary Ann Walsh, Nancy Ann Nelson of Prospect Heights, Jackie Cwick of Chicago, and the boys, Fred and Dan Bedford, Fred and Don Kolstad, Carl Brandon, Larry Smith, Skipper Fleiszure, Les Kessel and David and Charles Weinrich.

WHEREAS, the YMCA with 100 years of service in the Chicagoland area and operating through the Northwest Suburban YMCA has brought a constructive, wholesome, character building family program to our growing communities during the past 4 years that has received a tremendous response and has developed to a point where facilities are desperately needed to serve participants of this program, and

WHEREAS, $300,000 has been made available for a YMCA building providing $350,000 can be raised in the Northwest Communities before December 31, 1957, which fact has prompted 11 service clubs (including 3 Lions, 2 Kiwanis, 3 Jaycees, 1 Optimist, 1 Rotary and 1 Chamber of Commerce) and 35 businesses and industries to provide manpower to aid in raising funds among buiness and industrial leaders in a one day effort,

NOW THEREFORE, I, Herbert H. Behrel, Mayor of Des Plaines; Theodore Lams, Village President of Mt. Prospect; Edward G. Carlisle, Mayor of Arlington Heights and Charles Hodlmair, Mayor of Elk Grove Village proclaim Tuesday, November 12 shall be designated as "Y Day" and that all business and industries are requested to receive with a friendly cordial spirit and generous response the worker who will call to raise funds for this new $878,000 YMCA building.

Round 'n About Westgate

Young co-hostesses at a Halloween costume party for school mates were Judy McIntosh and Carol Graczyk, daughter of Bert and Andy Graczyk, 1417 Fremont, whose home was filled with music and girlish laughter from 3:30 to 8 p.m.

A spooky atmosphere was achieved in the basement of the Madden home at 1501 Euclid, where Lois and Jack provided fun-filled games including a fish pond and apple bobbing for their youngsters Michael, Barbara and Steve, as well as Sheryl and Mike Smith, Bruce, Sherry and Scott McMurry, Renee, Sissy, Kathy and Billy Johnston and Kirk Verbeck.

A Halloween motif was used at a party for tiny hob-goblins when Candy Lynn Burkett, 1405 Euclid, celebrated her second birthday with Susie Scott, Judy Fitzpatrick, Brian Smith, Eddie Hauth and Jimmy Johnson. Her brothers, Darryl and Blake were on hand as "mother's helpers."

Entertaining at a cocktail and dinner party over the weekend were Elaine and Bob Maley, 305 Reuter. Guests included Jackie and George Rudolphy, Louise and charlie Kuharich and Eleanor and Bud DeZonna.

Saturday night guests at the home of Jeanne and Ed Huster, 1411 Fremont, were Pat and Jim Kane of Chicago and Juanita and Pete Klauss of Skokie, the latter couple staying over for Sunday.

A night of bridge playing was enjoyed by friends of Fran and Bill Johnston, 1505 Euclid. Guests were the Howard Kehls of Skokie, the John Pridmores of Northbrook and the Larry Mulvaneys of Chicago.

Marycarol Verbeck of Naperville spent the Halloween weeken with her aunt and family, Arlene and Marv Verbeck, 1511 Euclid, and went trick and treating with cousin Kirk.

A weekend guest who combined business with pleasure is Dick Kehoe of Roseville, Mich., who spent several days with Louise and Ken Smith, 1515 Euclid. He and Ken traveled to Madison, Wis., and rooted to victory their alma mater, Michigan State university, as they defeated the University of Wisconsin.

A friend of long standing stopped over for an evening of reminiscing with Carolyn and Dick Burkett, 1405 Euclid. He is Russell Oetting of North Highlands, Cal., and is topical in that he is currently working on the new missile Vanguard.

Accident

Jack Heinz, teenage son of Jerry and Jack Heinz, 1611 Euclid, managed to survive numerous football games without injury, but a front yard tussle with friends proved somewhat tougher and Jack emerged with a broken left arm, especially rough on a "southpaw." Wishes for a speedy recovery are sent his way.

New Arrival

A third girl has come to live with Gloria and Reynold Nelson, 216 Reuter. She arrived October 25 in Swedish Covenant hospital, weighed 8 pounds 11 ounces and is called Sandra Gae. Her sisters are Jamie Sue, 5, and Teri Lynn, 2½. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Perry, Palatine.

Travelers....

"To each his own" could be the vacation theme for Joan and Fred Miller, 505 Yale. Joan flew to East Alton to spend 12 pleasant days with her folks, the Elmer Wrights, and sister, Patty, and visiting numerous relations. Fred headed northwest to South Dakota for some fancy pheasant hunting. A good shot, he got the limit and the Miller freezer is well stocked with game.

Four loyal Notre Dame fans motored to South Bend for the classic Notre Dame-Navy game but returned saddened by the 20-6 defeat. They are Jane and Ed Quigley and Kay and Bob Alm.

Attention Dancers

Residents are reminded of the Westgate Wobble to be held November 23 at Fred's Place on Rand rd., from 8 pm.. The girls will wear skirts and sweaters and proper attire for the fellows will be slacks and sport shirts. Westgate 2 and Arlingdalers are welcome. Profits will be used for the children's Christmas party.

A teen Halloween party was given by Jeanne and Richard Anderson, 1215 W. Sigwalt st., Friday. It was a gay party with games, dancing and refreshments for those attending. Guests were Sharon Ackerlund, Arleen Matheson, Sandra Brusko, Lois Brown, Susan Carle, Mary Ann Walsh, Nancy Ann Nelson of Prospect Heights, Jackie Cwick of Chicago, and the boys, Fred and Dan Bedford, Fred and Don Kolstad, Carl Brandon, Larry Smith, Skipper Fleiszure, Les Kessel and David and Charles Weinrich.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Adam recently went into Chicago with 4 of their friends to see "Around the World in 80 Days." Afterward the couples went to George Diamonds for steak dinners.

Back In School

David Buren, son of the C. W. Burens, is back in school after having broken his leg in the Arlington Heights homecoming game. David is a junior in high school this year.

Cathy Bulinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bulinski, was 5 last Tuesday and had a party to celebrate the occasion. Mary Beth Myslo was there, along with Pam Zoellick, Mindy Sue Corda, George Chapman and Debbie Vogel. This was a circus party, with the napkins, plates and even the games in the circus vein. Each child was given a plastic instrument for the "band," which was a big hit with all of them.

Over the weekend, Cathy's brother, Larry, went down to his aunt's farm near Peoria to go hunting with his uncle. He came back with 2 rabbits.

Coming for Visit

Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman and young Steve are looking forward to Nancy Coffman Watson's visit with them this coming weekend. Nancy's husband, Richard, is a student at Illinois Wesleyan in Bloomington.

Billy Lavers, son of the Richard Lavers, was 5 November 4 and invited several friends to his birthday party. Those who came were Tommy Adam, Mike Buechner, Mark Rubenking, Dick Wells, Donna Graham, Barbara Leslie and Mike Raitt. Pete and Patty Bukowski were unable to attend. Because it was held in the late afternoon, the children were served hot dogs with their ice cream and cake.

Dolly Durgom was in charge of the decorations for the Halloween party and buffet supper given at the Presbyterian church last Tuesday for the junior choir. Two of Dolly's girls, Judy and Sandy, sing in the junior chair and were at the party with Cathy Force, another choir member.

Hostess For Party

There was a plastic party at Florence Gordon's house Tuesday night. Several friends and neighbors were there to see a large display of plastic ware ideal for Christmas gifts and use around the kitchen. After the demonstration Florence served refreshments.

Many friends and neighbors of the Roger Rydens will be interested to know that their daughter, Patti Ryden Hoffman, and her husband are moving to Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Hoffman has been transferred there and will be leaving to assume his new position immediately. Patti will be with the Rydens until Thanksgiving. The Hoffmans spent a great deal of time here in Arlington Heights and have many friends here.

Norma and Al Snap went to Freeport over the weekend to see his mother, Mrs. Albert Snap. They were delighted that young Steven was such a good traveler as they have camping trip plans for him.

The Bob Engelkings, the Bob Haddens and the H. A. Braunsreuters had a night-on-the-town in Chicago Saturday when the 3 couples celebrated Mr. Braunsreuter's birthday.

Acted as Chaperon

Norma Barnes acted as chaperon with other teachers from St. James, for the sixth, seventh and eighth grade students who took the trip to Washington, D.C. The sightseeing was fun for the teachers as well as the students.

The John A Hillebrands had a cocktail party at their house Saturday night to which they invited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Platt and friends from Hoffman Estates, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kieck, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanneman and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Auers. After the party the group went to the Junior Women's club "Comic Capers" costume dance.

There was a party at the George J. Topp home November 4. Michael was 3 years old and invited several friends to have ice cream and cake with him. Randy Smeltzer was there, as well as Johnny Koriath, Gary Braunsreuter, Pamela Rosheger, Mickey Pecararo, Michelle Intravartolo, Cathy Donahue, David Mills, Terry Platt and Nancy Urbanowicz. It was a Mickey Mouse type party with firemen favors for each child. The mothers were invited too, which proved to be a wonderful help with the games and refreshments.

Marries Evanston Girl

There was a wedding in the Thomas A. Schoen family October 19. Donald Schoen was married to Yvonne Woske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woske of Evanston, at 5 p.m. in St. Athanasius church, Evanston. A reception for 200 guests was held afterward at Wilmette golf club. The couple is honeymooning in Michigan.

The Quent Lamberts moved Tuesday from their home on Kennicott ave. to a larger home on S. Pine. Schoolwise, the move won't affect any of the Lambert children except Janie, who transferred from Ridge school to one close to their new home. (A

'Public Interest' Bucks Law in Building Hassle

What was termed "the public interest" ran head-on into the strict provisions of law at the Arlington Heights village hall Tuesday.

The conflict came up over an application for a building permit by the Arlington News agency. The site is the rear end of a commercially-zoned lot on the northwest corner of Northwest hwy. and Princeton ave.

THE PROPOSED building would, however, face onto residential Princeton ave., a condition which has drawn fire from neighbors close and distant.

Trustee Robert H. Bukowski said granting of the permit "would not be in the public interest," to which several of his colleagues agreed. But they also agreed that there apparently is no legal grounds for refusal in the village statute books.

A few minutes later the matter of whether or not the sale of a part of a commercial lot demanded a resubdivision of the lot (and action by the plan commission) was introduced by Bukowski.

Deciding to wait until a firm and proper answer to that one could be obtained, plus an answer to a query about who owns a chunk of the street, the trustees delayed voting on the application.

One resident objected to the proposal, saying lives of 41 children living in the block would be endangered.

In other business, the board received the thanks of Mayor Carlisle "for accomplishing as much as any board ever has in its first 6 months in office," approved erection of a billboard near the east entrance to the village on Northwest hwy. and gave the nod to subdivision of 2 acres on E. Davis st. for a pair of small industries, one slated to be a small tool and die shop. A recent audit of special assessments was discussed with auditors Ernst & Ernst. (AF

Forest View School

The hot barbecue plate lunch which was served to the children for the first time October 31 was successful and many came back for seconds. The mothers were well repaid for their efforts by the response from the children and teachers. Another hot lunch will be served November 21. Notes will be sent home with the children for the parents' signatures as before.

There will be no school Monday, Veterans day, or Tuesday, Nov. 12, because of an area institute.

An open house for the parents is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 15, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., at Forest View school.

Earning Money

Cub scouts of den 5 of Forest View school are doing odd jobs to earn money for a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family. Anyone wishing to help the boys in this project may call Virginia Palmer, Cl. 5-4828.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rossberg were godparents at the christening of their nephew, Ernest William, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dome of Chicago, October 27.

Judy and Diana Petry attended the high school play, "Yellow Jacket," Saturday evening.

Mrs. Robert Palmer celebrated her birthday Saturday with a dinner for her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bruening and Peggy of St. Louis, Mo., who surprised her by bringing her mother, Mrs. G. A. Bruening, who will spend a week with the Palmers. The L. A. Bruenings came up to enter their boxer Roxie in a dog show in Rockford.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. George Kemper upon the recent death of Mrs. Kemper's father, Mr. Cazel of Florida, a former resident at Golf and S. State rd., Arlington Heights.

Vincent Love spent the weekend in Madison on business. He also visited his wife's parents, the John Cairns.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mailfold of McHenry were Saturday evening guests in the George Mailfold home.

Mrs. Flo Fingle celebrated her birthday Saturday. Her son, Ed Biechler of Chicago visited her Friday evening.

Kevin Grismer celebrated his seventh birthday Saturday with a dinner party given in his honor. Those helping him celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swearingen, Carol and Keith, his grandparents, the senior W. H. Grismers, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wickline and son, David.

On the sick list this week are Mrs. Gertrude Elwess and Pat and Laura Martinak. Best wishes for speedy recoveries are extended to them.

October 27 a farewell dinner party was given in honor of Ted Robinson by Mr. and Mrs. Giles Burditt. Guests were Ted's mother, Mrs. Jean Robinsin; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sladek of Schiller Park; Mrs. Freda Floring and daughter, Pat, Barbara and David Julsetch, all of Bensenville; the Joe Martinak family, David Elwess, Kurt Molenkamp, Tom and George Sande, Jim Peterson and Mike Consoer. After dinner, dancing was enjoyed by all. Ted left November 1 for Great Lakes, where he will enter basic training.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker of Des Plaines are parents of an 8 pound son, Robert Patten, born October 23. Robert has a brother, Richard, who formerly attended Forest View school.

Visitors at the Museum of Science and Industry Sunday were the Eugene Colombe family and the Raymond Blaschke family.

Miss Edna Lane of Williamstown, W. Va., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Mary Van Dyke.

A Halloween and pajama party was held in the Joe Martinak home Saturday evening with Barbara Julsetch, Pat Floring, Pat Burditt, Cookie and Marie Martinak attending. (A

Ridge Park—Sherwood

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Adam recently went into Chicago with 4 of their friends to see "Around the World in 80 Days." Afterward the couples went to George Diamonds for steak dinners.

Back In School

David Buren, son of the C. W. Burens, is back in school after having broken his leg in the Arlington Heights homecoming game. David is a junior in high school this year.

Cathy Bulinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bulinski, was 5 last Tuesday and had a party to celebrate the occasion. Mary Beth Myslo was there, along with Pam Zoellick, Mindy Sue Corda, George Chapman and Debbie Vogel. This was a circus party, with the napkins, plates and even the games in the circus vein. Each child was given a plastic instrument for the "band," which was a big hit with all of them.

Over the weekend, Cathy's brother, Larry, went down to his aunt's farm near Peoria to go hunting with his uncle. He came back with 2 rabbits.

Coming for Visit

Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman and young Steve are looking forward to Nancy Coffman Watson's visit with them this coming weekend. Nancy's husband, Richard, is a student at Illinois Wesleyan in Bloomington.

Billy Lavers, son of the Richard Lavers, was 5 November 4 and invited several friends to his birthday party. Those who came were Tommy Adam, Mike Buechner, Mark Rubenking, Dick Wells, Donna Graham, Barbara Leslie and Mike Raitt. Pete and Patty Bukowski were unable to attend. Because it was held in the late afternoon, the children were served hot dogs with their ice cream and cake.

Dolly Durgom was in charge of the decorations for the Halloween party and buffet supper given at the Presbyterian church last Tuesday for the junior choir. Two of Dolly's girls, Judy and Sandy, sing in the junior chair and were at the party with Cathy Force, another choir member.

Hostess For Party

There was a plastic party at Florence Gordon's house Tuesday night. Several friends and neighbors were there to see a large display of plastic ware ideal for Christmas gifts and use around the kitchen. After the demonstration Florence served refreshments.

Many friends and neighbors of the Roger Rydens will be interested to know that their daughter, Patti Ryden Hoffman, and her husband are moving to Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Hoffman has been transferred there and will be leaving to assume his new position immediately. Patti will be with the Rydens until Thanksgiving. The Hoffmans spent a great deal of time here in Arlington Heights and have many friends here.

Norma and Al Snap went to Freeport over the weekend to see his mother, Mrs. Albert Snap. They were delighted that young Steven was such a good traveler as they have camping trip plans for him.

The Bob Engelkings, the Bob Haddens and the H. A. Braunsreuters had a night-on-the-town in Chicago Saturday when the 3 couples celebrated Mr. Braunsreuter's birthday.

Acted as Chaperon

Norma Barnes acted as chaperon with other teachers from St. James, for the sixth, seventh and eighth grade students who took the trip to Washington, D.C. The sightseeing was fun for the teachers as well as the students.

The John A Hillebrands had a cocktail party at their house Saturday night to which they invited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Platt and friends from Hoffman Estates, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kieck, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanneman and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Auers. After the party the group went to the Junior Women's club "Comic Capers" costume dance.

There was a party at the George J. Topp home November 4. Michael was 3 years old and invited several friends to have ice cream and cake with him. Randy Smeltzer was there, as well as Johnny Koriath, Gary Braunsreuter, Pamela Rosheger, Mickey Pecararo, Michelle Intravartolo, Cathy Donahue, David Mills, Terry Platt and Nancy Urbanowicz. It was a Mickey Mouse type party with firemen favors for each child. The mothers were invited too, which proved to be a wonderful help with the games and refreshments.

Marries Evanston Girl

There was a wedding in the Thomas A. Schoen family October 19. Donald Schoen was married to Yvonne Woske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woske of Evanston, at 5 p.m. in St. Athanasius church, Evanston. A reception for 200 guests was held afterward at Wilmette golf club. The couple is honeymooning in Michigan.

The Quent Lamberts moved Tuesday from their home on Kennicott ave. to a larger home on S. Pine. Schoolwise, the move won't affect any of the Lambert children except Janie, who transferred from Ridge school to one close to their new home. (A

'Public Interest' Bucks Law in Building Hassle

What was termed "the public interest" ran head-on into the strict provisions of law at the Arlington Heights village hall Tuesday.

The conflict came up over an application for a building permit by the Arlington News agency. The site is the rear end of a commercially-zoned lot on the northwest corner of Northwest hwy. and Princeton ave.

THE PROPOSED building would, however, face onto residential Princeton ave., a condition which has drawn fire from neighbors close and distant.

Trustee Robert H. Bukowski said granting of the permit "would not be in the public interest," to which several of his colleagues agreed. But they also agreed that there apparently is no legal grounds for refusal in the village statute books.

A few minutes later the matter of whether or not the sale of a part of a commercial lot demanded a resubdivision of the lot (and action by the plan commission) was introduced by Bukowski.

Deciding to wait until a firm and proper answer to that one could be obtained, plus an answer to a query about who owns a chunk of the street, the trustees delayed voting on the application.

One resident objected to the proposal, saying lives of 41 children living in the block would be endangered.

In other business, the board received the thanks of Mayor Carlisle "for accomplishing as much as any board ever has in its first 6 months in office," approved erection of a billboard near the east entrance to the village on Northwest hwy. and gave the nod to subdivision of 2 acres on E. Davis st. for a pair of small industries, one slated to be a small tool and die shop. A recent audit of special assessments was discussed with auditors Ernst & Ernst. (AF

Forest View School

The hot barbecue plate lunch which was served to the children for the first time October 31 was successful and many came back for seconds. The mothers were well repaid for their efforts by the response from the children and teachers. Another hot lunch will be served November 21. Notes will be sent home with the children for the parents' signatures as before.

There will be no school Monday, Veterans day, or Tuesday, Nov. 12, because of an area institute.

An open house for the parents is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 15, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., at Forest View school.

Earning Money

Cub scouts of den 5 of Forest View school are doing odd jobs to earn money for a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family. Anyone wishing to help the boys in this project may call Virginia Palmer, Cl. 5-4828.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rossberg were godparents at the christening of their nephew, Ernest William, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dome of Chicago, October 27.

Judy and Diana Petry attended the high school play, "Yellow Jacket," Saturday evening.

Mrs. Robert Palmer celebrated her birthday Saturday with a dinner for her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bruening and Peggy of St. Louis, Mo., who surprised her by bringing her mother, Mrs. G. A. Bruening, who will spend a week with the Palmers. The L. A. Bruenings came up to enter their boxer Roxie in a dog show in Rockford.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. George Kemper upon the recent death of Mrs. Kemper's father, Mr. Cazel of Florida, a former resident at Golf and S. State rd., Arlington Heights.

Vincent Love spent the weekend in Madison on business. He also visited his wife's parents, the John Cairns.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mailfold of McHenry were Saturday evening guests in the George Mailfold home.

Mrs. Flo Fingle celebrated her birthday Saturday. Her son, Ed Biechler of Chicago visited her Friday evening.

Kevin Grismer celebrated his seventh birthday Saturday with a dinner party given in his honor. Those helping him celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swearingen, Carol and Keith, his grandparents, the senior W. H. Grismers, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wickline and son, David.

On the sick list this week are Mrs. Gertrude Elwess and Pat and Laura Martinak. Best wishes for speedy recoveries are extended to them.

October 27 a farewell dinner party was given in honor of Ted Robinson by Mr. and Mrs. Giles Burditt. Guests were Ted's mother, Mrs. Jean Robinsin; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sladek of Schiller Park; Mrs. Freda Floring and daughter, Pat, Barbara and David Julsetch, all of Bensenville; the Joe Martinak family, David Elwess, Kurt Molenkamp, Tom and George Sande, Jim Peterson and Mike Consoer. After dinner, dancing was enjoyed by all. Ted left November 1 for Great Lakes, where he will enter basic training.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker of Des Plaines are parents of an 8 pound son, Robert Patten, born October 23. Robert has a brother, Richard, who formerly attended Forest View school.

Visitors at the Museum of Science and Industry Sunday were the Eugene Colombe family and the Raymond Blaschke family.

Miss Edna Lane of Williamstown, W. Va., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Mary Van Dyke.

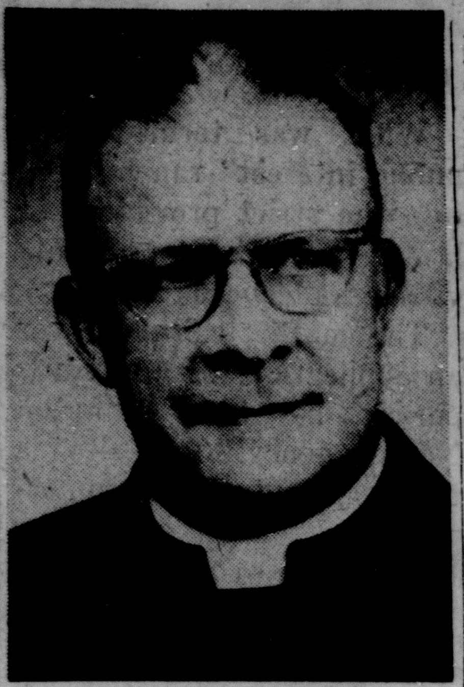
Sunday evening, Nov. 10, the members of Our Saviour Lutheran church will hear Dr. O. V. Anderson speak on Christian Stewardship and its importance to all church members.

Dr. Anderson, president of the Illinois Conference of the Augustana Lutheran church since 1954, has had long and varied church experience. He was professor of Christianity at Augustana college; pastor of Calvary Lutheran church, Chicago, and pastor of Grace Lutheran church, La Grange.

BORN IN NEW YORK City, Dr. Anderson did undergraduate work at Upsala college, East Orange, N. J. At Augustana Theological seminary, Rock Island, he secured his B.D., Th. M., and D.D. Post graduate studies were taken at both Union Theological seminary, Columbia university, and at the University of Chicago.



DR. O. V. ANDERSON

Dr. Anderson's service to the church-at-large is as a member and officer on numerous boards and commissions - including Lutheran Illinois conference; board of directors at Augustana hospital, Chicago; and division of student service, National Lutheran council.

Other church activities of Dr. Anderson include being the author of a number of articles in church history and related fields; attending the Lutheran World Federation meeting at Hanover, Germany, 1952; attending the World Council of Churches preparatory committee at Geneva, Switzerland (and the Holy Land), 1953; and attendance at the World Council assembly in Evanston in 1954.

SINCE MANY of Our Saviour's members were formerly with Augustana Lutheran church congregations and with the area of Lutheran Unity — brought about by the joint Augustana- United Lutheran church invitation for complete merger — Dr. Anderson's presence at the Stewardship loyalty dinner is of especial significance.

Our Saviour's Stewardship loyalty dinner begins at 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 10, at the Miner school cafeteria, 1000 E. Miner st., Arlington Heights. (A

Europe Shops Memorable Experience for Americans

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Shopping in Europe is a memorable experience for any American. On the Continent, making purchases involves an entirely different set of customs.

The European woman, when setting out to buy food, would never fail to bring along her own bag or basket with which to carry the supplies home. Most stores do not have paper bags for this purpose.

IN FRUIT AND vegetable shops, however, when the customer turns up with no such sack, a supply of old newspapers is usually on hand with which the shopkeeper fashions a makeshift bag. But it is generally so feeble that the customer eventually finds herself chasing potatoes and onions rolling down the street on her way home.

Milk containers, other than glass, are all but unknown in Europe. Bottles are cared for and, in some countries (Scandinavia) the law requires that customers return them to the stores washed. In France, Portugal, Spain and Italy, among a few others, it is quite popular to own a small milk can. Customers have their milk cans filled by a dipper from a huge barrel.

BREAD IS VERY rarely found already sliced. By custom in many countries it seems to be more fun to break the bread roughly with the hand. It is almost never wrapped in paper.

Supermarkets are few and far between. A few cities are getting them, but generally the people seem to prefer the individual attention of a storekeeper. This gives them a chance to say hello to a business acquaintance, chat a few moments about local gossip, recount the misfortunes in one's life, then move on. This means, of course, that perhaps 2 or 4 stores must be visited during one shopping period. Grocery stores do not sell bread, bread stores do not sell meat, and so forth.

Delivery service, except for milk in the morning in a few lands, is unknown. No army of delivery boys exists to handle the trade, even if shopping customs were changed to include them.

FROZEN FOODS are rarely found, and canned products are unpopular because of the cost of the metal in the container .(The English say: "If we can't eat it, we tin it; but what the Americans can not eat, they can.")

Istanbul, Turkey, just inside the European boundary, has the unique practice of demanding that storekeepers list 2 prices for all products. The first tells what the shopkeeper paid for the item, the second one tells the price the customer has to pay. (B12

Young Artists Recital Features Young Violinist

Alec Catherwood, violinist, 933 N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, will be the featured violinist on the November 18 program of the Lyon-Healy Young Artists recital series.

The program will be presented in the Lyon-Healy Concert hall, 64 E. Jackson blvd., and will begin at 7:30 p.m. There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited.

...CATHERWOOD WAS chosen for this appearance from a large number of applicants heard this past summer in auditions which were judged by prominent musicians and teachers.

For his performance on the November 18 concert of the Lyon-Healy Young Artists recital series, Catherwood will share program honors with Jeannette Boston, pianist. Duo Pianists Head Sunday Bill for Concert Series

The second concert of the 1957-1958 Community Concert season will be held Sunday, November 10 in Arlington high school gymnasium.

One of the most versatile piano duos on the American concert stage will be the attraction.

THE TELTSCHIK brothers, now on their eighth sold-out tour of the country, have proved themselves to be masters in the art of duo-pianistic precision. An enormous technique, a sound background imagination and taste above all their innate musicality, are the essential reasons for the Teltschik's continuing welcome by enthusiastic audiences everywhere.

The Teltschiks had their earliest musical training under their father, an old-world musician, in Floresville, Texas, where they were born. When the family moved to Houston, the boys continued their studies under Aldrige Kidd, until they entered the Julliard School of Music where they studied under Mme. Olga Samaroff-Stokowski. After graduation they returned to Houston, where each got married.

DURING WORLD WAR II, the brothers were assigned to military orchestras and gave numerous two-piano recitals for the armed forces, thus gaining rich experience for the career they were to pursue.

A brilliant American-trained, self-contained team, Alfred and Herbert Teltschik embody in their playing and interpretations the warm and exacting quality, vision and unlimited wealth of expression that is native to Texans tempered with the great musical traditions of an old Austria — the Austria of Mozart and Strauss. Music lovers and critics alike consider their flawless technique and dymanics beyond any reproach.

The concert this Sunday will be one of the highlights of the concert season.

"I have fought stamps in other markets — and I lost," said Harley V. McNamara, president of National Tea. "So I started giving them."

Rule Auto Death Was Accidental

A coroner's jury Thursday, Oct. 31 brought in a verdict of accidental death at an inquest into the auto crash in which William C. Gronert Jr., 56, of 2012 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, was killed Wednesday, Oct. 30.

In addition, the jury recommended that the Wolf rd. and Euclid ave. intersection where the accident occurred be made a 4-way stop. At present, Euclid ave. traffic stops and Wolf rd. traffic has right-of-way.

COOK COUNTY Deputy Coroner Charles W. Richards conducted the inquest.

Gronert was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident by a physician, according to Illinois state policeman Richard J. Anderson, who testified at the inquest.

Gerald P. Heffern, 133 Morrison, Mt. Prospect, truck driver, was driving his car south on Wolf rd. when he struck Gronert's car. He testified that he was traveling at 40 to 45 mph and said he had his headlights on.

He said Gronert, headed west on Euclid, made a complete stop at the intersection and then pulled out in front of him. He reported that he tried to pull to the right, but skidded on gravel and could not avoid hitting Gronert.

GRONERT'S CAR crashed into the barricade at the ditch at the southwest corner of the intersection.

Skid marks measured 111 feet 2 inches, according to Anderson. This is entirely within the limit for stopping at a speed of 40 to 45 mph (actually 150 feet), said Deputy Coroner Richards.

Witness W. P. Loufborrow of Lake Zurich, who had stopped behind Gronert on Euclid, testified that he saw the accident coming. He added that Gronert had his headlights turned on. The collision happened in the middle of the intersection, he said.

FUNERAL SERVICES for Gronert were held Saturday, Nov. 2, at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. Interment was at Memory Gardens. Black's Memorial home made arrangements prior to the services.

Gronert and his family moved to Arlington Heights in 1939 from Norwood Park.

For the past 6 years he was an administrator at Walther Memorial hospital, Chicago. He was a member of the hospital board of directors for 25 years. Before that time he worked for the Chicago Federal Reserve bank.

GRONERT WAS BORN in Chicago in 1901. He attended Lutheran schools there.

Gronert is survived by his wife Louise; sons Kenneth and Donald of Arlington Heights; daughters, Mrs. Ruth Donako, Beecher, Ill., and Audrey, Champaign-Urbana.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Emma Gronert, a brother Melvin, a sister, Mrs. Emma Kozeluk, all of Chicago.

Reversal of Hintz Road Zoning Sought by County

(CNS) — The county will argue November 27 to upset the decision of a Circuit Court Master-in-Chancery approving the rezoning of the southwest corner of Hintz rd. and Elmhurst rd. to permit the construction of a gas station.

The legal battle began March 2, 1956, when the owners of the tract, Albinus and Elizabeth Raupp, filed suit asking the farming classification be raised to permit the construction of a Sinclair 2-stall gas station with salesroom.

THE SUIT, drafted by Attorneys R. A. Franzen and Frank M. Opeka, challenged the farming classification which permits 21 uses.

Circuit Court Master-in-Chancery Philip H. Mitchel suggested in a decision, presented to Judge Cornelius J. Harrington, the farming classification be lifted, contending the present zoning classification will depreciate the value of the surrounding property more than the business classification. He based his decision on the riding stable, racing establishments, picnic groves, radio stations, and dog kennel uses permitted by the farming classification.

Master Mitchel contended the best use of all 4 corners, now vacant, would be for commercial uses.

ASSISTANT STATE'S Attorney Edward Purcell contends the property is residential in nature and development, and asked the suit be dismissed. He contends the Raupp's, who live 300 feet south of the site, have not proved the zoning ordinance does not bear any relation to the public health, safety, morals, comfort, and general welfare.

During hearings before the Master, Richard W. Manke, a real estate broker at 9 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, testifying for the Raupp's, estimated the value of the property for residential use would be $500, $400 for farm use, but $15,000 for a gas station.

MANKE SAID the best use of the property would be for commercial use. The lot has a frontage of 130 feet on Hintz rd., and 175 feet on Elmhurst rd. Manke based his estimate on the fact that there are only 4 homes in the quarter of a mile area around the intersection.

Alvin L. Wagner, of 2709 Flossmoor rd., Flossmoor, a real estate broker, testifying for the county, contended the tract has a value of $3,000 for residential use, $600 to $800 for farm use, and only $10,000 for business use. He contended the best use of the site would be residential, contending the gas station will depreciate the value of the surrounding farm land.

Judge Harrington will rule on the county's objections November 27. (ACM

Local industry has appealed to Arlington Heights chamber of commerce to spread the good word that there are a lot of good jobs in local industry that await men and women who desire to cut out 2 hours of traveling time, gas and train fare traveling to Chicago every day.

In turn, the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce has offered to forward to industry and local business firms the names of persons who are interested in local employment. A coupon appears on this page.

Q. When one is being introduced to a roomful of strangers, is one supposed to acknowledge each introduction with a "How do you do"?

A. One sincerely-spoken "How do you do" should be enough, and after that, just smile and bow slightly to each person as you are introduced — with perhaps one or two added "How do you do's" in a low voice.

Q. To settle a discussion we had recently, will you please tell me just what are the purposes of a dinner napkin?

A. To wipe the lips before drinking from the water glass, so that the glass may not be smeared, and to wipe the fingers.

Gronert was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident by a physician, according to Illinois state policeman Richard J. Anderson, who testified at the inquest.

Gerald P. Heffern, 133 Morrison, Mt. Prospect, truck driver, was driving his car south on Wolf rd. when he struck Gronert's car. He testified that he was traveling at 40 to 45 mph and said he had his headlights on.

He said Gronert, headed west on Euclid, made a complete stop at the intersection and then pulled out in front of him. He reported that he tried to pull to the right, but skidded on gravel and could not avoid hitting Gronert.

Skid marks measured 111 feet 2 inches, according to Anderson. This is entirely within the limit for stopping at a speed of 40 to 45 mph (actually 150 feet), said Deputy Coroner Richards.

Witness W. P. Loufborrow of Lake Zurich, who had stopped behind Gronert on Euclid, testified that he saw the accident coming. He added that Gronert had his headlights turned on. The collision happened in the middle of the intersection, he said.

FUNERAL SERVICES for Gronert were held Saturday, Nov. 2, at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. Interment was at Memory Gardens. Black's Memorial home made arrangements prior to the services.

Gronert and his family moved to Arlington Heights in 1939 from Norwood Park.

For the past 6 years he was an administrator at Walther Memorial hospital, Chicago. He was a member of the hospital board of directors for 25 years. Before that time he worked for the Chicago Federal Reserve bank.

GRONERT WAS BORN in Chicago in 1901. He attended Lutheran schools there.

Gronert is survived by his wife Louise; sons Kenneth and Donald of Arlington Heights; daughters, Mrs. Ruth Donako, Beecher, Ill., and Audrey, Champaign-Urbana.

Reversal of Hintz Road Zoning Sought by County

(CNS) — The county will argue November 27 to upset the decision of a Circuit Court Master-in-Chancery approving the rezoning of the southwest corner of Hintz rd. and Elmhurst rd. to permit the construction of a gas station.

The legal battle began March 2, 1956, when the owners of the tract, Albinus and Elizabeth Raupp, filed suit asking the farming classification be raised to permit the construction of a Sinclair 2-stall gas station with salesroom.

THE SUIT, drafted by Attorneys R. A. Franzen and Frank M. Opeka, challenged the farming classification which permits 21 uses.

Circuit Court Master-in-Chancery Philip H. Mitchel suggested in a decision, presented to Judge Cornelius J. Harrington, the farming classification be lifted, contending the present zoning classification will depreciate the value of the surrounding property more than the business classification. He based his decision on the riding stable, racing establishments, picnic groves, radio stations, and dog kennel uses permitted by the farming classification.

Master Mitchel contended the best use of all 4 corners, now vacant, would be for commercial uses.

ASSISTANT STATE'S Attorney Edward Purcell contends the property is residential in nature and development, and asked the suit be dismissed. He contends the Raupp's, who live 300 feet south of the site, have not proved the zoning ordinance does not bear any relation to the public health, safety, morals, comfort, and general welfare.

During hearings before the Master, Richard W. Manke, a real estate broker at 9 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, testifying for the Raupp's, estimated the value of the property for residential use would be $500, $400 for farm use, but $15,000 for a gas station.

MANKE SAID the best use of the property would be for commercial use. The lot has a frontage of 130 feet on Hintz rd., and 175 feet on Elmhurst rd. Manke based his estimate on the fact that there are only 4 homes in the quarter of a mile area around the intersection.

Alvin L. Wagner, of 2709 Flossmoor rd., Flossmoor, a real estate broker, testifying for the county, contended the tract has a value of $3,000 for residential use, $600 to $800 for farm use, and only $10,000 for business use. He contended the best use of the site would be residential, contending the gas station will depreciate the value of the surrounding farm land.

Judge Harrington will rule on the county's objections November 27. (ACM

Industry Asks: Why Waste Time

Local industry has appealed to Arlington Heights chamber of commerce to spread the good word that there are a lot of good jobs in local industry that await men and women who desire to cut out 2 hours of traveling time, gas and train fare traveling to Chicago every day.

In turn, the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce has offered to forward to industry and local business firms the names of persons who are interested in local employment. A coupon appears on this page.

IN CASE the type of work desired indicates that the applicant is interested in a job that is open in more than one industry, their names will be forwarded to all of such industries or to local business firms seeking employees which has such an opening.

"The CC is not entering the employment agency business," says President Kozeliski, "we are just trying to do a community service."

Paddock Publications is cooperating in the community service by giving space to the coupon, which will appear from time to time. (A

Q. When one is being introduced to a roomful of strangers, is one supposed to acknowledge each introduction with a "How do you do"?

A. One sincerely-spoken "How do you do" should be enough, and after that, just smile and bow slightly to each person as you are introduced — with perhaps one or two added "How do you do's" in a low voice.

Q. To settle a discussion we had recently, will you please tell me just what are the purposes of a dinner napkin?

A. To wipe the lips before drinking from the water glass, so that the glass may not be smeared, and to wipe the fingers.

Pioneer Park Reception Honors District Workers

by STUART R. PADDOCK

The history of Arlington Heights Park District was outlined October 30 at Pioneer Park fieldhouse. Past members and those now in office, with their wives, enjoyed a dinner served by a caterer.

The size of Arlington Heights today made a public dedication not feasible. The event was a sort of a family affair for those who have had a part in the growth of the park facilities during the past 27 years.

WARREN WHITE, 1957-58 president, gave a historic resume of those years. Many of the members during the early years have passed on; others have moved elsewhere.

The 2 living original members are, Albert F. Volz and Julius Flentie. Others were N. M. Banta, E. R. Berbecker and Henry C. Klehm. Wm. F. Meyer, who recently retired as village treasurer, was the first secretary.

The original purpose of the park district was the proper care of the 6 railroad parks. The railroad had withdrawn section hands from such work and Messrs. Meyer and Volz started the snowball that rolled up a heavy vote favoring the park organization in 1925.

IT WAS NOT untill the days of the depression that Recreation park came into existence. The late W. Krause and others donated part of the present 14 acres of that park. A bond issue acquired the balance.

Through the interest of Geo. Schneberger and Mayor Flentie, Arlington Heights signed up with the WPA for a lot of labor hours, which under the direction of Walter Kroeber built the fieldhouse and much of the swimming pool.

The park wall along the south railroad drive, constructed in the same period, cost Uncle Sam $6,000 in WPA labor. Its foundation was cement blocks removed from a partially finished industrial building from park land donated by Mr. Krause.

TODAY there are the 2 north and southside parks, of 14 and 24 acres, 7 neighborhood parks from 1 to 5 acres, the 6 railroad parks and many small parks in Scarsdale and Stonegate.

There have been 28 park commissioners since the park organization. Its operation has become big business. Tom Thornton is director; Richard Ault is superintendent of recreation. The business office is in Pioneer park, where there is an office secretary on duty during business hours.

Many Arlington Heights organizations are using the 2 field houses. At times groups from neighboring communities are also availing themselves of the facilities. (A

Mrs. Floyd Terbell, chairman of the welfare committee and 8 members of the club have taken 2 days of instruction to become volunteer workers at Elgin State hospital. The instructors were doctors, psychiatrists, nurses and supervisors of wards.

The volunteer work consists in planning parties and games writing letters and being good listeners. Plans are in full swing for a Christmas party at which time Christmas gifts will be presented to the patients. (A

Salesman, 34 Found Guilty On Lewd Charge

A 34-year-old Prospect Heights salesman last Thursday was found guilty in a Palatine court of assault with intent to commit a lewd act upon a 26-year-old suburban school teacher.

After an hour and 10 minutes of deliberation ,the 10-man and 2-woman jury found Louis O'Riordan, 205 S. Marion ave., Prospect Heights, guilty of the charge and set his sentence at $250 fine and 10 days in Cook county jail.

The charge was brought by the school teacher, who filed a warrant for his arrest October 4, two weeks after the assault occurred in her home on Saturday, September 21.

Several hours were spent in taking of testimony, during which the school teacher told in detail the several visits to her home by O'Riordan who had claimed he was a bachelor.

The day following the incident, the teacher reported the assault to Rolling Meadows police. Asked if she wanted to swear out a warrant for O'Riordan's arrest, the teacher said she wanted to think it over. She returned October 4 to swear out the warrant.

THE PLOT centers around an All-American football hero John Kent (John Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Petersen, 913 N. Patton, Arlington Heights). Kent inherits a fashionable French dress salon from his aunt, Roberta (Laurie Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Riley, 738 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights).

The inheritance is complicated by Kent's engagement to a wealthy Boston debutante, Sophie Teale, (Ellen Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest R. Wolf, 607 S. State, Arlington Heights), and his growing attachment to Roberta's designer, Stephanie (Brenda Rudolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rudolph, 421 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights).

The cast has nobility in Lord Henry (Bill Roosen, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Roosen, 314 N. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect) and Prince Ladislaw, (Gordon Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Larson, 217 N. William, Mt. Prospect).

HUCK HAINES (Alan Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hutchinson, 1218 Woodford, Arlington Heights) adds the American touch, while Scharwenka (Dawn Leth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Leth, 503 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights) provides a bit of flirtation as a night club entertainer.

The scene shifts from an American college campus to Paris, France. There the Americans are exposed to the color of the gala Cafe Russe and the prohibitive prices for Madame Roberta's world famed creations.

A 30 piece orchestra, directed by music department head Fredrick Schmoyer, will provide the instrumental accompaniment. Jo-Ann Austin's orchesis groups furnish dance numbers for the night club entertainment.

A SPECIAL feature of this year's show will be the overture, which will be sung by Arlington's A Cappella Choir.

Challenging the talented youths will be an elaborate scene at Roberta's salon which calls for a full-fledged style show. Arlington high's pulchritude will model the Parisian fashions.

Charbon, a live French poodle, adds human interest as the dog makes its stage debut. Elaborate costuming makes "Roberta" a colorful spectacle. Tuxes for the males have been provided, free of charge, by Gingiss Brothers of Chicago.

LIGHTING AND special effects are being handled by Charles Miller and his audio-visual crew. Ed Fischer, art department head, has designed the sets.

"Roberta," originally staged in 1933 has twice been produced by Hollywood. Irene Dunne and Robert Taylor starred in a film version, and M.G.M. cast Red Skelton, Howard Keel, and Marge and Gower Champion in a musical adaptation, "Lovely To Look At."

Pioneer Park Reception Honors District Workers

by STUART R. PADDOCK

The history of Arlington Heights Park District was outlined October 30 at Pioneer Park fieldhouse. Past members and those now in office, with their wives, enjoyed a dinner served by a caterer.

The size of Arlington Heights today made a public dedication not feasible. The event was a sort of a family affair for those who have had a part in the growth of the park facilities during the past 27 years.

WARREN WHITE, 1957-58 president, gave a historic resume of those years. Many of the members during the early years have passed on; others have moved elsewhere.

The 2 living original members are, Albert F. Volz and Julius Flentie. Others were N. M. Banta, E. R. Berbecker and Henry C. Klehm. Wm. F. Meyer, who recently retired as village treasurer, was the first secretary.

The original purpose of the park district was the proper care of the 6 railroad parks. The railroad had withdrawn section hands from such work and Messrs. Meyer and Volz started the snowball that rolled up a heavy vote favoring the park organization in 1925.

IT WAS NOT untill the days of the depression that Recreation park came into existence. The late W. Krause and others donated part of the present 14 acres of that park. A bond issue acquired the balance.

Through the interest of Geo. Schneberger and Mayor Flentie, Arlington Heights signed up with the WPA for a lot of labor hours, which under the direction of Walter Kroeber built the fieldhouse and much of the swimming pool.

The park wall along the south railroad drive, constructed in the same period, cost Uncle Sam $6,000 in WPA labor. Its foundation was cement blocks removed from a partially finished industrial building from park land donated by Mr. Krause.

TODAY there are the 2 north and southside parks, of 14 and 24 acres, 7 neighborhood parks from 1 to 5 acres, the 6 railroad parks and many small parks in Scarsdale and Stonegate.

There have been 28 park commissioners since the park organization. Its operation has become big business. Tom Thornton is director; Richard Ault is superintendent of recreation. The business office is in Pioneer park, where there is an office secretary on duty during business hours.

Many Arlington Heights organizations are using the 2 field houses. At times groups from neighboring communities are also availing themselves of the facilities. (A

Where Do You Find Only U. S. CHOICE BEEF?

You Can Depend on Jewel

• JEWEL KNOWS YOU DON'T WANT BEEF AT THAT "AWKWARD AGE"—too old to be good veal, too young to be good beef. Quality beef (the kind you want to serve your family) comes only from heavy, full-grown one to two year old cattle. And from these, Jewel buyers select only government graded U.S. Choice Beef for you!

Then each cut of this U.S. Choice Beef gets the famous Jewel Extra Value Trim. Take pot roast for example: all excess fat and bone are removed before weighing—only enough fat is left for tender, juicy cooking.

Triple Treat For Yomarcos Friday Night

Although Yomarcos are used to interesting programs, the one Friday night promises to be something really out of the ordinary. Not only will the club see a very interesting one-act play put on by the Talent Bank of the Village Theatre, Incorporated, of Arlington Heights, but will have 2 rare musical treats besides.

Robert Crawford, president of the Chicago chapter of the St. Andrews Society, who has appeared several times on television, has promised to come dressed in his national costume, the well-known tartan kilt, and sing a number of Scottish songs.

Last, but far from least, John Roberts, president of the Arlington Heights chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America, Incorporated, has agreed to bring a double quartet to sing a few numbers in barber shop harmony.

Members make a determined effort to be on time, at 8 p.m.

Following the entertainment refreshments will be served by the dessert committee for the evening—Elaine and Tommy Thompson, Doris and Herb Uhlemann, and Phyllis and Hal Bloss. (AM

A peddler's knowledge of vitamins

To sum it up . . . probably zero. The professional people who know about vitamins and nutritional supplements are doctors of medicine and registered pharmacists. The peddler's "knowledge" probably consists of a prepared sales talk which he memorized. Which may or may not give you all the facts. So, don't buy vitamins or nutritional supplements from door-to-door peddlers. Get them from a registered pharmacist who knows what he's selling—and gives you what you pay for.

A peddler's knowledge of vitamins

To sum it up . . . probably zero. The professional people who know about vitamins and nutritional supplements are doctors of medicine and registered pharmacists. The peddler's "knowledge" probably consists of a prepared sales talk which he memorized. Which may or may not give you all the facts. So, don't buy vitamins or nutritional supplements from door-to-door peddlers. Get them from a registered pharmacist who knows what he's selling—and gives you what you pay for.

PHILCO TELEVISION, radios and Hi-Fi have been added to the lines carried by Northwest Tire & Supply, 700 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights. The store also features a large selection of children's wheel goods and toys. Everyone is invited to a grand opening celebration this weekend.

Church Dedicates New School Unit

The new educational unit of St. Mark Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect, will be dedicated by Dr. Myron Austinson, president of the eastern district of the Evangelical Lutheran church, at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday, Nov. 10.

The Rev. H. J. Rasmussen, pastor, and the Rev. Floyd Grout, assistant pastor, will also participate in the services.

The public is invited to an "open house" in the new building, 201-203 S. Pine st., from 3 to 5 p.m. Coffee will be served by the Women's guild.

The building is a tri-level structure. The Pine street level provides 10 classrooms, a nursery and a lounge. There are 4 offices on the Evergreen street level, and 15 classrooms on the second floor.

THE FURNITURE in the lounge is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wettstein Jr., 631 S. State, Arlington Heights; the luminous ceiling in the pastor's office the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newgard, 318 S. Albert, Mt. Prospect; the carpeting in the office the gift of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rusten, 1700 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

The architect is Walter Kroeber of Arlington Heights; general contractor Ray Lantz of Glenview.

MEMBERS OF THE building committee are: Dr. N. M. Nesset, Palatine, chairman; Herbert Sass and Darwin Blix of Arlington Heights; Robert Newgard, Harold Edwall, Roland Becker, Stan Deming, and Clifton Hesness of Mt. Prospect; Dan Borgen of Prospect Heights; Wallace Moen and Roy Mathison of Glenview; Carl Pedersen of Des Plaines.

The new educational building, joined to the church, completes a structural unit covering the length of the block between Pine and Wille streets on Evergreen. This is the fourth phase of the building program of the now 10 year old congregation.

Last year the parsonage on the corner of Pine and Evergreen was moved to a lot at 209 S. Wille st. to make room for the expanded building.

IN 1947 the parsonage and the first unit of the church were constructed. In 1952 the first parish house was built, and is now being used as the residence of the assistant pastor and his wife.

The present church building was completed in the fall of 1954. The congregation now numbers over 1,500 of which more than 850 are communicant members. Over 700 are enrolled in Sunday school. (ACM

Church Dedicates New School Unit

The new educational unit of St. Mark Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect, will be dedicated by Dr. Myron Austinson, president of the eastern district of the Evangelical Lutheran church, at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday, Nov. 10.

The Rev. H. J. Rasmussen, pastor, and the Rev. Floyd Grout, assistant pastor, will also participate in the services.

The public is invited to an "open house" in the new building, 201-203 S. Pine st., from 3 to 5 p.m. Coffee will be served by the Women's guild.

The building is a tri-level structure. The Pine street level provides 10 classrooms, a nursery and a lounge. There are 4 offices on the Evergreen street level, and 15 classrooms on the second floor.

THE FURNITURE in the lounge is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wettstein Jr., 631 S. State, Arlington Heights; the luminous ceiling in the pastor's office the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newgard, 318 S. Albert, Mt. Prospect; the carpeting in the office the gift of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rusten, 1700 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

The architect is Walter Kroeber of Arlington Heights; general contractor Ray Lantz of Glenview.

MEMBERS OF THE building committee are: Dr. N. M. Nesset, Palatine, chairman; Herbert Sass and Darwin Blix of Arlington Heights; Robert Newgard, Harold Edwall, Roland Becker, Stan Deming, and Clifton Hesness of Mt. Prospect; Dan Borgen of Prospect Heights; Wallace Moen and Roy Mathison of Glenview; Carl Pedersen of Des Plaines.

The new educational building, joined to the church, completes a structural unit covering the length of the block between Pine and Wille streets on Evergreen. This is the fourth phase of the building program of the now 10 year old congregation.

Last year the parsonage on the corner of Pine and Evergreen was moved to a lot at 209 S. Wille st. to make room for the expanded building.

IN 1947 the parsonage and the first unit of the church were constructed. In 1952 the first parish house was built, and is now being used as the residence of the assistant pastor and his wife.

The present church building was completed in the fall of 1954. The congregation now numbers over 1,500 of which more than 850 are communicant members. Over 700 are enrolled in Sunday school. (ACM

Bringing up a husband is no easy job!

Husbands have to be fed three times a day, with pancakes for breakfast, soup for lunch and pie for dinner. Some of them need to be told when to buy a new suit, when to have a physical check up. They need praise when things go right and sympathy when things go wrong. And almost all of them have to be reminded about making plans for retirement.

It's a good thing a husband's love is worth all the trouble he causes.

Retirement is in the future for all of us. And the sooner we start making plans for it, the happier these years can be. Does your husband have a hobby? If not, urge him to develop one. Does he have a retirement savings plan? If not, encourage him to start one. Good health, outside interest, and freedom from financial worries spell happiness in retirement.

One of the best ways to prepare for retirement is to invest regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds. They're as solid as a rock—guaranteed by your Government. They're loss-proof, fire-proof, theft-proof—the Treasury will replace them without charge in case of mishap.

And best of all, U. S. Savings Bonds now pay you higher interest—faster! Every Series E Bond purchased since February 1, 1957, pays you a safe and sure 3-¼% interest when held to maturity. It pays higher interest, too, in the earlier years, and matures in only 8 years and 11 months.

So now, more than ever, it's smart to save with guaranteed-safe U. S. Savings Bonds. Your husband can buy them regularly where he banks or through the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. But just be sure he starts today!

PADDOCK CLASSIC Traveling league had a good night Saturday with Des Plaines hitting over 1,000 twice, and Jeffery turning the trick once . . . High man for the night was Del Metti of Des Plaines with a 245 game and 642 series . . . League presently has 62% of its bowlers over 180 . . . Arlington is on "schedule 1" of Elgin high school's cage slate, with 5 home gates listed on each of 2 schedules . . . Fans can purchase 10 tickets per family on the basis of either 1 for each of the 10 games, or 2 for each of the 5 contests on 1 or the other of the 2 schedules . . . No family can purchase more than this. Christmas tournament Dec. 27 and 28 will include Oak Park, Barrington and York, plus host Elgin.

Babe Ruth's home run record of 714 appears safe . . . Ted Williams has 456, Stan Musial 381 . . . Both may not be back . . . Eddie Mathews has 222, Mickey Mantle 207 . . . Jimmy Foxx hit 534, Mel Ott 511, Lou Gehrig 494 . . . Of 13 teams returning to make bid for state cross country crown Saturday, won by Proviso, 9 had 4-6 runners back from last year . . . Frank Pace, president of international golf association, suggests all public golf courses be cut to 12 holes to encourage more weekend play.

There were 12,000 gun permits given deer hunters for the brief season in Illinois this year.

That 5-10 Roy DeWitz from Barrington has grown to 6-3, but is still the "small" boy at Kansas State where the cagers average 6-6 . . . Illini grid mentor has a proposal to decide football games on number of first downs, not points . . . Illinois has lost the last 2 games to Michigan State and Purdue, but won "the first down parade" by 25-13 and 19-7 margins . . . There will be 192 men and 96 women battling in the all-star kegling tourney at Minneapolis Jan. 10-19.

ANOTHER FOOTBALL season is over at Arlington, the best overall record in years. Cardinals finished in fourth place in the league with a 4-2-1 mark. Locals had that same mark 2 years ago, but finished in a triple tie for second that time. Coach Ormsbee's boys were 5-2-1 overall, and just 5 points away from second in the WSC.

Four more points against LaGrange, plus 1 more point against Downers would have meant 6-1 in the league for second place.

Frosh-sophs, coached by Bill Beckman, ended the season in a blaze of glory with a convincing 32-6 victory at Glenbard. Sophs had other games go "the right way" over the weekend enabling the locals to tie for third. Of help were the 7-2 decision by York over Maine and Downers' 14-13 margin over Hinsdale.

FROSH-SOPH DIVISION has a crucial postponement coming up with LaGrange and York meeting Saturday, Nov. 9. Because WSC rules count tie games as a half game won, plus a half game lost, LaGrange has a chance of moving ahead of Downers for the soph title by whipping York. If York wins LaGrange will remain in second place, and the young Dukes will tie Arlington and Maine in third.

Here are the current "championship standings" with half-credits given for tie games.

Downers	5½	1½
LaGrange	5	1
Arlington	4	3
Maine	4	3
Hinsdale	3½	3½
York	3	3
Glenbard	2	5
R-B	0	7

Varsity tilt between LaGrange and York is also crucial, though the Lions are definitely favored. LaGrange victory would give the Lions a second place tie ahead of Heights in fourth. York upset could mean Arlington third, LaGrange fourth, and York in seventh instead of eighth.

Here's the "championship standings" of the varsity division, with half-credits given for tie games:

Maine	7	0
Hinsdale	5	2
Arlington	4½	2½
LaGrange	4	2
Downers	3	4
R-B	2	5
Glenbard	1	0
York	½	5½

If the WSC had the same rules as pro football, where ties count as cancellations with no bearing whatsoever on team standings, LaGrange would be leading the frosh-soph division with a 4-0 record and Downers would be second with 5-1.

CROSS COUNTRY is about over in the WSC with Heights ending with a 5-2 mark and 10-2 overall. Cardinals, coached by Russ Attis, won the 5 non-league affairs against Glenbrook, Palatine and Elgin. Harriers finished fourth in conference run, and third in the league standings.

At frosh-soph level, with Coach Bob Meissner directing, the locals tied for third in the league with a 4-3 conference mark ,and 4-4 overall. Young Cardinals also finished fourth in conference run.

Thus, all 4 Heights teams in championship divisions of the WSC finished in the first division, and will have 15 points towards the president's cup, the league award signifying "grand champion" of league sports. Here are the points Heights will have in the race for the president's cup, given at the end of the year:

Varsity football	4
Frosh-soph football	3½
Varsity cross-country	3½
Frosh-soph cross-country	4

Final standings for the president's cup for the league at the end of the fall season will be listed here next week.

Lions Win, Cards And Bears Tie

Lions whipped the Packers, 25-7, and Bears and Cards tied, 6-6, in Arlington Heights park district midget football competition Saturday morning.

McKenna led the scoring parade for the Lions. He tallied on a 1-yard plunge the first quarter with Jim Kivi running the point after. He carried 20 yards around left end the second period. He ran 15 yards around the same end the fourth quarter, and repeated, this time 10 yards, shortly after to bring the Lions their 25 points.

Jerry Orgler ran 60 yards around right end for a TD for the Packers, with Greg Bossio running the point after.

DAVE WALLERMAN tossed a pass to Bob Cordaro for the Bears, good for 15 yards and a TD against the Cardinals. That same opening quarter a punt by White with Bob Sielken receiving and scampering 40 yards for the TD.

All midget football equipment is to be turned in at Recreation park at 9 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 9. (Sp

Des Plaines Hits 1040, 2962, Paddock Classic; Jeffery 1037

Des Plaines Bowling Lanes proved the masters of Hi-Way Recreation of Palatine Saturday night in Paddock Classic Traveling league when "the city slickers" pummelled the pins for a 2962 series, with games of 1040, 1014 and 908, taking over first place by 1½ games. Del Metti led the victors with a 642 series. Harry Clinton hit 613. Irv Hahnfeldt led the losers with 575, but the rest of his squad tumbled.

Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling drubbed Beverly of Arlington twice, hitting 962 and 1037 for a 2910 series. Tony Felker totalled 622 with Bill Harris garnering 601 for the winners with Dick Bokelmann leading the losers with 596. Victor Electric played a poor host to Barrington Ten Pin at Gunnell's, winning 2 games, but there were no 600's for the 10 men.

TOP AVERAGES of the keglers suffered a bit, though there are still 4 men in the 190 group. There are 20 more in the 180 bracket.

This week Beverly will meet Victor Electric at Gunnell's, Des Plaines will travel to Ten Pin at Barrington, and Jeffery of Wheeling will play host to Hi-Way of Palatine.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

LAST WEEKEND high school football in the Chicago suburban area, for all practical purposes, came to an end. The new Tri-County conference is the only league having any remaining games and the Fenton at North Chicago tilt Saturday will have no bearing on the conference championship laready clinched by the North Chicago Warhawks. North Chicago has a 4-0 league record and the only loss this season has been to Marmion Military Academy of Aurora the week the flu hit the team.

Results were just as expected last weekend. Waukegan, Evanston, and New Trier all beat lesser opponents and tied with 6-1 records for the Suburban League title. Maine Township finished undefeated in the West Suburban and Bloom copped the South Suburban. Rich Township was unbeaten in the Southwest Suburban. Grayslake and Barrington each suffered one tie but no losses as they won the Northwest Suburban and the North Suburban championships.

GRAYSLAKE'S first football championship was won Saturday as they set a Northwest conference record by swamping Antioch 65-0. This was against a team which the coaches of the league had figured as a possible champ. This column picked Grayslake and Lake Forest who finished 1-2. Big surprise of the season was the 5-2 record of Grant's undermanned outfit with Coach Paul Lewis leading the Bulldogs to a tie for second place. Ela-Vernon's 3-4 record was climaxed by a final 25-18 victory over Lake Forest and further proof of the coaching skill of Bill Lehmann who, regardless of material, always has a tough team.

Without taking anything away from the fine job done by Pat Rooney in directing a champ team at Grayslake, we are inclined to name Paul Lewis of Grant as the coach of the year in football in the Northwest conference.

Barrington's great competitive winning spirit enabled them to win their second North Suburban championship in a row undefeated. The Bronchos suffered a tie with Zion-Benton but knocked off the rest of their league opponents including Crystal Lake who held the upper hand 25-6 at half time in the game which the Brinchos copped 33-25.

PALATINE HAD FLU at the wrong time and did not have a chance to win the Tri-County title but handed Barrington and Grayslake the only defeats those two clubs suffered this past season which is quite a tribute to the quality of play and competitive spirit of the team coached by Charley Feutz. That 26-14 win over Barrington is the only game lost by the Bronchos in 2 seasons.

North Chicago and their speedy backs and ends have gained momentum as the season has progressed. Last Saturday's 61-2 debacle at Lake Park is evidence enough. With a 4-0 league record the Warhawks are expected to mow down Fenton much as they have the others. Nine North Chicago backs and ends have broken into the scoring column to date in all games, with Ed Hodnik having 47 and colored speedster, Jim Jones, 40.

Ron Stanczak, in his third year as varsity quarterback, has thrown 48 passes with 23 completed for 420 yards. Jim Jones has averaged 7.9 yards a carry in 70 attempts for a total of 559 yards from scrimmage.

A total of 12 players have seen backfield action. Curtis Patterson has the best average of 9.8 yards a carry in 11 tries. Coach Tom Parker considered this a building year for North Chicago but his team came along faster than expected. North Chicago's edge was on team speed and fine reserves.

Heights Frosh-Sophs End Year With 28-6 Victory

Arlington's fresh-soph 11 scored once in each quarter Saturday afternoon to hand Glenbard a 28-6 setback at Glen Ellyn. The victory closed out the season for the locals, who won 5 of 8 contests.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE affair included a first quarter 58 yard dash to the end zone by fullback Bruce Fichte, a 29 yard run by halfback Mike Dundy in the second quarter, a 53 yard gallop by Dundy in the third quarter, and the passing of Gene Dahlquist.

Dahlquist, working in place of the injured George Bork, went to the air 6 times and came up with 4 completions and a net gain of 75 yards. His 10 yard flip to Carl Massa provided the winners with their final tally in the fourth quarter.

SUPERB DEFENSIVE play was turned in by Mike Dundy and Danny Striegel, who seemed to take turns tackling the opposition. Striegel led the Birdie forward wall which held the losers to only 48 yards on the ground, an average of 12 yards per quarter.

Glenbard's only score came in the third canto, when a 15 yard penalty helped the boys from the hill put together a 4 yard march. Halfback Becker did the scoring on a one yard plunge.

The Arlington offense showed 197 yards gained on the ground and a net of 272, compared to Glenbard's 73.

The winners were penalized 65 yards while Glenbard lost only 5 yards to the officiating.

Striegel's toe converted on each of the 4 scoring occasions. (Sp

WELL PLEASED—that was the satisfaction of varsity grid coach 'Bus' Ormsbee this week as he looked back over the season just completed. "If future teams continue to show as much competitive spirit Arlington should eventually reach the top and be able to defeat the 2 schools we've never been able to trounce, Maine and LaGrange," stated Ormsbee. "The coaches thank the fans for coming out to the games, and supporting the teams.

"That support was a big factor in our boys winning as many games as they did at both varsity and soph levels.

"Loss of Dave Buren and the flu possibly cost Heights 1 or 2 victories, but champion Maine was beyond a doubt the best team in the league. Maine had a wealth of material and combined good coaching with this material to win."

WITH PHEASANT SEASON opening up in Illinois, November 11, at noon, literally thousands of hunters are now planning to be at the good spots before someone beats them to it. From sample reports of directors of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's clubs, this year's crop of pheasants should exceed all previous records. Even the California pheasants just introduced in several southern Illinois locations have produced good broods this year.

The only places in the pheasant range that report poor production are those lowland areas flooded out last spring by heavy rains.

Farmers finishing up their corn fields are reporting large concentrations of pheasants flying out of the last rows of corn. In east central Illinois several have reported flocks of 50 or more in one spot. When corn and beans are completely harvested, it is likely these large flocks will be scattered, seeking cover to replace the dense corn stands now flattened by the picker. It's probably a good thing that these high concentrations are broken up before the shooting begins as it will save many birds for next year's production.

BOWLERS and the bowling industry of the Chicago area will conduct a fourth annual campaign Nov. 11 through 17 to raise scholarship funds to send blind children to regular nursery schools. The week-long drive will take place in some 350 lanes of Chicago and suburbs under the auspices fo the Chicago Bowling Council and co-operating groups.

All proceeds from the drive will go into the nursery school scholarship fund sponsored by Parents of the Blind, Inc., to send blind youngsters to regular nursery schools for normal contact with the sighted at an early age.

Containers for contributions will circulate among league bowlers at regular game periods during the week and will be available to other contributors throughout the seven days and nights of the drive. Through bowlers' past contributions, no blind child in the area is now being deprived of the nursery school experience for financial reasons. Every cent contributed by bowlers will be spent for the benefit of blind youngsters.

Cardinals Trounce Glenbard

A hot and cold team all year, Arlington's Cardinals and one of their warmer days Saturday as they smashed Glenbard's Hilltoppers, 32-6, at Glen Ellyn.

A DRIZZLING rain failed to lower the Cards' temperature as the locals completed their best season, record-wise, in many years. The victory gave Arlington a record of 5-2-1 for the year and 4-2-1 in the WSC.

Stout line play and brilliant running by Howie Berg and Bob Mors clinched the victory early in the game. It was a joyous finish for 14 senior letter winners.

MORS, THE CARDS' leading scorer this season, registered his eighth and ninth touchdowns, one coming on a 72 punt return in the first quarter. Mob Blocking along the sidelines cut Mors loose for the tally, Arlington's first, with 8 minutes of the game elapsed.

The senior halfback's second TD came in the opening seconds of the fourth period on a 6-yard spurt off tackle.

HOWIE BERG also contributed 12 points to the slaughter. The senior speedster had scoring gallops of 58 and 15 yards, finishing as Arlington's leading groundgainer.

Fullback Dennis Thill's 1 yard plunge in the second stanza gave the winners their other score in the second quarter.

THE RED and White defense held the weak Hilltoppers to only 85 yards gained on the ground and a net of 153. The losers' only tally came on a 60-yard pass play from quarterback Gelherr to end Tommy Thomson. The scoring aerial came in the third quarter after the Birds had gained a comfortable 20-0 lead.

The locals' devastating statistics showed 263 yards gained on the ground and 77 in the air for a net of 330. It did not show, however, the fine work on kick returns, of which Mors' 72-yard scamper was only a part.

Some fine, hard running by senior Ed Schumacher, a halfback who played some good football late in the season, set up Arlington's third touchdown.

THE CARDS offset 5 pass interceptions by recovering 5 Glenbard fumbles. The Hilltopper miscues not only evidenced the slippery conditions under which the game was played, but also the hard tackling by Redbird linemen. Surprisingly, Cardinal backs managed to handle the ball, despite the fact that mud and water required the constant attention of the officials' towel.

The winners were assessed 40 yards in penalties compared to the Hilltoppers' 12. Glenbard managed only 7 first downs while surrendering 15. (Sp

by G. A. McELROY

LAST WEEKEND high school football in the Chicago suburban area, for all practical purposes, came to an end. The new Tri-County conference is the only league having any remaining games and the Fenton at North Chicago tilt Saturday will have no bearing on the conference championship laready clinched by the North Chicago Warhawks. North Chicago has a 4-0 league record and the only loss this season has been to Marmion Military Academy of Aurora the week the flu hit the team.

Results were just as expected last weekend. Waukegan, Evanston, and New Trier all beat lesser opponents and tied with 6-1 records for the Suburban League title. Maine Township finished undefeated in the West Suburban and Bloom copped the South Suburban. Rich Township was unbeaten in the Southwest Suburban. Grayslake and Barrington each suffered one tie but no losses as they won the Northwest Suburban and the North Suburban championships.

GRAYSLAKE'S first football championship was won Saturday as they set a Northwest conference record by swamping Antioch 65-0. This was against a team which the coaches of the league had figured as a possible champ. This column picked Grayslake and Lake Forest who finished 1-2. Big surprise of the season was the 5-2 record of Grant's undermanned outfit with Coach Paul Lewis leading the Bulldogs to a tie for second place. Ela-Vernon's 3-4 record was climaxed by a final 25-18 victory over Lake Forest and further proof of the coaching skill of Bill Lehmann who, regardless of material, always has a tough team.

Without taking anything away from the fine job done by Pat Rooney in directing a champ team at Grayslake, we are inclined to name Paul Lewis of Grant as the coach of the year in football in the Northwest conference.

Barrington's great competitive winning spirit enabled them to win their second North Suburban championship in a row undefeated. The Bronchos suffered a tie with Zion-Benton but knocked off the rest of their league opponents including Crystal Lake who held the upper hand 25-6 at half time in the game which the Brinchos copped 33-25.

PALATINE HAD FLU at the wrong time and did not have a chance to win the Tri-County title but handed Barrington and Grayslake the only defeats those two clubs suffered this past season which is quite a tribute to the quality of play and competitive spirit of the team coached by Charley Feutz. That 26-14 win over Barrington is the only game lost by the Bronchos in 2 seasons.

North Chicago and their speedy backs and ends have gained momentum as the season has progressed. Last Saturday's 61-2 debacle at Lake Park is evidence enough. With a 4-0 league record the Warhawks are expected to mow down Fenton much as they have the others. Nine North Chicago backs and ends have broken into the scoring column to date in all games, with Ed Hodnik having 47 and colored speedster, Jim Jones, 40.

Ron Stanczak, in his third year as varsity quarterback, has thrown 48 passes with 23 completed for 420 yards. Jim Jones has averaged 7.9 yards a carry in 70 attempts for a total of 559 yards from scrimmage.

A total of 12 players have seen backfield action. Curtis Patterson has the best average of 9.8 yards a carry in 11 tries. Coach Tom Parker considered this a building year for North Chicago but his team came along faster than expected. North Chicago's edge was on team speed and fine reserves.

Heights Frosh-Sophs End Year With 28-6 Victory

Arlington's fresh-soph 11 scored once in each quarter Saturday afternoon to hand Glenbard a 28-6 setback at Glen Ellyn. The victory closed out the season for the locals, who won 5 of 8 contests.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE affair included a first quarter 58 yard dash to the end zone by fullback Bruce Fichte, a 29 yard run by halfback Mike Dundy in the second quarter, a 53 yard gallop by Dundy in the third quarter, and the passing of Gene Dahlquist.

Dahlquist, working in place of the injured George Bork, went to the air 6 times and came up with 4 completions and a net gain of 75 yards. His 10 yard flip to Carl Massa provided the winners with their final tally in the fourth quarter.

SUPERB DEFENSIVE play was turned in by Mike Dundy and Danny Striegel, who seemed to take turns tackling the opposition. Striegel led the Birdie forward wall which held the losers to only 48 yards on the ground, an average of 12 yards per quarter.

Glenbard's only score came in the third canto, when a 15 yard penalty helped the boys from the hill put together a 4 yard march. Halfback Becker did the scoring on a one yard plunge.

The Arlington offense showed 197 yards gained on the ground and a net of 272, compared to Glenbard's 73.

The winners were penalized 65 yards while Glenbard lost only 5 yards to the officiating.

Striegel's toe converted on each of the 4 scoring occasions. (Sp

WELL PLEASED—that was the satisfaction of varsity grid coach 'Bus' Ormsbee this week as he looked back over the season just completed. "If future teams continue to show as much competitive spirit Arlington should eventually reach the top and be able to defeat the 2 schools we've never been able to trounce, Maine and LaGrange," stated Ormsbee. "The coaches thank the fans for coming out to the games, and supporting the teams.

"That support was a big factor in our boys winning as many games as they did at both varsity and soph levels.

"Loss of Dave Buren and the flu possibly cost Heights 1 or 2 victories, but champion Maine was beyond a doubt the best team in the league. Maine had a wealth of material and combined good coaching with this material to win."

WITH PHEASANT SEASON opening up in Illinois, November 11, at noon, literally thousands of hunters are now planning to be at the good spots before someone beats them to it. From sample reports of directors of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's clubs, this year's crop of pheasants should exceed all previous records. Even the California pheasants just introduced in several southern Illinois locations have produced good broods this year.

The only places in the pheasant range that report poor production are those lowland areas flooded out last spring by heavy rains.

Farmers finishing up their corn fields are reporting large concentrations of pheasants flying out of the last rows of corn. In east central Illinois several have reported flocks of 50 or more in one spot. When corn and beans are completely harvested, it is likely these large flocks will be scattered, seeking cover to replace the dense corn stands now flattened by the picker. It's probably a good thing that these high concentrations are broken up before the shooting begins as it will save many birds for next year's production.

The late "One Play" McCarty, who lived in Arlington Heights, gained mention in metropolitan press Sunday when a feature article dealt with the toughest game Red Grange ever played.

Usually Grange was used as safety, with the coaches saving him from as much rough contact as possible.

In this particular game against Amos Alonzo Stagg and the U. of Chicago, however, the midway gridders weren't awed by Grange, and opened the game with such fire he went the entire route until leaving the field the middle of the second half for rest . . . BOWLERS and the bowling industry of the Chicago area will conduct a fourth annual campaign Nov. 11 through 17 to raise scholarship funds to send blind children to regular nursery schools. The week-long drive will take place in some 350 lanes of Chicago and suburbs under the auspices fo the Chicago Bowling Council and co-operating groups.

All proceeds from the drive will go into the nursery school scholarship fund sponsored by Parents of the Blind, Inc., to send blind youngsters to regular nursery schools for normal contact with the sighted at an early age.

Containers for contributions will circulate among league bowlers at regular game periods during the week and will be available to other contributors throughout the seven days and nights of the drive. Through bowlers' past contributions, no blind child in the area is now being deprived of the nursery school experience for financial reasons. Every cent contributed by bowlers will be spent for the benefit of blind youngsters.

Cardinals Trounce Glenbard

A hot and cold team all year, Arlington's Cardinals and one of their warmer days Saturday as they smashed Glenbard's Hilltoppers, 32-6, at Glen Ellyn.

A DRIZZLING rain failed to lower the Cards' temperature as the locals completed their best season, record-wise, in many years. The victory gave Arlington a record of 5-2-1 for the year and 4-2-1 in the WSC.

Stout line play and brilliant running by Howie Berg and Bob Mors clinched the victory early in the game. It was a joyous finish for 14 senior letter winners.

MORS, THE CARDS' leading scorer this season, registered his eighth and ninth touchdowns, one coming on a 72 punt return in the first quarter. Mob Blocking along the sidelines cut Mors loose for the tally, Arlington's first, with 8 minutes of the game elapsed.

The senior halfback's second TD came in the opening seconds of the fourth period on a 6-yard spurt off tackle.

HOWIE BERG also contributed 12 points to the slaughter. The senior speedster had scoring gallops of 58 and 15 yards, finishing as Arlington's leading ground-gainer.

Fullback Dennis Thill's 1 yard plunge in the second stanza gave the winners their other score in the second quarter.

THE RED and White defense held the weak Hilltoppers to only 85 yards gained on the ground and a net of 153. The losers' only tally came on a 60-yard pass play from quarterback Gelherr to end Tommy Thomson. The scoring aerial came in the third quarter after the Birds had gained a comfortable 20-0 lead.

The locals' devastating statistics showed 263 yards gained on the ground and 77 in the air for a net of 330. It did not show, however, the fine work on kick returns, of which Mors' 72-yard scamper was only a part.

Some fine, hard running by senior Ed Schumacher, a halfback who played some good football late in the season, set up Arlington's third touchdown.

THE CARDS offset 5 pass interceptions by recovering 5 Glenbard fumbles. The Hilltopper miscues not only evidenced the slippery conditions under which the game was played, but also the hard tackling by Redbird linemen. Surprisingly, Cardinal backs managed to handle the ball, despite the fact that mud and water required the constant attention of the officials' towel.

The winners were assessed 40 yards in penalties compared to the Hilltoppers' 12. Glenbard managed only 7 first downs while surrendering 15. (Sp

Purdue Points For Ohio State

Purdue's rebounding football squad, back on even terms in both Big Ten and season standings as a result of three successive victories, tackles its toughest assignment of the year as it faces Ohio State's undisputed conference leaders at Columbus Saturday in a spotlight encounter that will be regionally televised.

Main target of a stout Boilermaker forward wall spearheaded by the jarring tackles of Co-captian and center Neil Habig and left tackle Nick Mumley will be Don Clark, brilliant breakaway Buckeye halfback who is bidding for Big Ten honors in both rushing and total offense.

PROVIDING John Jardine aggressive right guard, recovers from an ankle sprain suffered against Illinois, Mollenkophf plans on starting the same forward wall that has carried the main burden for the past two weeks.

Good Wingman

Blackhawks Hope To Rebound Against Rangers Sunday Aft.

The unhappy Black Hawks whose 4-game undefeated skein on Stadium ice was rudely halted by the New York Rangers Sunday night went back to work Tuesday on the Stadium pond readying themselves for their impending doubleheader at the west side arena this weekend which gives them another crack at their old nemesis, the New York Rangers Saturday afternoon in a nationally televised contest to be followed by an encounter with the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night.

National Hockey League scoring statistics show the Montreal Canadiens dominating in every category except shutouts by goaltenders, with the Black Hawks' Glenn Hall leading in that department with 3.

In the individual scoring race Canadiens hold the 4 top spots with Henri "Pocket Rocket" in front followed by brother Maurice, the Rocket, then Jean Beliveau and Dickie Moore.

The Hawks' top marksman is Ed Litzenberger with 5 goals and 3 assists for 8 points and a tie for 13th place in the race. (Sp

Guests of VFW Post

Varsity gridders, varsity cheerleaders and coaches were dinner guests of Arlington VFW post Wednesday night of last week, with roast beef and baked ham leading the honors.

Movies of last year's Northwestern-Purdue game were shown after the youths had filled themselves with food. Group was addressed by VFW commander Bill Luettschwager. Youth chairman of the VFW is Bill Beckman, froshsoph grid mentor at Arlington.

Local VFW post will announce its annual most valuable player award soon, going to the boy selected by his teammates. (Sp

Wildcats Hope for Victory In Home Final vs. Wisconsin

Northwestern's hard-bitten Wildcats, still looking for their first win of the 1957 season, will wind up their home schedule against Wisconsin's improved Badgers at Dyche stadium Saturday, Nov. 9.

It was against these same Badgers that the Wildcats won their first conference game last season by a score of 17 to 7. The win over Wisconsin was followed by two more victories over Purdue and Illinois, and the Wildcats would be agreeable to seeing history repeat itself.

The Wildcats approach their home finale in a far from hearty physical condition after submitting to Ohio State's steam-roller attack last week by a score of 47 to 6.

SEVERAL PLAYERS emerged from the game with newly-acquired injuries that will probably limit their activity against the Badgers. Ben Napolski, veteran tackle, sustained a shoulder injury that may keep him out of action this week.

On the credit side, the Wildcats hope to regain the services of Bert Fredrick, quarterback, who did not compete against Ohio State due to a knee injury sustained in practice a week ago. His return would bolster Northwestern's shaky defense that proved vulnerable to Ohio State's running and passing attack.

OHIO STATE game also saw Quarterback Chip Holcomb come up with his best passing performance of the year. The rangy sophomore, who played the entire second half, completed 10 out of 17 passes for 125 yards. He now possesses a mark of 21 completions in 50 attempts for 223 yards or the season.

Holcomb's accurate passing against Ohio State will boost Northwestern's aerial attack against Wisconsin, since the Wildcats now possess two effective passers. Sharing the quarterback assignment is John Talley, who has completed 28 passes out of 55 attempts for 247 yards this season. (Sp

'Comes of Age' In Miami Defensive Win

Doug Hildebrandt of Palatine came of age as a University of Miami football player with a tremendous defensive effort in the Hurricane 13-7 win over hopped up Villanova. The Hurricanes were crippled by the fact that John Varone, top offensive ball carrier and Harry Deiderich, slated to start at fullback, both missed the game.

With the pressure on defense, Hildebrandt came through with five tackles and three assists, many of them at key moments.

IN THE OPENING moments when a fumble gave Villanova the ball deep in Miami territory, he came up with a beautiful tackle on the Miami eight when Capt. Billy Magee broke loose around end and was racing toward the end zone.

On the final play of the first half, after Villanova had penetrated to the Miami eight, the Wildcats called for another pass to score but Doug sailed through the protectors and dropped Magee for a 13 yard loss as the half ended.

IN THE THIRD period, the Wildcats moved into Miami territory and called for a sweep around Hildebrant's end but Hild dropped Billy pass for a nine yard loss.

Villanova was held to 90 yards net on the ground, largely through Hildebrandt's fine play.

Purdue Points For Ohio State

Purdue's rebounding football squad, back on even terms in both Big Ten and season standings as a result of three successive victories, tackles its toughest assignment of the year as it faces Ohio State's undisputed conference leaders at Columbus Saturday in a spotlight encounter that will be regionally televised.

Main target of a stout Boilermaker forward wall spearheaded by the jarring tackles of Co-captian and center Neil Habig and left tackle Nick Mumley will be Don Clark, brilliant breakaway Buckeye halfback who is bidding for Big Ten honors in both rushing and total offense.

PROVIDING John Jardine aggressive right guard, recovers from an ankle sprain suffered against Illinois, Mollenkophf plans on starting the same forward wall that has carried the main burden for the past two weeks.

Good Wingman

Blackhawks Hope To Rebound Against Rangers Sunday Aft.

The unhappy Black Hawks whose 4-game undefeated skein on Stadium ice was rudely halted by the New York Rangers Sunday night went back to work Tuesday on the Stadium pond readying themselves for their impending doubleheader at the west side arena this weekend which gives them another crack at their old nemesis, the New York Rangers Saturday afternoon in a nationally televised contest to be followed by an encounter with the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night.

National Hockey League scoring statistics show the Montreal Canadiens dominating in every category except shutouts by goaltenders, with the Black Hawks' Glenn Hall leading in that department with 3.

In the individual scoring race Canadiens hold the 4 top spots with Henri "Pocket Rocket" in front followed by brother Maurice, the Rocket, then Jean Beliveau and Dickie Moore.

The Hawks' top marksman is Ed Litzenberger with 5 goals and 3 assists for 8 points and a tie for 13th place in the race. (Sp

Guests of VFW Post

Varsity gridders, varsity cheerleaders and coaches were dinner guests of Arlington VFW post Wednesday night of last week, with roast beef and baked ham leading the honors.

Movies of last year's Northwestern-Purdue game were shown after the youths had filled themselves with food. Group was addressed by VFW commander Bill Luettschwager. Youth chairman of the VFW is Bill Beckman, froshsoph grid mentor at Arlington.

Local VFW post will announce its annual most valuable player award soon, going to the boy selected by his teammates. (Sp

Manpower, Fundamentals, Good Coaching Led Maine to Title

by HERB CARL

There was quite a celebration at Maine Monday afternoon. A happy, cheering student-body was honoring its new football champs of the West Suburban conference and their coach, Kenny Olson. This was the first out-right championship for Maine in 19 years. It was bound to happen sooner or later, and this was Maine's big year!

Under the leadership of coach Ken Olson, the Blue Demons have been strong in football for many years. Olson, former Bradley U. star and member of Bradley's Hall of Fame, took over as varsity coach in 1946 and his record since that time has been outstanding.

IN 11 SEASONS, Olson teams won 93, lost 24 and tied 2. There was one championship (1957), 2 co-champs (1946 and '56), and 6 second place finishes in WSC competition. The poorest Maine record during those 11 years was a 4th place finish.

This year's Maine team was made up of a bunch of boys their fans had been watching 4 years. As freshmen they were undefeated. Again, as sophomores, they were unbeaten. As juniors they were conference co-champs and lost only 1 game. As seniors, they lost their opener to Evanston, (playing without their star back, Vic Pagel, who is now making a strong bid for All-State recognition) then won 7 in a row. So, in 4 years of high school competition, this year's team lost only 2 games.

OLSON HAS loads of praise for Pagel, and says he is the best back Ken ever coached. Pagel has many accomplishments, among them the scoring championship in WSC the past 2 years. He is a deceptive, hard-running back and will be much sought after by college coaches after his graduation. Coach Olson has turned out 7 All-Staters during his brief coaching career!

Olson is a strong advocate of the single wing and has always taught it at Maine. "The kids like it," he says. "We sell them on it right from the start. They know they have to block to make it work, but they also know that if they do block, we'll get our yardage."

THE TREND to the "T" formation, and the split-T hasn't worried Maine at all. "In fact," stated Olson, "the more teams that shift to the split-T, the better we like it." Other teams aren't used to playing against the single-wing, and he feels the team using it has a slight advantage right off the bat.

We've heard of coaches being criticized for not stressing enough fundamentals, but Olson says he has occasionally been accused of spending too much time teaching fundamentals. Maine coaches stress blocking, and from 45 minutes to an hour a day is spent in practice of blocking and tackling. The results of this coaching theory speak for themselves.

WHAT DID Olson think of this year's Arlington team? "The best you've had since being in the conference." Names he mentioned in the line were Weber, Rose, Wille and Creviston. He was particularly impressed with the work of Tom Grey at quarterback.

"With 2 speedy backs in Mors and Berg, Grey really made the offense click." Olson says that Maine is always "up" for the Arlington game, and that was particularly true this year. After the win over the Cardinals, he found it a little harder to keep his team "up" for each succeeding game.

THE OBVIOUS question came up—how does high school football today compare with that of Olson's high school days in the late 30's? "It's a much more wide open game today. Rules changes have helped the game then, too, we have better facilities, better officiating and coaching, higher health standards than in years gone by." Olson doesn't agree kids are softer today, either. "If anything, I think they're a little tougher," he observes. "They also have better equipment and are better conditioned."

How does it look for Maine's football prospects next year? Graduation is taking a heavy toll on the squad, but Olson is not singing the blues. He thinks Maine will be in pretty fair shape at tackles, at center,, and in the backfield. The big question mark will be at guard and at end, and he is looking for this year's sophomore team to give them some help at these spots.

Outstanding Match to Open New Sportsman's Alleys

The middlewest's newest bowling establishment and one of America's most powerful bowling squads will combine talents for a grand opening celebration at Sportsman's country club Saturday evening, Nov. 9, when the great Hamm's beer team of Chicago appears in a special match to signalize the opening of Sportsman's 16-alley bowling room.

Sportsman's C.C., located on Dundee rd., between Wheeling and Northbrook, is believed to be the first daily fee golf club in America to enter the bowling field, thus assuring its patrons of year-around recreational facilities. The club's new 16-alley room is furnished with the latest in automatic equipment and the finest of other facilities.

HAMM'S BEER team is a fitting group to occupy the spotlight at such a grand opening. It is the only team in the world to include 2 members of the Hall of Fame (Joe Wilman and Joe Norris).

Hamm's has won the Chicago classic league championship for 4 consecutive years. The team won the 1954 American Bowling Congress championship with a 3-game total of 3,226, second highest score in ABC history.

On Saturday, in a match scheduled for 9 p.m., which will be open free to the public, Hamm's will oppose a northwest suburban all-star lineup.

ON THE HAMM'S team are 7 great, proven stars of bowling. Wilman, anchor man and veteran of the team, has won the national individual and national doubles match game championships. He was the second man in history to win 4 ABC championships. He has won practically every major championship available in team, singles, doubles and all-events competitions in America.

Norris, Hamm's other Hall of Famer, has won more than 150 major competitions, including the Chicago all-events title of 1956, the Central States singles of the same year, and a total of 17 national Knights of Columbus titles. He is the only man ever named for eight consecutive years to the All-American team.

OTHERS on the Hamm's squad include the following:

Fred Fikes, present Illinois state all-events champion.

Chuck Wagner, 1956 runnerup for the Chicago individual match game championship and present individual leader of the travelling division of the Classic league.

Don Ellis, 1957 individual classic league scoring champion and 1955 Peterson Classic winner.

Frank Celebre, spectacular Kenosha star whose 824 series last season was fourth highest in America.

JUST DOGS

A Dalmatian, snapped as he soars gracefully through the air, won for Glen Fishback of Sacramento, Calif., the top prize of $500 in the Gaines Dog Research center's 1957 photo contest, it is announced.

Second prize of $250 went to Hobart C. Fash Sr., San Lorenzo, Calif., for his shadow-and-light study of a boy and his Collie, while the third prize of $100 was awarded to Lawrence I. George, Indianapolis, Ind., for an appealing shot of a mischievous Boxer pup caught with some Christmas tree ornatments.

In awarding the prizes, human appeal as well as photographic quality were taken into consideration by the 3 judges; Jacob Deschin, camera editor of the New York Times; Ralph Miller, camera editor of the New York World-Telegram and Sun; and Walter Chandoha, well known animal photographer.

What's in a Name

There are trends in dogs' names just as there are trends in the naming of people. Good old names like Rover, Fido, Rags, Bowser and Towser have practically disappeared, and in their place we have Skippy, Lucky, Butch, Queenie, Lady, Lassie Trixie and Duchess as most popular.

A study of the records of New York City's ASPCA license department revealed that about 25 per cent of dog names reflected the dog's color or markings, such as Brownie, Blackie, Ginger. There are plenty of plain Juliuses, Hermans, Annies and Lindas. There are a lot of Princes, Countesses and Kings and other "notable" names, with Rex, the Latin equivalent of King, very much in vogue for Boxers and German Shepherds. Currently fashionable for Boxers, Dachshunds and Doberman Pinschers are German names, "Fritz of the Ritz,' 'and the like. As might be expected, Poodles have the fanciest names "Pierre de Martinique' 'as an example.

Hunting Dog Required

Friends of your editor recently returned from a hunting trip in South Dakota. The results of their trip were quite successful, and were due in no small way to the fact that they had 2 good hunting dogs with them.

Many a hunter has found that to tramp hour after hour through fields and forest when hunting various types of game birds, and/or rabbits for that matter, without the use of a dog, can be rather discouraging. Your editor has always advocated the use of dogs on hunting trips, not only from the standpoint of finding game more quickly, but also in the matter of retrieving wounded birds or animals, which from the humane standpoint should be accomplished.

The use of dogs in hunting large game has more than once been demonstrated to be highly desired, and, as a matter of fact, a necessary requirement. In mountain areas where game such as lions and bears are hunted, the use of dogs trained for the work is an absolute necessity. The use of hounds for fox hunting has long been recognized, as also their use in hunting the elusive "coon." Many hunters have reported that there is nothing quite as exasperating as to try to tree a coon without a dog trained for the work, and in fact, it is well nigh impossible.

This column has often mentioned that training should begin early in the season in order that the desired result can be accomplished. And by the same token, a dog should be trained while young in order that the owner may take full advantage of the dog becoming more experienced as the years progress.

Barks and Bays

Science has found that the cells of a dog's body renew themselves 100 per cent in 6 months. (Sp

Hunting Laws For Year Told

The hunting season is with us once more, and farmers are wondering about their legal rights in this area. A better understanding of these legal rights by both farmers and hunters will help make 1957 a year of pleasant hunting for all concerned.

By law, game belongs to the State of Illinois and not to the owner of the land on which it reproduces. However, this does not mean that the people of the state have the right to go on any land they choose and hunt game. In fact, the contrary is true — the farmer in possession of the land is the one to decide who shall be given the privilege of hunting on his land. The laws of Illinois provide that it is a criminal offense for a person to hunt on land without first getting permission.

Some hunters have the mistaken impression that, if they get permission to hunt from the owner of rental land, it makes no difference if the tenant objects. This impression is wrong. Unless the lease says otherwise, the tenant, being in possession of the farm, is the only one who can give permission to hunt. The landlord, by renting the land, has given up his right to grant hunting privileges.

It is not necessary to put "No Hunting" signs on farm property in order to prevent unauthorized hunting. In addition to the criminal offense of hunting without permission, a trespassing hunter may be held liable for any damages he causes on the land, be it to crops, livestock or otherwise.

Card Harriers Trim Glenbard And Downers

Arlington's cross country team won its final 2 matches of the year, defeating Glenbard 22-33 and disposing of Downers Grove 23-37. Frosh-sophs lost to Glenbard 20-40 but downed Downers 21-37.

Ken Courter won first for Coach Russ Attis against Glenbard, with Ron Marks placing 3rd, Alan Hutchinson 4th and Bob Taggart 5th. Bill Dodge finished 9th. For the losers it was Hollinger 2nd, Tichy 6th, Jordan 7th, Pond 8th and Kopp 10th.

Larson finished in first for Downers against Heights Monday, but the Cardinals copped 6 of the next 7 places. It was Courter 2nd, Taggart 3rd, Hutchinson 5th, Dodge 6th, Knoepfle 7th and Puedke 8th. For Downers it was Baer 4th, Lieb 9th, Erickson 11th and Schoenberg 12th.

CARD FROSH-SOPH dropped a 20-40 decision to Glenbard with Dave Palmer finishing 4th for Coach Bob Meissner, Chuck Phelan 5th, Mike Field 7th, Bob Johnson 10th and Ken Anderson 14th.

The 21-37 victory over Downers Monday was a different story. It was Phelan 1st, Palmer 3rd, Field 4th, Johnson 6th and John Newhard 7th. For Downers it was Miller 2nd, Mitchell 5th, Burger 8th, Maxson 10th and Ireland 12th. (Sp

Michigan Abandons Single Wing for Battle at Illinois

Michigan has almost entirely abandoned its old single wing and spinner offense for the T-formation, reports Illinois line coach Burt Ingwersen, who scouted the Wolverines in their last three games. He says that Michigan used only one single wing play at Minnesoto two weeks ago, and didn't run from that formation at all against Iowa last Saturday.

The veteran Illini mentor also reported that Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan has two fine quarterbacks who throw exceptionally well in Jim VanPelt and Stan Noskin. VanPelt currently holds first-team status because of an edge in experience and ball-handling ability.

FURTHER bad news was provided by Ingwersen's report that the Wolverines' John Herrnstein played frequently against the Hawkeyes and apparently will be ready for full-time duty this week. Herrnstein was outstanding on defense Saturday, but didn't run as well as he did before he was hurt, Ingwersen said.

Ingwersen rates the Wolverines' Jim Pace as the finest running halfback in the Big Ten this year. Pace had a 69-yard punt return against Iowa. The other starting halfback, Brad Myers, also has good speed and will pose a constant threat.

DAVE BOWERS, an outstanding receiver, has been injured, but VanPelt and Noskin still have fine ends in Gary Prahst and Walt Johnson.

While the Wolverine line does not boast any particularly outstanding performers, Ingwersen believes it is a well-balanced forward wall with many top-flight Big Ten forwards. Jim Orwig, the captain and left tackle, is most spectacular of the linemen.

Oosterbaan, in keeping with the trend in the Western Conference this year, frequently substitutes entire units, and Ingwersen reports that the Wolverines have good depth at most positions.

Wildlife Refuge North of Palatine

A 101-acre farm north of Palatine on route 53 has been designated as a state wildlife refuge. The farm, on the west side of route 53 a quarter-mile north of the Lake-Cook county line, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holleck.

"No Hunting" signs have been posted on the farm, which is about half farmland and half wood and brush land. Mrs. Holleck said that a pond is being dug on the farm.

"We gain a great deal of pleasure from our wildlife and hope to preserve it," she noted, adding that pheasant, raccoon, woodchuck and 'possum abound.

Manpower, Fundamentals, Good Coaching Led Maine to Title

by HERB CARL

There was quite a celebration at Maine Monday afternoon. A happy, cheering student-body was honoring its new football champs of the West Suburban conference and their coach, Kenny Olson. This was the first out-right championship for Maine in 19 years. It was bound to happen sooner or later, and this was Maine's big year!

Under the leadership of coach Ken Olson, the Blue Demons have been strong in football for many years. Olson, former Bradley U. star and member of Bradley's Hall of Fame, took over as varsity coach in 1946 and his record since that time has been outstanding.

IN 11 SEASONS, Olson teams won 93, lost 24 and tied 2. There was one championship (1957), 2 co-champs (1946 and '56), and 6 second place finishes in WSC competition. The poorest Maine record during those 11 years was a 4th place finish.

This year's Maine team was made up of a bunch of boys their fans had been watching 4 years. As freshmen they were undefeated. Again, as sophomores, they were unbeaten. As juniors they were conference co-champs and lost only 1 game. As seniors, they lost their opener to Evanston, (playing without their star back, Vic Pagel, who is now making a strong bid for All-State recognition) then won 7 in a row. So, in 4 years of high school competition, this year's team lost only 2 games.

OLSON HAS loads of praise for Pagel, and says he is the best back Ken ever coached. Pagel has many accomplishments, among them the scoring championship in WSC the past 2 years. He is a deceptive, hard-running back and will be much sought after by college coaches after his graduation. Coach Olson has turned out 7 All-Staters during his brief coaching career!

Olson is a strong advocate of the single wing and has always taught it at Maine. "The kids like it," he says. "We sell them on it right from the start. They know they have to block to make it work, but they also know that if they do block, we'll get our yardage."

THE TREND to the "T" formation, and the split-T hasn't worried Maine at all. "In fact," stated Olson, "the more teams that shift to the split-T, the better we like it." Other teams aren't used to playing against the single-wing, and he feels the team using it has a slight advantage right off the bat.

We've heard of coaches being criticized for not stressing enough fundamentals, but Olson says he has occasionally been accused of spending too much time teaching fundamentals. Maine coaches stress blocking, and from 45 minutes to an hour a day is spent in practice of blocking and tackling. The results of this coaching theory speak for themselves.

WHAT DID Olson think of this year's Arlington team? "The best you've had since being in the conference." Names he mentioned in the line were Weber, Rose, Wille and Creviston. He was particularly impressed with the work of Tom Grey at quarterback.

"With 2 speedy backs in Mors and Berg, Grey really made the offense click." Olson says that Maine is always "up" for the Arlington game, and that was particularly true this year. After the win over the Cardinals, he found it a little harder to keep his team "up" for each succeeding game.

THE OBVIOUS question came up—how does high school football today compare with that of Olson's high school days in the late 30's? "It's a much more wide open game today. Rules changes have helped the game then, too, we have better facilities, better officiating and coaching, higher health standards than in years gone by." Olson doesn't agree kids are softer today, either. "If anything, I think they're a little tougher," he observes. "They also have better equipment and are better conditioned."

How does it look for Maine's football prospects next year? Graduation is taking a heavy toll on the squad, but Olson is not singing the blues. He thinks Maine will be in pretty fair shape at tackles, at center,, and in the backfield. The big question mark will be at guard and at end, and he is looking for this year's sophomore team to give them some help at these spots.

Outstanding Match to Open New Sportsman's Alleys

The middlewest's newest bowling establishment and one of America's most powerful bowling squads will combine talents for a grand opening celebration at Sportsman's country club Saturday evening, Nov. 9, when the great Hamm's beer team of Chicago appears in a special match to signalize the opening of Sportsman's 16-alley bowling room.

Sportsman's C.C., located on Dundee rd., between Wheeling and Northbrook, is believed to be the first daily fee golf club in America to enter the bowling field, thus assuring its patrons of year-around recreational facilities. The club's new 16-alley room is furnished with the latest in automatic equipment and the finest of other facilities.

HAMM'S BEER team is a fitting group to occupy the spotlight at such a grand opening. It is the only team in the world to include 2 members of the Hall of Fame (Joe Wilman and Joe Norris).

Hamm's has won the Chicago classic league championship for 4 consecutive years. The team won the 1954 American Bowling Congress championship with a 3-game total of 3,226, second highest score in ABC history.

On Saturday, in a match scheduled for 9 p.m., which will be open free to the public, Hamm's will oppose a northwest suburban all-star lineup.

ON THE HAMM'S team are 7 great, proven stars of bowling. Wilman, anchor man and veteran of the team, has won the national individual and national doubles match game championships. He was the second man in history to win 4 ABC championships. He has won practically every major championship available in team, singles, doubles and all-events competitions in America.

Norris, Hamm's other Hall of Famer, has won more than 150 major competitions, including the Chicago all-events title of 1956, the Central States singles of the same year, and a total of 17 national Knights of Columbus titles. He is the only man ever named for eight consecutive years to the All-American team.

OTHERS on the Hamm's squad include the following:

Fred Fikes, present Illinois state all-events champion.

Chuck Wagner, 1956 runnerup for the Chicago individual match game championship and present individual leader of the traveling division of the Classic league.

Don Ellis, 1957 individual classic league scoring champion and 1955 Peterson Classic winner.

Frank Celebre, spectacular Kenosha star whose 824 series last season was fourth highest in America.

A Dalmatian, snapped as he soars gracefully through the air, won for Glen Fishback of Sacramento, Calif., the top prize of $500 in the Gaines Dog Research center's 1957 photo contest, it is announced.

Second prize of $250 went to Hobart C. Fash Sr., San Lorenzo, Calif., for his shadow-and-light study of a boy and his Collie, while the third prize of $100 was awarded to Lawrence I. George, Indianapolis, Ind., for an appealing shot of a mischievous Boxer pup caught with some Christmas tree ornatments.

In awarding the prizes, human appeal as well as photographic quality were taken into consideration by the 3 judges; Jacob Deschin, camera editor of the New York Times; Ralph Miller, camera editor of the New York World-Telegram and Sun; and Walter Chandoha, well known animal photographer.

What's in a Name

There are trends in dogs' names just as there are trends in the naming of people. Good old names like Rover, Fido, Rags, Bowser and Towser have practically disappeared, and in their place we have Skippy, Lucky, Butch, Queenie, Lady, Lassie Trixie and Duchess as most popular.

A study of the records of New York City's ASPCA license department revealed that about 25 per cent of dog names reflected the dog's color or markings, such as Brownie, Blackie, Ginger. There are plenty of plain Juliuses, Hermans, Annies and Lindas. There are a lot of Princes, Countesses and Kings and other "notable" names, with Rex, the Latin equivalent of King, very much in vogue for Boxers and German Shepherds. Currently fashionable for Boxers, Dachshunds and Doberman Pinschers are German names, "Fritz of the Ritz,' 'and the like. As might be expected, Poodles have the fanciest names "Pierre de Martinique' 'as an example.

Hunting Dog Required

Friends of your editor recently returned from a hunting trip in South Dakota. The results of their trip were quite successful, and were due in no small way to the fact that they had 2 good hunting dogs with them.

Many a hunter has found that to tramp hour after hour through fields and forest when hunting various types of game birds, and/or rabbits for that matter, without the use of a dog, can be rather discouraging. Your editor has always advocated the use of dogs on hunting trips, not only from the standpoint of finding game more quickly, but also in the matter of retrieving wounded birds or animals, which from the humane standpoint should be accomplished.

The use of dogs in hunting large game has more than once been demonstrated to be highly desired, and, as a matter of fact, a necessary requirement. In mountain areas where game such as lions and bears are hunted, the use of dogs trained for the work is an absolute necessity. The use of hounds for fox hunting has long been recognized, as also their use in hunting the elusive "coon." Many hunters have reported that there is nothing quite as exasperating as to try to tree a coon without a dog trained for the work, and in fact, it is well nigh impossible.

This column has often mentioned that training should begin early in the season in order that the desired result can be accomplished. And by the same token, a dog should be trained while young in order that the owner may take full advantage of the dog becoming more experienced as the years progress.

Barks and Bays

Science has found that the cells of a dog's body renew themselves 100 per cent in 6 months. (Sp

Hunting Laws For Year Told

The hunting season is with us once more, and farmers are wondering about their legal rights in this area. A better understanding of these legal rights by both farmers and hunters will help make 1957 a year of pleasant hunting for all concerned.

By law, game belongs to the State of Illinois and not to the owner of the land on which it reproduces. However, this does not mean that the people of the state have the right to go on any land they choose and hunt game. In fact, the contrary is true — the farmer in possession of the land is the one to decide who shall be given the privilege of hunting on his land. The laws of Illinois provide that it is a criminal offense for a person to hunt on land without first getting permission.

Some hunters have the mistaken impression that, if they get permission to hunt from the owner of rental land, it makes no difference if the tenant objects. This impression is wrong. Unless the lease says otherwise, the tenant, being in possession of the farm, is the only one who can give permission to hunt. The landlord, by renting the land, has given up his right to grant hunting privileges.

It is not necessary to put "No Hunting" signs on farm property in order to prevent unauthorized hunting. In addition to the criminal offense of hunting without permission, a trespassing hunter may be held liable for any damages he causes on the land, be it to crops, livestock or otherwise.

Card Harriers Trim Glenbard And Downers

Arlington's cross country team won its final 2 matches of the year, defeating Glenbard 22-33 and disposing of Downers Grove 23-37. Frosh-sophs lost to Glenbard 20-40 but downed Downers 21-37.

Ken Courter won first for Coach Russ Attis against Glenbard, with Ron Marks placing 3rd, Alan Hutchinson 4th and Bob Taggart 5th. Bill Dodge finished 9th. For the losers it was Hollinger 2nd, Tichy 6th, Jordan 7th, Pond 8th and Kopp 10th.

Larson finished in first for Downers against Heights Monday, but the Cardinals copped 6 of the next 7 places. It was Courter 2nd, Taggart 3rd, Hutchinson 5th, Dodge 6th, Knoepfle 7th and Puedke 8th. For Downers it was Baer 4th, Lieb 9th, Erickson 11th and Schoenberg 12th.

CARD FROSH-SOPH dropped a 20-40 decision to Glenbard with Dave Palmer finishing 4th for Coach Bob Meissner, Chuck Phelan 5th, Mike Field 7th, Bob Johnson 10th and Ken Anderson 14th.

The 21-37 victory over Downers Monday was a different story. It was Phelan 1st, Palmer 3rd, Field 4th, Johnson 6th and John Newhard 7th. For Downers it was Miller 2nd, Mitchell 5th, Burger 8th, Maxson 10th and Ireland 12th. (Sp

Badminton will be the activity at Recreation park from 7:30-8:30 and from 8:30-9:30 Monday nights with registration by teams sought.

Same team registration is asked for volleyball at Recreation park Wednesday evenings from 7:30-8:30 and 8:30-9:30. (Sp

Michigan Abandons Single Wing for Battle at Illinois

Michigan has almost entirely abandoned its old single wing and spinner offense for the T-formation, reports Illinois line coach Burt Ingwersen, who scouted the Wolverines in their last three games. He says that Michigan used only one single wing play at Minnesoto two weeks ago, and didn't run from that formation at all against Iowa last Saturday.

The veteran Illini mentor also reported that Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan has two fine quarterbacks who throw exceptionally well in Jim VanPelt and Stan Noskin. VanPelt currently holds first-team status because of an edge in experience and ball-handling ability.

FURTHER bad news was provided by Ingwersen's report that the Wolverines' John Herrnstein played frequently against the Hawkeyes and apparently will be ready for full-time duty this week. Herrnstein was outstanding on defense Saturday, but didn't run as well as he did before he was hurt, Ingwersen said.

Ingwersen rates the Wolverines' Jim Pace as the finest running halfback in the Big Ten this year. Pace had a 69-yard punt return against Iowa. The other starting halfback, Brad Myers, also has good speed and will pose a constant threat.

DAVE BOWERS, an outstanding receiver, has been injured, but VanPelt and Noskin still have fine ends in Gary Prahst and Walt Johnson.

While the Wolverine line does not boast any particularly outstanding performers, Ingwersen believes it is a well-balanced forward wall with many top-flight Big Ten forwards. Jim Orwig, the captain and left tackle, is most spectacular of the linemen.

Oosterbaan, in keeping with the trend in the Western Conference this year, frequently substitutes entire units, and Ingwersen reports that the Wolverines have good depth at most positions.

Wildlife Refuge North of Palatine

A 101-acre farm north of Palatine on route 53 has been designated as a state wildlife refuge. The farm, on the west side of route 53 a quarter-mile north of the Lake-Cook county line, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holleck.

"No Hunting" signs have been posted on the farm, which is about half farmland and half wood and brush land. Mrs. Holleck said that a pond is being dug on the farm.

"We gain a great deal of pleasure from our wildlife and hope to preserve it," she noted, adding that pheasant, raccoon, woodchuck and 'possum abound.

Q. Is it improper to blow on a spoonful of soup or coffee before taking it into the mouth?

A. Not if the blowing is done very gently and inconspicuously. Refrain from "blowing up a storm."

Q. What jewels, if any, should a bride wear for her wedding ceremony?

A. If it can be done easily, use just the fork. However, sometimes lettuce can be tough to manage with the fork, and in that case, it is quite all right to use the knife.

Q. Is it ever proper for a lady to assist a gentleman on with his coat?

A. Only if he is very old, feeble, or crippled. Otherwise, no.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Des Plaines will move into its new building at 733 Lee st. Saturday. The bank will begin conducting business at its new address Monday. The new building, designed by architects Charles Edward Stade & Associates of Park Ridge, will double the bank's present space. The upper floor will be used for office space. Expanded service facilities, free parking, and drive-in banking are among new features of the modern building.

First National Moves Into New Bank Building

The First National Bank of Des Plaines will move to its new quarters at 733 Lee st., Saturday, according to J. R. Lawrence, president. The bank will begin conducting business at the new address Monday.

The new building will provide 26,000 square feet of floor space, with 17,000 square feet available for the bank, thus doubling the bank's present space. The upper floor will be available for office space.

DESIGNED BY architects Charles Edward Stade & Associates of Park Ridge, the building has been described as "conservative modern" According to the architects "the building was designed to create a feeling of space and at the same time to keep maintenance to a minimum."

Beige brick with white-shot limestone and large glass areas distinguish the exterior. Inside, the structural system of the bank is exposed with brick again being used as a principal building material. Offices are custom-panelled in walnut veneer.

Ceilings of acoustical plaster provide a quiet banking atmosphere. The bank is completely air-conditioned.

THE GENERAL color scheme is a combination of brick and wood-tones, with beige, brick red, cerulean blue and whites predominate. Special drapery fabrics, carpeting, furniture and appointments are consistent with the over-all color scheme. Most floors are beige terrazzo.

Desks are finished in a boiled linseed oil walnut with matching walnut Formica tops. All hardware and leg frames of the desks are black square metal tubing.

Along the exterior wall, sheer linen boucle draw draperies provide light control as well as contributing to the general warmth of the bank.

Throughout the bank, service facilities have been expanded. There will be 30 deposit windows compared to the present 16. Included is a special savings window scaled to accommodate the bank's "junior savers." The vault area has been doubled with a capacity for 7,500 safe deposit boxes compared with the present 4,300.

Commercial and savings tellers, officers section, offices and drive-in windows are located on the street floor. The installment loan, safe deposit and operating departments are on the lower level. All levels are served by an elevator. A separate entrance permits the installment loan and safe deposit departments to remain open until 4 p.m. An employe's lounge is also located on the lower level.

Customers will be able to bank day or night by using the 24-hour depository and letter drop located near the front entrance.

DRIVE-IN BANKING, considered a "must" in modern banking, is supplied by 2 windows on the east side of the building. Directly behind the bank is parking space for 50 cars. The motorist enters the parking lot from Center st., parks, or passes through the lot to the drive-in windows and exits on Prairie ave.

Customers using the parking lot can enter the bank by a rear entrance or step up to a walk-up teller and bank without going inside.

For the statistics-minded: 4200 cubic yards of earth were excavated before the building began; 680 cubic yards of concrete were used for footings; 170,000 bricks were laid; 70 tons of reinforcing steel were used (50 tons in the vault alone); and enough ceramic tile used for a dozen homes.

MOTIVATING influences behind the new building construction were stated by Lawrence:

"First National Bank has experienced tremendous growth since it was founded in 1913 in the E. D. Scott real estate office on Miner st. In that year our assets were $61,712 and the population of Des Plaines was 1,800. The bank remained in the original office until 1927 when the adjoining property was purchased, and moved to its present location on September 30, 1937. Today our assets are $32,237,604. Capital funds have grown from $65,000 to $1,600,000. Deposits as of October 16 were $30,265,661 and the bank serves more than 20,000 customers. With our new building we can keep pace with the growing demands of a growing community."

Lawrence also stated that the bank is planning a public open house in the near future, at which time everyone will be invited to inspect the new building.

DIRECTORS of the First National Bank in addition to J. R. Lawrence, are Frederick F. Webster, of Simpson Estates who heads the bank's board of directors, P. E. Flaminio, Des Plaines Agency, Inc.; Fred A. Fulle, Des Plaines Publishing Co.; C. Dewey Imig, Newcomb-Macklin Co.; Bernard Meyer, Meyer Coal & Material Co.; Arthur M. Fur es, physician; Eugene W. Rogers, lawyer and George A. Webster, A. L. Webster and Co.

Officers of the bank are J. R. Lawrence, president; Arthur H. Behrens, vice president; G. R. Wilson, cashier; and assistant cashiers, W. E. Altenburg, Robert F. Bruhn, William E. Staat and auditor, Daniel G. Priska.

Palatine Is Becoming New Safety Equipment Capital of the Nation

by WILLIAM HENNIG

The growing importance of Palatine as the "safety equipment capital of the United States" was underscored last month when a local manufacturer held open house for safety experts from all over the world.

The visitors were attending the 45th annual National Safety Congress in Chicago. They were brought to Palatine by the Sellstrom Manufacturing co. to witness the latest ideas in safety equipment and to see how they were made.

TO SHUTTLE its guests speedily back and forth during the 4-day run of that big national convention, Sellstrom utilized a pair of helicopters on a virtual continuous schedule.

Trips between the firm's parking lot on Hicks road and downtown Meigs field averaged 25 minutes, saving considerable time and effort; in addition, a ride in the "whirlybird" entitled each guest to membership in the "Sellstrom Eggbeaters Club."

A LEADING manufacturer of face and eye protection equipment since 1923, Sellstrom moved to Palatine almost 3 years ago and now occupies a modern, attractively landscaped plant of 25,000 square feet just south of the Chicago and North Western railway tracks.

The claim of "safety equipment capital" is no idle Palatime chamber of commerce boast, either. Another veteran Chicago manufacturer in that field is moving to the village, having broken ground recently for a new plant.

A force of 80 to 100 skilled local employees is required by Sellstrom to make the various goggles, glasses, face shields, welding helmets, respirators, and other products sold by the firm all over the world. Two shifts are currently needed to keep production up with orders. Evidence of its importance to Palatine's economic well-being is the fact that Sellstrom's monthly payroll averages $15,000, a good share of it being retained locally.

THE PEOPLE of Sellstrom are particularly conscious of the particular responsibility connected with their work.

Since a man's livelihood—and indeed his very life—may well depend upon the safety devices he wears to protect his face and eyes, Sellstrom products are subjected to unusually rigid standards of quality control. Many testimonials in company files are proof of this equipment's ability to withstand sudden impact, shock and other unforeseen accidents encountered in various occupations.

SELLSTROM employs the most modern machines and tools to turn out a steady flow of safety products, many of them fully automatic. The firm molds its own plastic components, and it processes the various lenses used in these products.

President and founder of the company is G. E. Sellstrom. Vice president is Roger E. Sellstrom. Lester Gooch, 156 E, Sherman, Palatine, is sales manager. E. C. Sand, treasurer; Al Kline, secretary and superintendent, and Robert L. Bergdahl, 334 W. Chicago, Palatine, office manager; are other company officials.

THURSDAY, NOV. 7, 1957

by WILLIAM HENNIG

The growing importance of Palatine as the "safety equipment capital of the United States" was underscored last month when a local manufacturer held open house for safety experts from all over the world.

The visitors were attending the 45th annual National Safety Congress in Chicago. They were brought to Palatine by the Sellstrom Manufacturing co. to witness the latest ideas in safety equipment and to see how they were made.

TO SHUTTLE its guests speedily back and forth during the 4-day run of that big national convention, Sellstrom utilized a pair of helicopters on a virtual continuous schedule.

Trips between the firm's parking lot on Hicks road and downtown Meigs field averaged 25 minutes, saving considerable time and effort; in addition, a ride in the "whirlybird" entitled each guest to membership in the "Sellstrom Eggbeaters Club."

Farm Program Changes Set For IAA Meeting Nov. 11-14

Adoption of policy resolutions to guide farm bureaus in the year ahead will occupy the spotlight when more than 5,000 farm people gather at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, for the 43rd annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural association November 11-14.

One of the key resolutions is expected to center on the national farm program. Judging by county reports given at five area policy development meetings farmers are in agreement that the present farm program is not working well.

RESOLUTIONS will be submitted to the farm people that form that 27-person committee.

In addition, delegates may bring up subjects they feel are of concern on the floor of the convention. On Tuesday, Nov. 12, an open session of the tentative resolutions committee has also been scheduled to encourage farmers to air their opinions on subjects they want brought before the committee.

Besides the resolutions, there are several other matters of importance which will concern farm men and women during the 4-day meeting. At the Wednesday, Nov. 13 general session, Otto Steffey, president of the state-wide farm bureau from Henderson county, will give his report.

STEFFEY will review the year's activity in farm bureau and affiliated companies and then offer his ideas on problems confronting farmers.

Election of directors and officers for the next term is another major piece of business facing the delegates. Seven directors and officers for the next term is another major piece of business facing the delegates. Seven directors will be elected for 2-year terms, and officers will be chosen for one year terms.

Affiliated company business occupies the spotlight for the first two days. A change in programming adds a Monday night forum to the schedule, and Earl C. Smith, IAA president from 1926 to 1945, will give the keynote talk.

THIS WILL BE followed by brief reports on accomplishments in farm bureau insurance, achievements in distribution, manufacturing and services, and progress in marketing.

In addition, the voting delegates will also consider a report by a committee set up after last year's annual meeting to study redistricting for the purpose of electing IAA directors. Voting delegates last year asked for this study and during the last year counties had the chance to study the subject as well.

One highlight will be a nonbusiness one — surviving members of the first IAA board of directors and their wives will be special guests at this 43rd IAA annual meeting. They include Joseph Fulkerson, Jerseyville; I. F. Gillmor, Galesburg; G. C. Johnstone, Bloomington; Henry T. Marshall, Serena; and John Gummersheimer, Waterloo.

Sessions for women and for young people are on the crowded calendar, too.

Wednesday evening's session will feature three distinguished national leaders—Sen. George Aiken (R-Va), Sen. James Estland (D-Miss.) and Carroll Bottum, Purdue university professor of agriculture economics.

FINAL STEP in the policy development program takes place at the IAA annual meeting. Delegates will consider the recommendations of the tentative resolutions committee and adopt resolutions which will become the guiding policy for officers and directors of farm bureau.

Directors whose terms expire this year include: Lloyd Waldee, Waterman; Bert W. Horan, Aledo; Milo Miller, Pekin; Merle Jeffers, Catlin; George Bauer, Smithboro; Kenneth Stark, Nebo and Alfred Rister, Omaha.

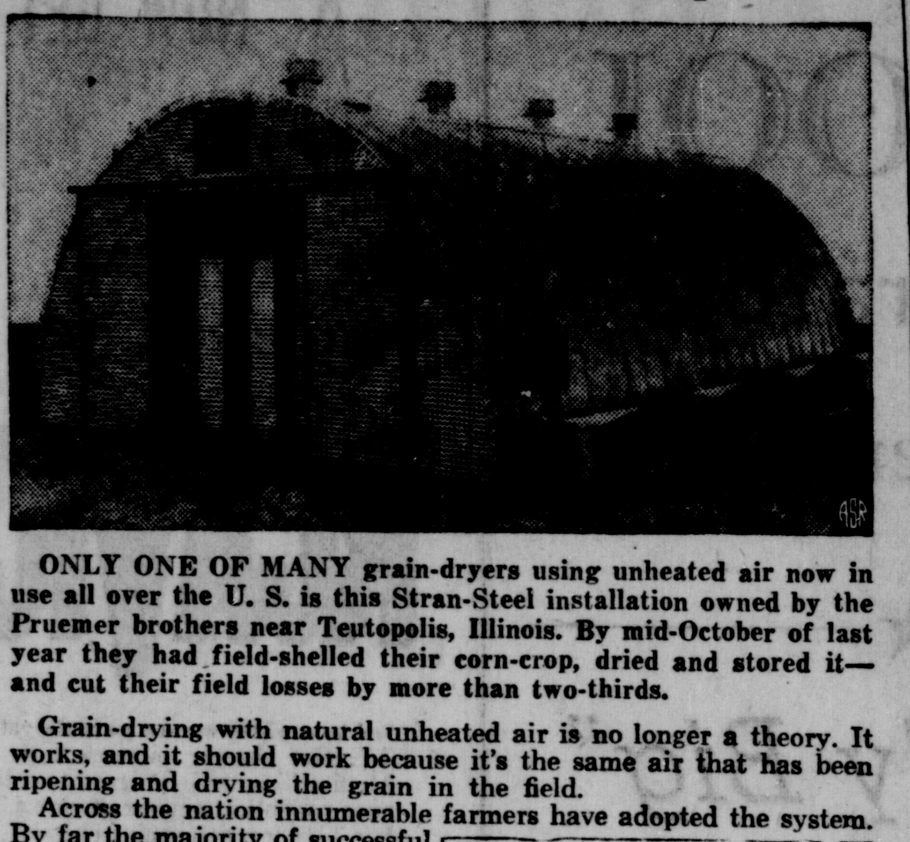
Grain-Drying with Unheated Air A Success, Farmers Report



ONLY ONE OF MANY grain-dryers using unheated air now in use all over the U. S. is this Stran-Steel installation owned by the Pruemer brothers near Teutopolis, Illinois. By mid-October of last year they had field-shelled their corn-crop, dried and stored it—and cut their field losses by more than two-thirds.

Grain-drying with natural unheated air is no longer a theory. It works, and it should work because it's the same air that has been ripening and drying the grain in the field.

Across the nation innumerable farmers have adopted the system. By far the majority of successful systems now in operation have been the pre-engineered and factory-built ones such as those manufactured by Stran-Steel Corporation (photo above). This installation forces air through the grain by semi-pressure fans. Moisture-content of the grain is brought down to safe storage level within a matter of days; the fans can then be reversed to cool the grain and provide spoilage-free storage indefinitely.

Stran-Steel has recently released information based upon farmers' experiences with their drying system which proves the revolution in traditional methods of harvesting, drying and storage of grain is rapidly taking place.

The majority of the farmers report cutting field-losses by at least two-thirds—equal to gains of ten bushels an acre or more—, substantial savings in time, labor and elevator fees. Importantly, the system, which uses only electricity, is much more economical than hot-air systems which require fuel.

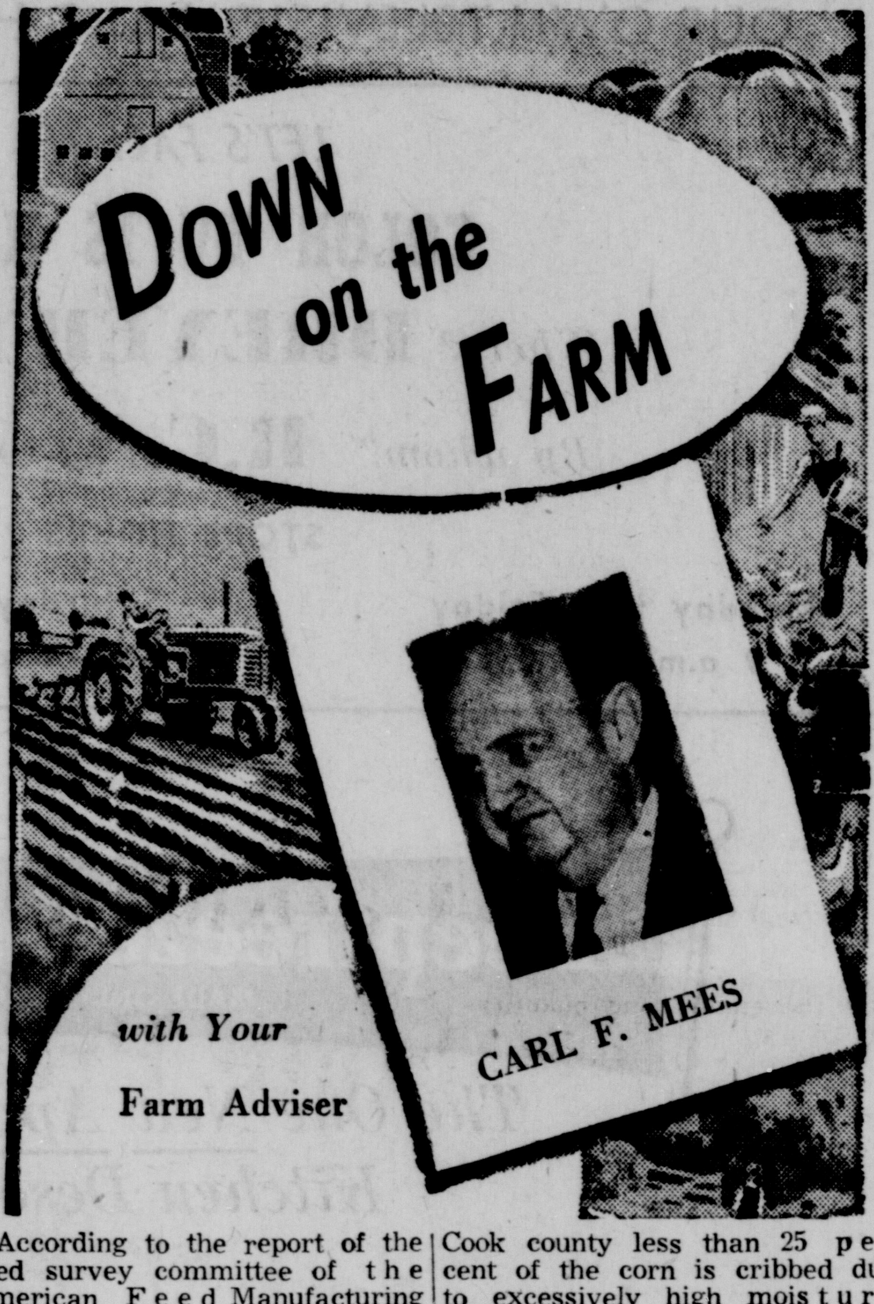
Corn Borer Destroyed By Plowing

Clean plowing is the best way to destroy overwintering corn borers, according to Steve Moore, entomologist for the University of Illinois college of agriculture and the Illinois Natural History survey.

Mechanical corn pickers, weather, pasturing of stalk fields and other factors combine to eliminate about 77 per cent of the winter borer population. Mechanical pickers alone are responsible for reducing borer numbers by about 36 per cent.

However, the farmer who does a good plowing job will eliminate 98 to 99 per cent of the corn borer population in the field, Moore emphasizes. About 80 per cent of the corn borer moths that emerge each May and June come from oat fields. If clean plowing or stalk shredding rather than disking were done on cornstalk land before oat seeding, the corn borer menance would be much less serious.

Fall plowing not only will kill borers as readily as spring plowing, but will also destroy certain soil insects that may be present. With the overwintering corn borer population below that of last year in most Illinois counties, Moore points out that this is a good chance to really deal corn borers an extra heavy blow.



According to the report of the feed survey committee of the American Feed Manufacturing association, the outlook is for a few more livestock in the U.S. next year.

The committee expects that 7 per cent more hogs and 5 per cent more broilers will be raised while 3 per cent fewer layers, 1 per cent fewer milk cows and 8 per cent fewer horses and mules. Number of turkeys, beef cattle and sheep probably will remain unchanged.

WIDESPREAD rain and damp cloudy weather stopped harvesting operations and delayed drying of the corn crops.

Moisture still remains too high for safe cribbing for much of the corn crop, about ¼ of the crop is picked compared with 85 per cent last year and the acreage of two-thirds by this date. In Cook county less than 25 per cent of the corn is cribbed due to excessively high moisture content.

L. F. Stice, agricultural economist at the University of Illinois, points out that because corn is drying slowly this year, some farmers may be tempted to violate the generally accepted practice of letting it dry in the field or dry it artifically.

Storing ear corn with more than 20 per cent moisture is risky unless dryers are used However, weather conditions and size of cribs would cause some variation in this recommendation.

THE U. S. department of agriculture has again delayed the shift from bushels to hundred weight as a standard for grain. They are in favor of this shift but feel that more time is needed to ready for this big change. The feed manufactures association has been strongly advocating the use of hundred weights instead of bushels for some time. Opposition to the change is from the grain trade. (Fm

Fruit Tree Fertilizing Time Now

You don't have to wait until spring to put fertilizer on your fruit trees. It will do just as much good this fall, and probably have more time to do it, states Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser.

Fertilizing in the fall gives nutrients plenty of time to penetrate the soil so that tree roots can use them. As long as the ground is not frozen, the tree can absorb nutrients 12 months of the year.

Since fruit trees are generally deep-rooted and have an active root system most of the year, they can be grown in soils of moderately low fertility provided drainage is adequate.

Fruit trees usually need nitrogen, though, Mees states and users can often get pronounced results from using it. A good rule of the thumb is 1/8 pound of ammonium nitrate per year of tree age. Put it on right after the leaves fall. Nitrogen put on this late won't stimulate growth that would be injured by an early freeze. (Fm

Farmers Hold Breakfast To Promote Meat Sales

A new use for a familiar farm product was unveiled Tuesday at a meeting called to boost the sale and use of all farm products.

Leather was used for the identification badges distributed at the Chicago meat promotion breakfast held at the Sheraton Hotel by the Illinois Agricultural association.

"There are more than 40 million cattle hides, kips and calfskins produced annually in this country," Otto Steffey, president of the IAA said. "By using modern machinery to tan and split the leather into thin strips, a new use for a farm product has been developed.

"Farmers wear the leather badges with pride. Industry representatives like the idea, too, for it shows what ingenuity and a little work can do to help use one of the many familiar farm products."

Over 100 farm people attended the "Land of Plenty" breakfast to tell Chicago retailers, wholesalers, and others who use or sell meat that right now the supply is plentiful and the price is moderate. Meat is a good buy, farmers reiterated as they visited around the city to see places where meat is served.

Taking part in the day-long program were one farmer from each of the 99 county farm bureaus, one woman from each of the 15 IAA districts, and five rural young people. County farm bureaus soon will be launching their own meat promotion campaigns, part of the agricultural marketing development and promotion program started this year.

As they toured the city under the guidance of industry leaders, the farm visitors saw how meat is purchased, processed and served in leading hotels. They also visited packing plants and restaurants to see how the meat is handled at those places.

A report meeting was held Tuesday night, farmers exchanging their experiences and offering suggestions on how to stimulate the sale of meat. The farm people were divided into groups of three or four people — each with an industry guide. Each group visited at least two different places to learn how the meat is handled or served.

"This is a self-help campaign, financed and organized by farmers, to channel the near all-time high meat production into consumption rather than into storage," said Steffey.

"Farm people don't want government aid to solve the threatening over supply of meat and the subsequent lower price for their livestock. They prefer to whip the problem themselves."

The "Land of Plenty" breakfast, featuring Illinois-grown products, includes tomato juice, breakfast-size steak, two eggs, milk, toast and coffee. That's a breakfast "fit for a king," Steffey said, "and is economical, too." (Fm

Farm Program Changes Set For IAA Meeting Nov. 11-14

Adoption of policy resolutions to guide farm bureaus in the year ahead will occupy the spotlight when more than 5,000 farm people gather at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, for the 43rd annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural association November 11-14.

One of the key resolutions is expected to center on the national farm program. Judging by county reports given at five area policy development meetings farmers are in agreement that the present farm program is not working well.

RESOLUTIONS will be submitted to the farm people that form that 27-person committee.

In addition, delegates may bring up subjects they feel are of concern on the floor of the convention. On Tuesday, Nov. 12, an open session of the tentative resolutions committee has also been scheduled to encourage farmers to air their opinions on subjects they want brought before the committee.

Besides the resolutions, there are several other matters of importance which will concern farm men and women during the 4-day meeting. At the Wednesday, Nov. 13 general session, Otto Steffey, president of the state-wide farm bureau from Henderson county, will give his report.

STEFFEY will review the year's activity in farm bureau and affiliated companies and then offer his ideas on problems confronting farmers.

Election of directors and officers for the next term is another major piece of business facing the delegates. Seven directors and officers for the next term is another major piece of business facing the delegates. Seven directors will be elected for 2-year terms, and officers will be chosen for one year terms.

Affiliated company business occupies the spotlight for the first two days. A change in programming adds a Monday night forum to the schedule, and Earl C. Smith, IAA president from 1926 to 1945, will give the keynote talk.

THIS WILL BE followed by brief reports on accomplishments in farm bureau insurance, achievements in distribution, manufacturing and services, and progress in marketing.

In addition, the voting delegates will also consider a report by a committee set up after last year's annual meeting to study redistricting for the purpose of electing IAA directors. Voting delegates last year asked for this study and during the last year counties had the chance to study the subject as well.

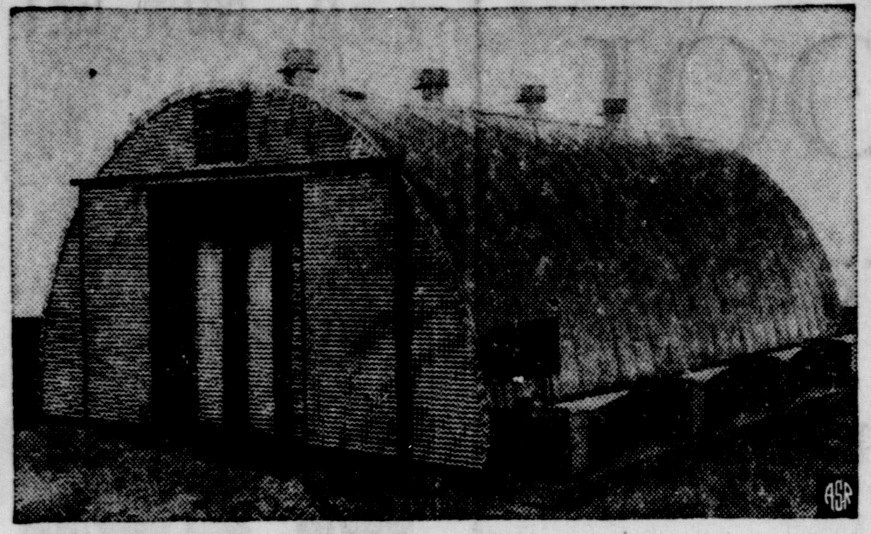
Grain-Drying with Unheated Air A Success, Farmers Report



ONLY ONE OF MANY grain-dryers using unheated air now in use all over the U. S. is this Stran-Steel installation owned by the Pruemer brothers near Teutopolis, Illinois. By mid-October of last year they had field-shelled their corn-crop, dried and stored it—and cut their field losses by more than two-thirds.

Grain-drying with natural unheated air is no longer a theory. It works, and it should work because it's the same air that has been ripening and drying the grain in the field.

Across the nation innumerable farmers have adopted the system. By far the majority of successful systems now in operation have been the pre-engineered and factory-built ones such as those manufactured by Stran-Steel Corporation (photo above). This installation forces air through the grain by semi-pressure fans. Moisture-content of the grain is brought down to safe storage level within a matter of days; the fans can then be reversed to cool the grain and provide spoilage-free storage indefinitely.

Stran-Steel has recently released information based upon farmers' experiences with their drying system which proves the revolution in traditional methods of harvesting, drying and storage of grain is rapidly taking place.

The majority of the farmers report cutting field-losses by at least two-thirds—equal to gains of ten bushels an acre or more—, substantial savings in time, labor and elevator fees. Importantly, the system, which uses only electricity, is much more economical than hot-air systems which require fuel.

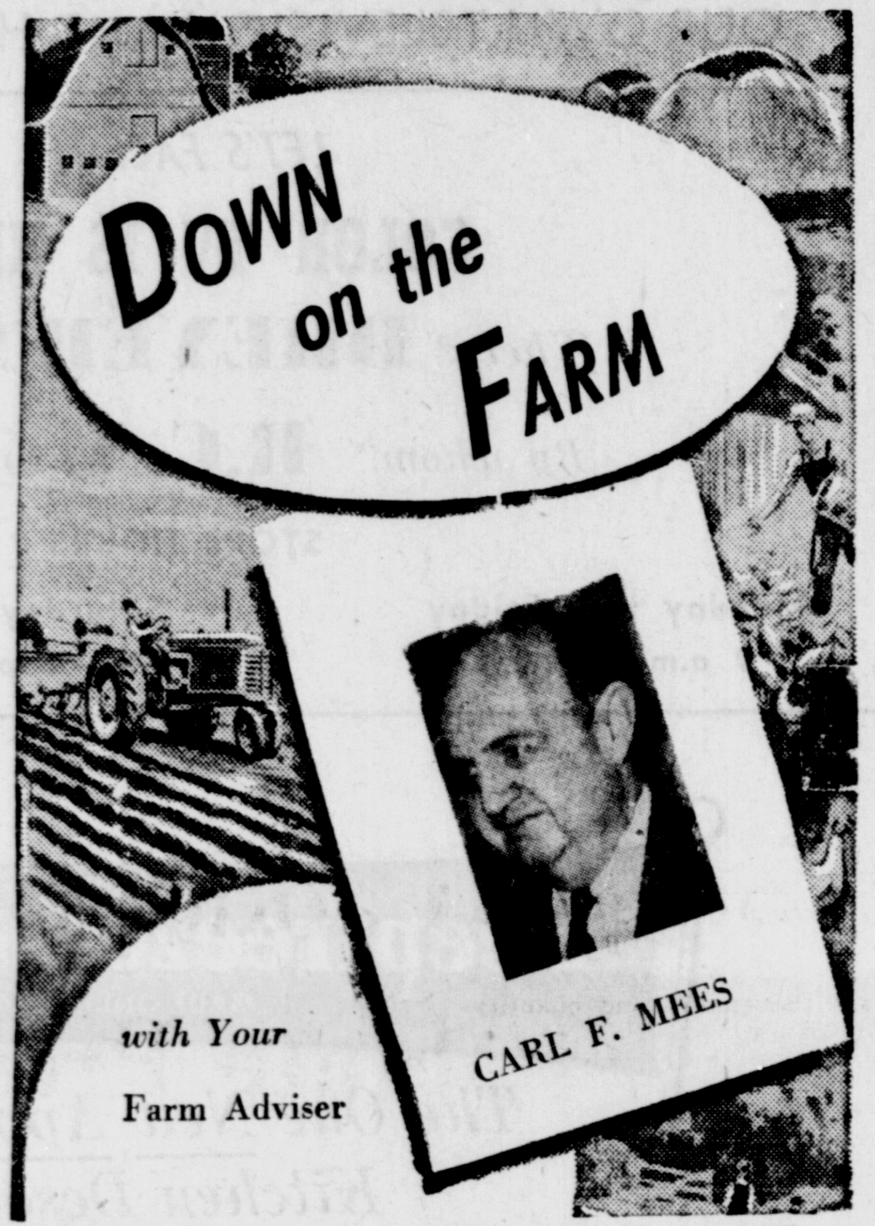
Corn Borer Destroyed By Plowing

Clean plowing is the best way to destroy overwintering corn borers, according to Steve Moore, entomologist for the University of Illinois college of agriculture and the Illinois Natural History survey.

Mechanical corn pickers, weather, pasturing of stalk fields and other factors combine to eliminate about 77 per cent of the winter borer population. Mechanical pickers alone are responsible for reducing borer numbers by about 36 per cent.

However, the farmer who does a good plowing job will eliminate 98 to 99 per cent of the corn borer population in the field, Moore emphasizes. About 80 per cent of the corn borer moths that emerge each May and June come from oat fields. If clean plowing or stalk shredding rather than disking were done on cornstalk land before oat seeding, the corn borer menance would be much less serious.

Fall plowing not only will kill borers as readily as spring plowing, but will also destroy certain soil insects that may be present. With the overwintering corn borer population below that of last year in most Illinois counties, Moore points out that this is a good chance to really deal corn borers an extra heavy blow.



According to the report of the feed survey committee of the American Feed Manufacturing association, the outlook is for a few more livestock in the U.S. next year.

Reasons they gave for their outlook is continued large supply of grains and other concentrates, much improved forage conditions, and favorable feed price ratios for most classes of livestock and poultry early in the feeding year.

The committee expects that 7 per cent more hogs and 5 per cent more broilers will be raised while 3 per cent fewer layers, 1 per cent fewer milk cows and 8 per cent fewer horses and mules. Number of turkeys, beef cattle and sheep probably will remain unchanged.

WIDESPREAD rain and damp cloudy weather stopped harvesting operations and delayed drying of the corn crops.

Moisture still remains too high for safe cribbing for much of the corn crop, about ¼ of the crop is picked compared with 85 per cent last year and the acreage of two-thirds by this date. In Cook county less than 25 per cent of the corn is cribbed due to excessively high moisture content.

L. F. Stice, agricultural economist at the University of Illinois, points out that because corn is drying slowly this year, some farmers may be tempted to violate the generally accepted practice of letting it dry in the field or dry it artifically.

Storing ear corn with more than 20 per cent moisture is risky unless dryers are used However, weather conditions and size of cribs would cause some variation in this recommendation.

THE U. S. department of agriculture has again delayed the shift from bushels to hundred weight as a standard for grain. They are in favor of this shift but feel that more time is needed to ready for this big change. The feed manufactures association has been strongly advocating the use of hundred weights instead of bushels for some time. Opposition to the change is from the grain trade. (Fm

Fruit Tree Fertilizing Time Now

You don't have to wait until spring to put fertilizer on your fruit trees. It will do just as much good this fall, and probably have more time to do it, states Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser.

Way Back When

Palatine Firemen Speedily Squelch Corn Stalk Blaze

50 Years Ago

November 15, 1907

Palatine Fire Department made quick time in response to an alarm Nov. 8, the first call in months. It proved to be only a stack of corn stalks back of Henry Wolf's residence; but the insignificance of the fire was offset by the spectacular arrival of the Department. The noble stead that in ordinary life hauls the daily supply of gasolene drew Fire Marshall C. W. Ost to the scene while policeman Schroeder, plied the whip and pushed on the lines. They arrived in advance of the Fire company, augmented by about 20 assistant members. At the start from the engine house, a team of more or less antiquity was confiscated; and the way that team, driven by a reckless driver, sped down the street and around corners, will be a matter of history. The hook and ladder truck was tied to the hose cart, and wherever there was room for a foot, there stood a noble fireman, utterly regardless of the liability of a broken axle. Some just escaped corner telephone poles, others barely missed being cast from the rushing truck. There was sufficient enthusiasm to smother any fire; but it died on arriving in sight of the burning corn stalks. But only for a moment, until the chief's voice rang out "Fall out! Couple up!" It was then the firemen to the front.

TWO FEARLESS BOYS, with the nozzle braced themselves for the first spurt of Palatine's great water pressure — which never came. Florist Putnam and Steamfitters Bennett and Knigge with a small garden hose supplied as big a stream as gushed from that impressive nozzle. An examination showed a defective water plug, and it was then that a sigh of relief went up, when the spectators realized the result if it had been the house instead of the stacks that had brought out nearly all the population, the small stream would have been inadequate and Nov. 8, 1907 would have been a dark day in the history of Palatine's fire department. On the return to the engine house, 200 feet of new hose, which had lain in its crate since its purchase 2 years ago, was put upon the reel, in case of emergency.

Buttermilk Corners — Herman Varz was in Dundee, Saturday, and while at the brick yard, where he was loading brick at this place Herman had something to drink and smoke for his men who helped him. Somebody else heard he was just married. Herman went away and left his drinks stand while working. They took his bottled beer and cigars and had a good time in his honor. Herman says Dundee is too fast for him; he will not trust anything out of his sight again.

TWO ARLINGTON Heights business women have so much faith in the future of Arlington Heights as a business center that they are contracting to erect the second three story business block for the City of Good Neighbors. They recently purchased the Park Meyer property facing the Northwest highway and will erect thereon a large business block, the first section of which will be completed early next spring.

The women who are entering this project are Mrs. Margaret Blase Roche and her sister and partner Miss Ann Blase. They are the proprietors of the Emerald Shop which has so greatly outgrown its present quarters that a new store is necessary for them. PROPOSED N.W. SUBURBAN 'Y' BUILDING

MT. PROSPECT

'Y' DAY BREAKFAST NOV. 12
CALLS ON 1200 BUSINESS LEADERS
'Y' BUILDING FUND

. . . and the children thank you, too!

Volunteers to Contact Area Merchants in 'Y' Day Drive

Nearly 150 suburban men will gulp a hurried breakfast Tuesday morning. They'll be in a hurry to begin their calls on businessmen in northwest suburbs to seek support for the Northwest Suburban YMCA's building program.

Tuesday has been designed as "Y" Day, and 11 service clubs have put their support behind a 1-day program to raise funds for the projected building.

Thomas M. Blake, president of Littelfuse Inc. and chairman of the local YMCA board of directors, said this is the second phase of a program designed to raise $578,000.

Seventy-five individuals and industries have already contributed $117,000 toward the fund in an initial effort just completed, reported Blake.

The Metropolitan Chicago YMCA has pledged an additional $300,000 toward this project providing the communities will raise $350,000 before the end of 1957.

To help meet this goal, service clubs in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, and Des Plaines are participating in a one-day effort in which nearly 1,200 business people will be offered an opportunity to support this worthy project.

Participating clubs include Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary, and Jaycees in Arlington Heights; Lions, Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce in Mount Prospect; and Lions, Kiwanis, Jaycees, and Optimists in Des Plaines.

In addition to service clubs, the following industries and business concerns are assigning men to help make this program a success: Charles Bruning co., Littelfuse, General Telephone, Lord and Burnham, Valiquet co., Borg-Warner, American Foundryman's society; Butler Brothers, Marland Oil, Edsel, C. J. Lauer Insurance, Equitable Life Assurance, Bowman Dairy, Hannifin corp., Procon Inc., Photo Service, Cornell Papaer Products, Edward Hines Lumber co., General Box, Singer Sewing Machine, and International Cash Register.

The workers met for an orientation meeting in Des Plaines at the Deville Motel Friday for Des Plaines workers and Monday all other workers met at the Arlington House.

All workers assemble Tuesday at 8 a.m. for breakfast and final instructions at Littelfuse Inc. After their calls, they will Meet for dinner at Rolling Green country club.

Contributors will be given a placard with a picture of the YMCA building to display in their windows.

The YMCA is celebrating its Centennial in the Chicagoland area in 1958. It is expected that ground may be broken for the new suburban center as part of the Centennial celebration.

School Lunch Program Vital to Pupils

Mouth-watering menus for school children including apple-cranberry crunch (just right for the Thanksgiving season), biscuits dripping with butter, baked haddock, etc., are often contained in newsletters distributed through the office of Harold A. Wolfe, director of the Illinois school lunch program.

Newsletters also contain market hints, listings of resource materials on nutrition education, new ideas in equipment.

THE SCHOOL LUNCH and milk program is now being conducted in some 283 suburban schools, in some cases with the help of parent-teacher associations.

The program, conducted with the assistance of federal funds, is now bigger than ever before in Chicagoland, according to Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools.

Puffer said that 1,235 applications have been received, compared with 1,173 last year. He added that $2,898,559 in federal funds was distributed in Cook county for milk and lunches during the 1956-57 school year. This figure will probably reach 3 million in the coming year, he said.

IN ADDITION to subsidies for hot lunches and milk, schools receive surplus commodities provided by the federal government. Distribution of surplus goods is intended to increase the quality and quantity of lunches served.

The school milk and lunch cash subsidy program has the same objective. Schools must meet high standards to qualify. Special nutritional standards are setup in the Type-A lunch which is the only one permitted.

Lunches and milk must be available to all pupils without regard to their ability to pay. Qualification is determined on a local school basis.

No child may be charged more than 35 cents for a lunch, and any adult, such as a teacher, is to be charged at least 5 cents more. State-wide average cost to pupils is 28.32 cents.

SCHOOLS RECEIVE 5 cents for each hot lunch with milk, and 3 cents for each lunch without milk. Participating schools also receive 4 cents for every extra half pint of milk served or used; schools in the milk program alone receive 3 cents for each extra half pint served.

The lunch program is limited to one meal per day for each pupil, except in residence schools where it may apply to up to 3 meals for each pupil.

There is no limit on the subsidy for milk served.

WHILE SCHOOLS are permitted to make a profit of 1 cent on each half pint of milk, few do so and many sell it to children below cost.

Wolfe's office estimates that the school lunch program is now a 40 million dollar a year business in Illinois. Last year it included 48 million meals plus 103 million servings of milk.

Paddock Publications Win State Press Contest Awards

FIRST PLACE AWARD PLAQUE for general excellence is presented to Stuart R. Paddock, editor of Paddock Publications, by Art Strang, secretary of Illinois Press Association. Award was made for the Roselle Register entry in the state newspaper contest. Another Paddock Publication, the Arlington Heights Herald, won awards for general excellence, typography and makeup and community service.

Paddock Publications, Inc., was awarded 4 prizes last weekend in the Illinois Press association's 1957 state newspaper contest.

FIRST PLACE in general excellence was presented to the Roselle Register. Commenting on the award, Judges said: "Roselle Register won out in the final judging for top honors primarily because it was the most attractive and interesting entry. It received the highest total points in all phases and judging — mechanical, news coverage, literary excellence, community interest, editorial page, and advertising layout. It was noted, however, that while some newspapers today no longer set lead paragraphs in type larger than the balance of the story, the Register does this effectively on page one. The makeup of the pages, printing, picture reproduction, excellent "For Women" pages, sports coverage, advertising copy and layout, and the classified pages were all superior to other entries in this division."

A third place in general excellence was awarded to the Arlington Heights Herald. Judges declared: "Well printed with apparent excellent news coverage. "For Women" page was especially well done. The editorial page deserves commendation. Attractive and interesting."

THE ARLINGTON Heights Herald also won an honorable mention for community service and a third place for best typography and make up.

Other suburban newspapers which won prizes in the state-wide competition among 128 publications were Libertyville Independent-Register, Hinsdale Doings, Des Plaines Journal, Des Plaines Suburban-Times, Winnetka Talk, Highland Park News, Glen Ellyn News and Oak Park Oak Leaves.

ATTENDING THE state convention Friday and Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart R. Paddock, Robert Y. Paddock, and Stuart R. Paddock Jr.

Stuart R. Paddock Jr. was elected treasurer of the Illinois Press association for the coming year.

Give Thanks by Giving

At Thanksgiving time, the Northwest Suburban Aid to Retarded Children is conducting its annual fund-raising drive. These funds will go to carry on the battle against mental retardation.

Despite the enormity of the problem of mental retardation, little is known about this condition and not nearly enough is being done to combat it.

Each day around 340 children in the United States are born mentally retarded to some degree. That means this day and every day. There are now in this country almost 5 million mentally retarded children and adults. Certainly any program of action which is designed to help find causes and prevention of retardation and which is working to establish adequate facilities for the mentally retarded is worthy of every citizen's support.

The Northwest Suburban association, one of more than 500 nation-wide member units of the National Association for Retarded Children, is interested in the welfare of the mentally retarded in our community. They deserve your generous contribution.

TWO ARLINGTON Heights business women have so much faith in the future of Arlington Heights as a business center that they are contracting to erect the second three story business block for the City of Good Neighbors. They recently purchased the Park Meyer property facing the Northwest highway and will erect thereon a large business block, the first section of which will be completed early next spring.

The women who are entering this project are Mrs. Margaret Blase Roche and her sister and partner Miss Ann Blase. They are the proprietors of the Emerald Shop which has so greatly outgrown its present quarters that a new store is necessary for them. The so called Park Meyer property has a frontage on the Northwest highway of 113½ ft.

150 WORKERS
'Y' DAY BREAKFAST NOV. 12
CALLS ON 1200 BUSINESS LEADERS
'Y' BUILDING FUND

Volunteers to Contact Area Merchants in 'Y' Day Drive

Nearly 150 suburban men will gulp a hurried breakfast Tuesday morning. They'll be in a hurry to begin their calls on businessmen in northwest suburbs to seek support for the Northwest Suburban YMCA's building program.

Tuesday has been designed as "Y" Day, and 11 service clubs have put their support behind a 1-day program to raise funds for the projected building.

Thomas M. Blake, president of Littelfuse Inc. and chairman of the local YMCA board of directors, said this is the second phase of a program designed to raise $578,000.

Seventy-five individuals and industries have already contributed $117,000 toward the fund in an initial effort just completed, reported Blake.

The Metropolitan Chicago YMCA has pledged an additional $300,000 toward this project providing the communities will raise $350,000 before the end of 1957.

To help meet this goal, service clubs in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, and Des Plaines are participating in a one-day effort in which nearly 1,200 business people will be offered an opportunity to support this worthy project.

Participating clubs include Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary, and Jaycees in Arlington Heights; Lions, Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce in Mount Prospect; and Lions, Kiwanis, Jaycees, and Optimists in Des Plaines.

In addition to service clubs, the following industries and business concerns are assigning men to help make this program a success: Charles Bruning co., Littelfuse, General Telephone, Lord and Burnham, Valiquet co., Borg-Warner, American Foundryman's society; Butler Brothers, Marland Oil, Edsel, C. J. Lauer Insurance, Equitable Life Assurance, Bowman Dairy, Hannifin corp., Procon Inc., Photo Service, Cornell Papaer Products, Edward Hines Lumber co., General Box, Singer Sewing Machine, and International Cash Register.

The workers met for an orientation meeting in Des Plaines at the Deville Motel Friday for Des Plaines workers and Monday all other workers met at the Arlington House.

All workers assemble Tuesday at 8 a.m. for breakfast and final instructions at Littelfuse Inc. After their calls, they will Meet for dinner at Rolling Green country club.

Contributors will be given a placard with a picture of the YMCA building to display in their windows.

The YMCA is celebrating its Centennial in the Chicagoland area in 1958. It is expected that ground may be broken for the new suburban center as part of the Centennial celebration.

School Lunch Program Vital to Pupils

Mouth-watering menus for school children including apple-cranberry crunch (just right for the Thanksgiving season), biscuits dripping with butter, baked haddock, etc., are often contained in newsletters distributed through the office of Harold A. Wolfe, director of the Illinois school lunch program.

Newsletters also contain market hints, listings of resource materials on nutrition education, new ideas in equipment.

THE SCHOOL LUNCH and milk program is now being conducted in some 283 suburban schools, in some cases with the help of parent-teacher associations.

The program, conducted with the assistance of federal funds, is now bigger than ever before in Chicagoland, according to Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools.

Puffer said that 1,235 applications have been received, compared with 1,173 last year. He added that $2,898,559 in federal funds was distributed in Cook county for milk and lunches during the 1956-57 school year.

This figure will probably reach 3 million in the coming year, he said.

IN ADDITION to subsidies for hot lunches and milk, schools receive surplus commodities provided by the federal government. Distribution of surplus goods is intended to increase the quality and quantity of lunches served.

The school milk and lunch cash subsidy program has the same objective. Schools must meet high standards to qualify. Special nutritional standards are setup in the Type-A lunch which is the only one permitted.

Lunches and milk must be available to all pupils without regard to their ability to pay. Qualification is determined on a local school basis.

No child may be charged more than 35 cents for a lunch, and any adult, such as a teacher, is to be charged at least 5 cents more. State-wide average cost to pupils is 28.32 cents.

SCHOOLS RECEIVE 5 cents for each hot lunch with milk, and 3 cents for each lunch without milk. Participating schools also receive 4 cents for every extra half pint of milk served or used; schools in the milk program alone receive 3 cents for each extra half pint served.

The lunch program is limited to one meal per day for each pupil, except in residence schools where it may apply to up to 3 meals for each pupil.

There is no limit on the subsidy for milk served.

WHILE SCHOOLS are permitted to make a profit of 1 cent on each half pint of milk, few do so and many sell it to children below cost.

Wolfe's office estimates that the school lunch program is now a 40 million dollar a year business in Illinois. Last year it included 48 million meals plus 103 million servings of milk.

Paddock Publications Win State Press Contest Awards

FIRST PLACE AWARD PLAQUE for general excellence is presented to Stuart R. Paddock, editor of Paddock Publications, by Art Strang, secretary of Illinois Press Association. Award was made for the Roselle Register entry in the state newspaper contest. Another Paddock Publication, the Arlington Heights Herald, won awards for general excellence, typography and makeup and community service.

Paddock Publications, Inc., was awarded 4 prizes last weekend in the Illinois Press association's 1957 state newspaper contest.

Presentation of awards was made in Decatur Saturday during the state press convention. Stuart R. Paddock, editor of Paddock Publications, accepted the awards from Art Strang, association secretary.

FIRST PLACE in general excellence was presented to the Roselle Register. Commenting on the award, judges said: "Roselle Register won out in the final judging for top honors primarily because it was the most attractive and interesting entry. It received the highest total points in all phases and judging — mechanical, news coverage, literary excellence, community interest, editorial page, and advertising layout. It was noted, however, that while some newspapers today no longer set lead paragraphs in type larger than the balance of the story, the Register does this effectively on page one. The makeup of the pages, printing, picture reproduction, excellent "For Women" pages, sports coverage, advertising copy and layout, and the classified pages were all superior to other entries in this division."

A third place in general excellence was awarded to the Arlington Heights Herald. Judges declared: "Well printed with apparent excellent news coverage. "For Women" page was especially well done. The editorial page deserves commendation. Attractive and interesting."

THE ARLINGTON Heights Herald also won an honorable mention for community service and a third place for best typography and make up.

Other suburban newspapers which won prizes in the state-wide competition among 128 publications were Libertyville Independent-Register, Hinsdale Doings, Des Plaines Journal, Des Plaines Suburban-Times, Winnetka Talk, Highland Park News, Glen Ellyn News and Oak Park Oak Leaves.

ATTENDING THE state convention Friday and Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart R. Paddock, Robert Y. Paddock, and Stuart R. Paddock Jr.

Give Thanks by Giving

At Thanksgiving time, the Northwest Suburban Aid to Retarded Children is conducting its annual fund-raising drive. These funds will go to carry on the battle against mental retardation.

Despite the enormity of the problem of mental retardation, little is known about this condition and not nearly enough is being done to combat it.

Each day around 340 children in the United States are born mentally retarded to some degree. That means this day and every day. There are now in this country almost 5 million mentally retarded children and adults. Certainly any program of action which is designed to help find causes and prevention of retardation and which is working to establish adequate facilities for the mentally retarded is worthy of every citizen's support.

The Northwest Suburban association, one of more than 500 nation-wide member units of the National Association for Retarded Children, is interested in the welfare of the mentally retarded in our community. They deserve your generous contribution.

County Board President Member Rap Judge Fisher

(CNS) — County Board President Dan Ryan and Commissioner Charles F. Chaplin fired salvos at the courts Monday concerning the handling of lawsuits aimed at upsetting zoning.

Ryan complained he hasn't been served notice of suits that seek to overturn cases of rezoning or subdivision plats the board has denied or deferred.

"I DON'T KNOW who they serve notice on," said Ryan. "I'd like to find some way to see that the board is notified. I, as president of the board, should be the one who'd have to be served."

Ryan's remarks came as the board was notified of a writ of mandamus issued by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher directing it to record a plat for a 90-home subdivision in Lyons township.

The order was issued last week, only about 7 days after the suit was filed. This was about 6 weeks after the board deferred action on the plat with the matter not coming up again until Monday by court order.

CHAPLIN URGED the board assign a member of the county zoning bureau to Judge Fisher's court "all day long."

"That way we'll at least know what's going on," Chaplin said. Most zoning lawsuits are assigned to Judge Fisher for hearing, Chaplin said.

But his motion to appeal Judge Fisher's order never came to a vote.

"I say we should follow the dictates of the conscience of good zoning —not the dictates of Judge Fisher," Chaplin said.

CHAPLIN WAS slapped down verbally by Commissioner Arthur X. Elrod for calling attention to Judge Fisher's recent reprimand by the Illinois Appellate court for not disqualifying himself from a case his relatives tried before him.

"Why pick on Judge Fisher?" Elrod shouted. "Other judges enter orders, too, you know," he said.

The whole matter was dropped when Commissioner John Duffy offered the opinion, "We have nothing to win on an appeal." He said higher courts have held that homes are the highest and best use for property.

THE PLAT CALLS for homes on 10,000 square foot lots in the 31 acre tract. Earlier this year the county board refused to rezone it from farming to this use on recommendation of the county zoning board which pointed out other homes in the area have 20,000 square feet each.

Judge Fisher, however, upset this by voiding the zoning last April. (B8

CHAPLIN URGED the board assign a member of the county zoning bureau to Judge Fisher's court "all day long."

"That way we'll at least know what's going on," Chaplin said. Most zoning lawsuits are assigned to Judge Fisher for hearing, Chaplin said.

But his motion to appeal Judge Fisher's order never came to a vote.

"I say we should follow the dictates of the conscience of good zoning —not the dictates of Judge Fisher," Chaplin said.

CHAPLIN WAS slapped down verbally by Commissioner Arthur X. Elrod for calling attention to Judge Fisher's recent reprimand by the Illinois Appellate court for not disqualifying himself from a case his relatives tried before him.

"Why pick on Judge Fisher?" Elrod shouted. "Other judges enter orders, too, you know," he said.

The whole matter was dropped when Commissioner John Duffy offered the opinion, "We have nothing to win on an appeal." He said higher courts have held that homes are the highest and best use for property.

THE PLAT CALLS for homes on 10,000 square foot lots in the 31 acre tract. Earlier this year the county board refused to rezone it from farming to this use on recommendation of the county zoning board which pointed out other homes in the area have 20,000 square feet each.

Judge Fisher, however, upset this by voiding the zoning last April. (B8

58 FORD HERE TODAY
Fairlane

One look tells you... there's nothing newer in the world!

THE FIRST CAR EVER TO USE THE WHOLE WORLD AS A TEST TRACK
Fairlane
1958

You'll ride in a new world of style in the 58 Ford

New deep-sculptured styling
New Interceptor V-8 power
New Cruise-O-Matic Drive
New Ford-Aire Suspension
New Magic-Circle Steering

The 58 Ford is the newest car in the world—the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere.

Here's a car so new, so beautiful it made eyes pop from Paris to Pakistan . . . a car so rugged it proved its mettle in a road test around the entire world! What's more, it did it on surprisingly little gas—thanks to new Precision Fuel Induction. Come in and let us show you the world's most beautiful new bargain!

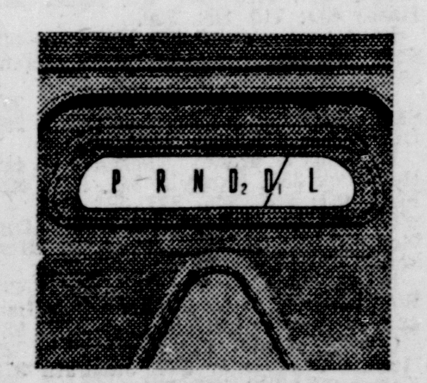
PRECISION FUEL INDUCTION

You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. There's nothing newer than these engines that give you up to 300 hp. Smoother power! From less gas! One secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a wonderful new carburetion, fuel feeding, and combustion system.



You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. New D1 position, used for all normal driving, lets you move smoothly, automatically—with just a touch of your toe—from solid-feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.

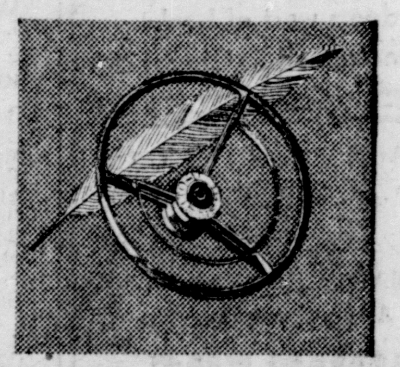
regardless of road or load

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. Four air pillows literally soak up the bumps! And Ford's new air suspension relevels the car every time someone steps inside or luggage is loaded. An extra cost option, you get all this at traditionally low Ford prices!



You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering! Come in and try it!

Come in today... Action Test America's only world-proved car!

The Mailman's Corner

Coming Soon: A Sane Halloween

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Despite the windspread Halloween custom of "tricks or treats," I have never felt right about handing a child candy, gum or cookies because he has threatened to play tricks on me unless I do. I can visualize such youngsters some day, with the idea of obtaining loot by forceable means, sticking me up with a gun, and not even giving me a chance to "treat" them. In fact, I have visions of those who have taken the idea seriously, helping themselves to the contents of my wallet, or the valuables in my house.

But I cannot but admit that I am amused, and in fact delighted at seeing the youngsters in my neighborhood parading around in costume, blissfully unaware that I can easily recognize Johnny, Sally, Sue, and Pete, with or without disguise. I love the color of youngsters in Halloween costumes, and the fun they get out of dressing up. If only it could be dis-associated from the idea of "tricks or treats," I am sure I should feel quite all right about the whole thing.

I MIGHT GO a step further and say that despite the obvious connection between Halloween blackmail and criminal blackmail, I could even enjoy handing out the treats, even under duress. But when I see some daddys and mommies helping the youngsters carry the loot, and no doubt sharing in it, it gets my dander up. And I get to wondering if it isn't possible to satisfy the youngsters in some other way than by handing out several dollars worth of candies and sweets which no doubt give many of them and their parents the tummy ache.

A great deal has been done in providing entertainment and youth activities for youngsters in the teen ages on Halloween, and that is fine. There is also a growing popular custom of having Halloween parties for the really small fry of the tricks and treats age. Maybe some day we can all enjoy Halloween in a sane and calm manner with no tricks or treats, no headaches and no stomach aches. That will be a day!" (B12

Quite Contrary

Another Delusion Bites the Dust

by MARY

Just had another theory blow up right smack in my face. Honestly, it's getting so that I hardly dare think anymore. I suppose I could give up thinking, say, for Lent or something. There are those unkind souls who will hoot with laughter saying cruelly that none will know the difference. Those, I ignore.

It's just that I was working under the supposition that the male of the species hated to get into a costume. As we had been invited to a costume party, I shook in my little boots hating to tell Father what was in store for him. We had to go as song titles and I had visions of him lying on the floor kicking his heels in a tantrum saying that he would be seen dead before he would go as Long Tall Sally.

SO, WHILE I was explaining it to him, I interspersed my words with such soothing syrup as there were going to be prizes, nice prizes. I also told him that everyone, just everyone would be amusing and that I would give my all to seeing that his costume was just right.

Surprisingly, he smiled benignly, patted my perspiring little head kindly, and said that it was just fine with him and he knew that I would do a good job. This spurred me to such action that the day of the party found me still sewing madly on "Long Tall Sally."

In fact, I gave so much time to "Long and Tall" that "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes" hadn't even gotten on the drawing board yet. As the day waned and party time came nearer and nearer, it looked very much as though I was going to go as "I Ain't Nothin' But A Nothin'."

FINALLY, ONE of my young took pity on me and offered to work on my frock which consisted of lots of eyes pinned on an old sheet complete with a necklace of cocktail glasses. She painted just scads of eyes. Blue ones, black ones, bloodshot ones and crossed ones. Two minutes before takeoff time after hours making up father for his debut, I slipped quickly into my creation and we were off.

And did the costume that I had slaved so lovingly over win a prize? Nope. I did. Which just goes to show something or other.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

First Trip to the Dentist

Dear Peg:

One of these days, if you haven't already, you'll be taking your child to the dentist for the first time to have some work done.

Perhaps you know your child well enough to know exactly how to handle the situation and just how he will react to it. On the other hand, you may be like my friend who, in her eagerness to help her child through an unpleasant experience, worried him so with too much talk about how it didn't hurt, how nice dentists really are and what kind of a reward he would get if he would be a good boy, that he was scared to death when the day for the appointment finally arrived.

Megan and Bridget recently had their first visits to the dentist and, from observing their behavior, I have a few tips that might be useful to you sometime. It's a good idea to take your children (if they are 4 years or more) with you when you have an appointment with the dentist, as frequently as you can, so that they will learn to know him and feel at home in his office. If, as Megan and Bridget did, your child sees you wince once in a while, while the dentist is drilling, and asks you if it hurts, you can be sure that this is a hypothetical question and that he knows darn well that when you "jump" it does hurt and you're not telling the truth if you say it doesn't.

Let your dentist look at your child's teeth each time you have him along—you may have an unpleasant surprise, as I did, and discover that there's a tooth that needs attention. Even if he doesn't need any work done, your youngster will get the idea, from the dentist's inspection, that some time he may be the one sitting in that mysterious "elevator" chair.

Bridget's first experience came unexpectedly and unheralded. Dr. Coe finished filling a tooth for me, then, as usual, took a look at the children's teeth. To my chagrin, he found that each one had a tooth that needed a little work done. Bridget's tooth seemed to need attention sooner than Megan's—so, with no further fanfare he lifted her into the seat, and up she went. Although she watched carefully each instrument he stuck into her mouth, she made no objections and sat very still. When Dr. Coe wanted her to open her mouth for the drill he simply asked her to do so, as he would an adult, eliminating all suggestions such as "this won't hurt," etc. When the work was completed he complimented her on being a very good patient. Her only comment was that the drilling "tickled."

I have heard that it is a good idea to leave your child alone with the dentist. Perhaps in some unusual cases this would be advisable, but if your child is accustomed to being in the office when you have your work done, then I should think it would be unnatural for you not to be there when he has his work done. Moreover, the moral support of having Mother close by (if she keeps quiet) is comforting to the child.

Seeing how calmly and pleasantly Bridget had reacted to her treatment, Megan was anxious to get into the chair, and was quite disappointed when the dentist told her she would have to come back in about four weeks. Without mentioning "reward" I had planned a nice afternoon of lunch, and shopping. As we have to go into Evanston to our dentist, it was a treat just to see a different town. When Megan's appointment came up at 11 a. m. on a school day, we took the whole day off, drove leisurely to Evanston, kept a successful appointment and had a delightful lunch at Cooley's Cupboard followed by a little toy buying.

Taking your child to the dentist in the morning, school day or not, is much better for the child and dentist. Both are more relaxed, patient and rested than they would be late in the afternoon. Psychologically, I think it's good too to combine a day of fun with a visit to the dentist.

Quite Contrary

Another Delusion Bites the Dust

by MARY

Just had another theory blow up right smack in my face. Honestly, it's getting so that I hardly dare think anymore. I suppose I could give up thinking, say, for Lent or something. There are those unkind souls who will hoot with laughter saying cruelly that none will know the difference. Those, I ignore.

It's just that I was working under the supposition that the male of the species hated to get into a costume. As we had been invited to a costume party, I shook in my little boots hating to tell Father what was in store for him. We had to go as song titles and I had visions of him lying on the floor kicking his heels in a tantrum saying that he would be seen dead before he would go as Long Tall Sally.

SO, WHILE I was explaining it to him, I interspersed my words with such soothing syrup as there were going to be prizes, nice prizes. I also told him that everyone, just everyone would be amusing and that I would give my all to seeing that his costume was just right.

Cranberry Salad Is Perfect To Serve at Holiday Meals

A vivacious and conscientious homemaker who effectively combines domestic activities with numerous civic responsibilities is Mrs. Myron R. Hartley of Mt. Prospect.

Not only has this young woman held many official posts in local organizations in addition to caring for a home and 2 youngsters, but she loves to cook as well.

Mrs. Hartley has so many favorite recipes it was difficult for her to choose one for this column.

Cookies and salads are her speciality. A salad recipe which she acquired recently, fast became a favorite of hers and is especially appropriate for this season of the year.

It is a delicious cranberry salad, perfect to serve with holiday turkey dinners or at a fall luncheon, accompanied by finger sandwiches.

In addition to tangy cranberry sauce, this salad contains crushed pineapple and chopped celery. Orange jello is used as the congealing agent and whipped cream and cream cheese are folded in. The latter 2 ingredients give the salad a creamy color and consistency.

The combined effect is a salad that is flavorful, refreshing and a real taste treat.

She recently completed a 2-year term as president of the Arlington Heights Junior Womans club and was also secretary of the Northwest Suburban Tri-Delta alumnae club.

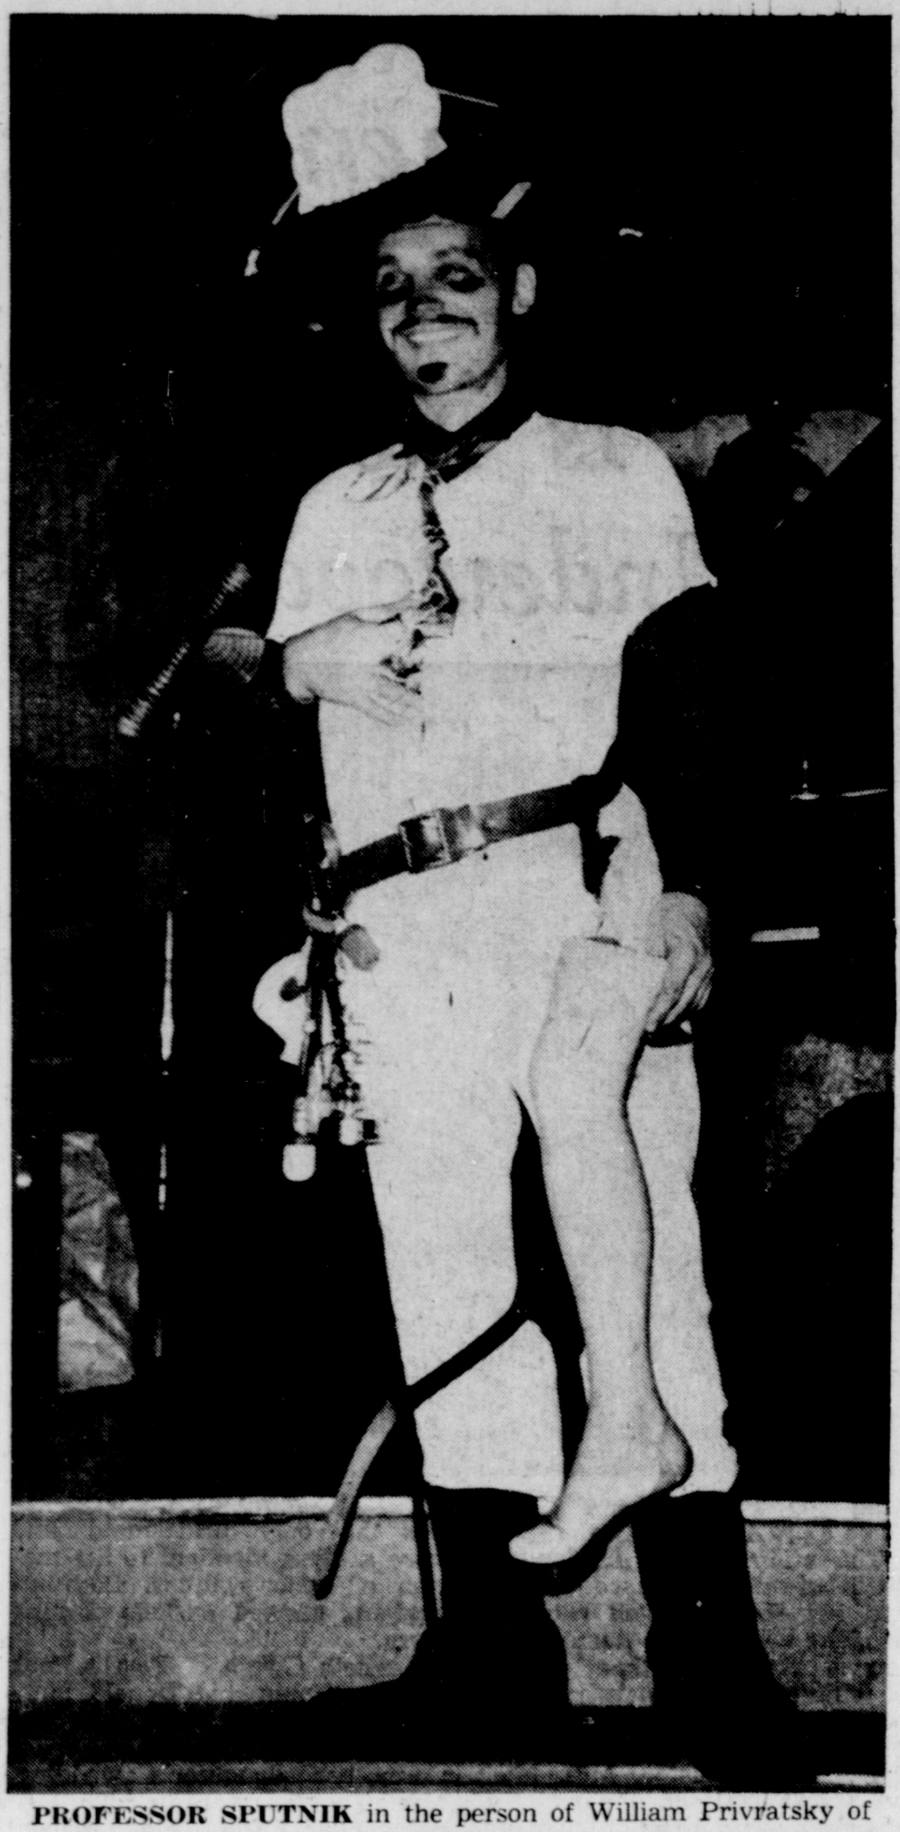
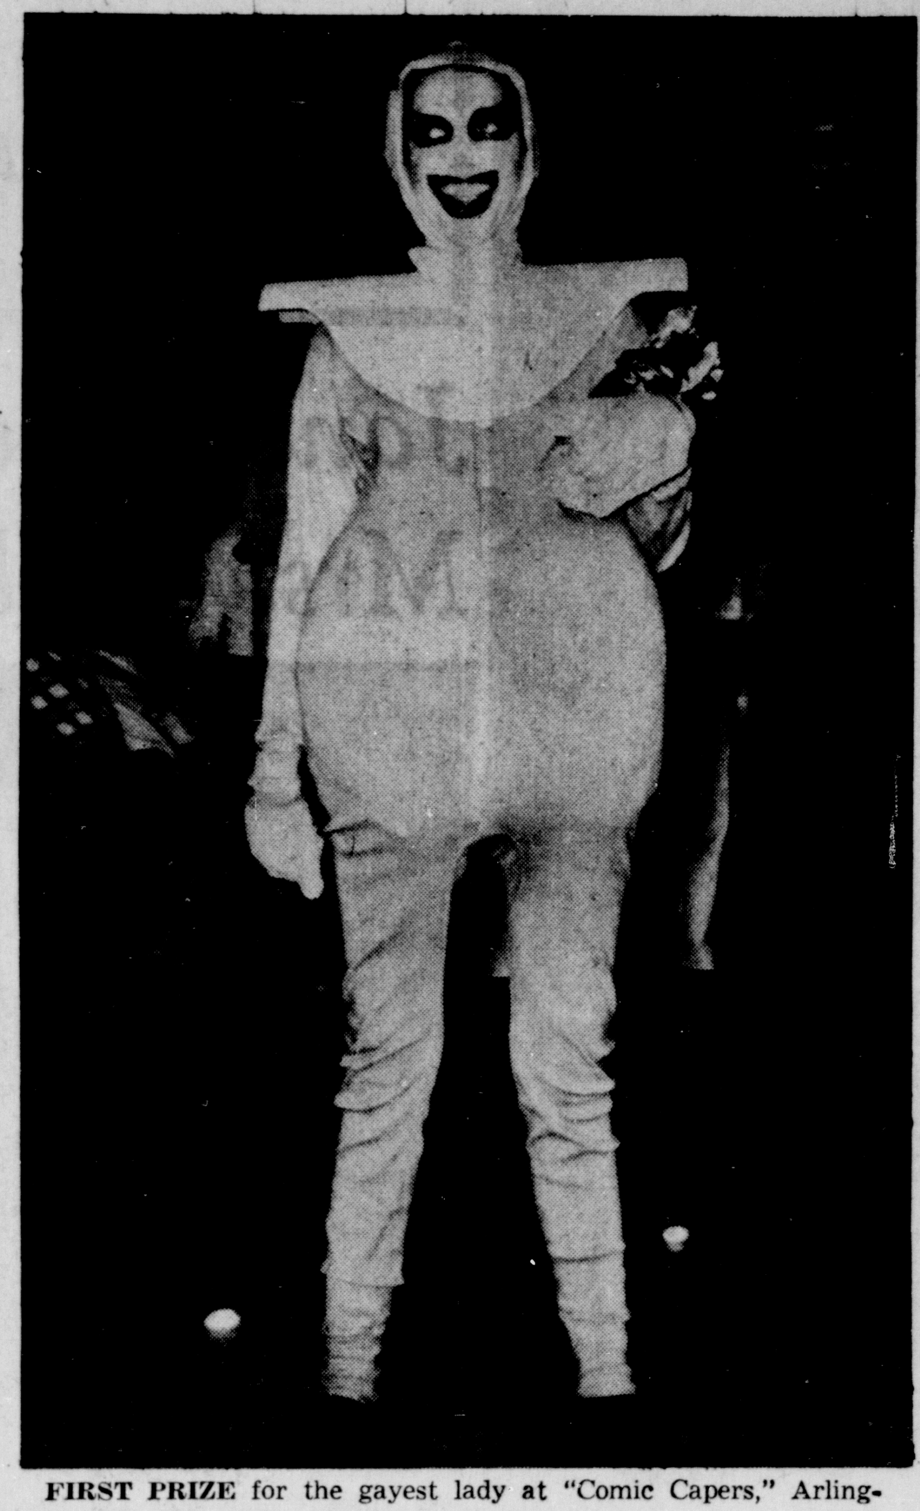
Club Philanthropies Benefit from 'Comic Capers'



PROFESSOR SPUTNIK in the person of William Privratsky of Arlington Heights, who won the men's first prize, was prepared for any contingency. He and his fellow dancers at the "Comic Capers" Saturday night helped the Junior Womans club prepare to make its annual contributions to the Northwest Community hospital, the Wheeling Braille classroom and the migrant school in Des Plaines.



FIRST PRIZE for the gayest lady at "Comic Capers," Arlington Heights Junior Womans club benefit dance, went to Mrs. Edward Macnak of Chicago. She came as a Martian, resplendent in a chartreuse union suit topped off by an orange face and orange antenna. This comic capering will help the Arlington juniors support seventh district projects such as the Lutheran Day Nursery and scholarships for teachers of exceptional children.

IMPERSONATING MOONBEAM McSWINE and her Dogpatch escort, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hinden of Arlington Heights won 2 tickets to "My Fair Lady" at "Comic Capers," a costume dance staged Saturday night by Arlington Heights Junior womans club. Proceeds from the benefit will be used in the club's philanthropic work, both local and district.

Cranberry Salad Is Perfect To Serve at Holiday Meals

A vivacious and conscientious homemaker who effectively combines domestic activities with numerous civic responsibilities is Mrs. Myron R. Hartley of Mt. Prospect.

Not only has this young woman held many official posts in local organizations in addition to caring for a home and 2 youngsters, but she loves to cook as well.

Mrs. Hartley has so many favorite recipes it was difficult for her to choose one for this column.

Cookies and salads are her speciality. A salad recipe which she acquired recently, fast became a favorite of hers and is especially appropriate for this season of the year.

It is a delicious cranberry salad, perfect to serve with holiday turkey dinners or at a fall luncheon, accompanied by finger sandwiches.

In addition to tangy cranberry sauce, this salad contains crushed pineapple and chopped celery. Orange jello is used as the congealing agent and whipped cream and cream cheese are folded in. The latter 2 ingredients give the salad a creamy color and consistency.

The combined effect is a salad that is flavorful, refreshing and a real taste treat.

THE HARTLEYS live at 214 S. William in Mt. Prospect. They have 2 children: Dane, 5, and Mark, 17 months.

As a charter member of the Mt. Prospect Presbyterian church, Mrs. Hartley has held the posts of circle chairman and finance chairman of the Women's organization.

She recently completed a 2-year term as president of the Arlington Heights Junior Womans club and was also secretary of the Northwest Suburban Tri-Delta alumnae club.

This past summer Mrs. Hartley was handicap chairman of the Tri-City golf leauge and at present is district chairman of the American Home committee of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs.

Cranberry Salad

2½ cups hot water
1 can cranberry sauce or 1¾ cups homemade sauce
½ pint whipping cream
2 small packages cream cheese
1 cup crushed pineapple, drained
1 cup chopped celery

Dissolve jello in hot water. Add the cranberry sauce and let set until partially congealed but not firm.

Lastly add the pineapple and celery.

Pour into 8 inch square pan or jello mold. Place in refrigerator until set.

Serves 9 generously. (S

Historical Society Features Chicago's Famous Families

For Women

Marianne Scott, Women's Editor

Chicago's prominent families are represented in historical mementos dating back to the 1800's, including a fringed-top wicker carriage and a diamond studded lorgnette, that comprise a special exhibit of recent acquisitions at the Chicago Historical Society.

The Paris gowns (1880) of Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, the jewel case of Mrs. Potter Palmer, a yellow wicker carriage that belonged to Mrs. Joy Morton, and the French gown (1900) and portrait of Harriet Pullman (Mrs. Arthur Frederick Schermerhorn) are among the recent gifts to the Society which will be on exhibit in the North Gallery of the main floor. This selection of gifts and purchases recently added to the museum and library includes hundreds of objects and pictures. The gowns will be displayed on life-size manikins.

MRS. C. PHILLIP Miller, a trustee of the Chicago Historical Society and a granddaughter of George M. Pullman, has donated several objects and pictures associated with the Pullman family, including a portrait (1880) of Harriet Pullman Schermerhorn, Mrs. Miller's aunt, and a gown of white duvetyn and lace (1900) which belonged to Mrs. Schermerhorn. The Pullman co. donated a desk owned by George M. Pullman.

Sterling Morton, also a Trustee of the Society, presented the morning phaeton used by his mother, Mrs. Joy Morton, in 1900. Mrs. Cecil Barnes donated the platinum and diamond lorgnette which belonged to her mother, Mrs. Benjamin F. Ayer.

Objects from the Potter Palmer Estate include a silver cardcase owned by Bertha Honore before her marriage to Potter Palmer; an egg puzzle that was presented to Mrs. Palmer as a souvenir of the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition; and a pair of women's cut steel shoe buckles.

THE BOARD of Trustees of the University of Chicago Settlement has given the Society the Mary E. McDowell manuscript collection, among which is a letter (1904) from Jane Addams to Miss McDowell in which Miss Addams sympathized with her friend during the stockyards strike of 1904. Another letter, written by Robert Todd Lincoln to Charles L. Strobel in 1907, is the gift of James H. Mitchell.

Gary Sheahan, of the Chicago Tribune staff, gave the Chicago Historical Society some 700 of his water color and pencil drawings of the Normandy Invasion and sketches of United States soldiers which he did in Europe in 1944 and 1945. These are included in this special exhibit.

CHICAGO'S FIRST fire engine, "Fire King No. 1" (1835), beautifully restored to its original colors of pink, red, blue, green and gold, will be moved into the North Gallery for this special exhibit.

Furniture, clothing, miniatures, books, maps and playbills, recently received as gifts or purchased by the Chicago Historical Society for its museum, print and library departments, will all be on exhibit to the public for several weeks.

The Chicago Historical Society's building at North avenue and Clark st. in Lincoln Park is open on weekdays from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Sundays from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. All visiting days are free to adults, except Sunday and special holidays when the charge is 25 cents. Children are always admitted free.

FOOT SAVING EDUCATION

by

J. H. Kotz

Do all measuring devices give the same size for the same feet?

Measuring devices are the cause of endless arguments among shoemen. Some add a half size, others subtract; some have the children stand, others measuse them sitting down. There is no one right way because shoe sizes vary. 9C from one company may be as big as 9½D from another.

It is a good idea to remember that a measuring device is used to save the shoeman's feet, not the customer's. Experienced shoemen can guess the size of eight out of ten feet without measuring them, but, if they guess wrong, they have to make an extra walk to the stock. When they learn how the measuring device can be adjusted to the make of shoes they fit, they get the right size the first time and have fewer complaints from their bunions.

One thing that no measurer measures is the depth of the foot and that is very important. Nor is there any marking in the shoe to indicate whether it is shallow or deep. Again, the best answer is the old one — there is no substitute for the experience of man who is doing the fitting.

Carol Busse Is Bride Of Edgar L. Pfingsten

(Community Camera

Eight attendants preceded Miss Carol Jean Busse down the aisle of St. Paul Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect, for her marriage to Edgar L. Pfingsten October 12. The double ring service took place at 7:30 p.m. in a candlelight setting with Rev. W. C. Koester officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Busse, 121 S. Owen st., Mt. Prospect, and the bridegroom is the son of Edwin Pfingsten, 815 N. State rd., Arlington Heights.

Mrs. E. R. Jackisch was organist and Miss Carol Faulstich was soloist. Her selections were "Wedding Benediction" and "The Lord's Prayer." White mums and pompons were in the altar vases.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a floor length gown of silk mist with taffeta and alencon lace. The full skirt ended in a long train. She also wore a fingertip veil and carried a crescent of stephanotis and cymbidium with ivy.

Mrs. Elwood Goebbert of Mt. Prospect was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Joanne Busse, cousin of the bride, Dale Tews, Mrs. George Angus and Ruth Koester, all of Mt. Prospect, and Phyllis Joost, cousin of the bride from Marengo. All wore identical gowns of velvet on taffeta in blue and carried crescents of bronze tone cymbidiums with copper-toned ivy.

The bridegroom's niece, Martha Hughes, 3, of Arlington Heights, was flower girl and wore a silk and cotton dress fashioned identically to the bridesmaids' gowns. Her flowers were also the same. The bridegroom's 5-year-old nephew, Mark Schroeder of Palatine, was ring bearer.

Best man to the bridegroom was Alfred Goebbert of Arlington Heights and ushers were Wayne Busse, brother of the bride, Arnold Goebbert of Palatine, E. Eugene Hughes of Arlington Heights, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Alvin Kehe of Mt. Prospect and Ralph Wilkening of Roselle.

Three hundred guests attended the bridal reception held in the Mt. Prospect VFW clubhouse where Mrs. Busse received in a toast lace dress with cypripedium corsage.

Mr. Pfingsten took his bride on a 2-week wedding trip to Florida and they are now residing at 815 N. State rd., Arlington Heights. Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Arlington high school. The bride is employed by United States Gypsum Co. in Chicago and the bridegroom by Charles Lerch Elevator Co., also in Chicago.

Mrs. Cecil Franz Weds Racine Businessman

Fall flowers decorated Arlington Heights Presbyterian church October 19 for the marriage of Mrs. Cecil May Franz, 1111 Burgoyne rd., Arlington Heights, and Royal Edward Greenwood of Racine. The service took place at 4 p.m. with Rev. Paul L. Stumpf officiating and was followed by a 5:30 dinner for relatives and close friends at Brandt's restaurant.

Open house was held at 8 p.m. in the bride's home in Sherwood, Arlington Heights.

For her marriage, Mrs. Greenwood wore a pastel blue nylon lace and taffeta dress trimmed with pearls and sequins. She also wore long lace gloves in blue and a leaf-shaped hat of sequins. A 3-strand pearl necklace, gift from her bridegroom, and a corsage of white orchids, completed her ensemble. She was given in marriage by her son-in-law, Herbert E. Conner of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Conner was matron of honor and wore a street-length dress of sapphire blue faille with matching hat, gloves and shoes. She carried a hand bouquet of talisman roses.

Famous English Spode China Perfected By 18th Centruy Potter' Joseph Spode

England is identified with many fine chinas, but one of the best-known is Spode. This fine tableware is due in large measure to the ingenuity and untiring efforts of an 18th century English potter, Josiah Spode. He was born in Staffordshire in 1733. Staffordshire, known today as the most important centers of potteries in the world, was the "Pottery District" even in those remote days. There were no large potteries, however; individual potters worked in their own thatched cottages with a few helpers.

Spode apprenticed himself at the age of 16 to Thomas Whieldon, one of the most ingenious potters of his day. By 1762 the industry had grown and factories had been built; Spode was now managing the works of Turner and Banks. In 1770, he acquired part of the property and established the business which has continued ever since.

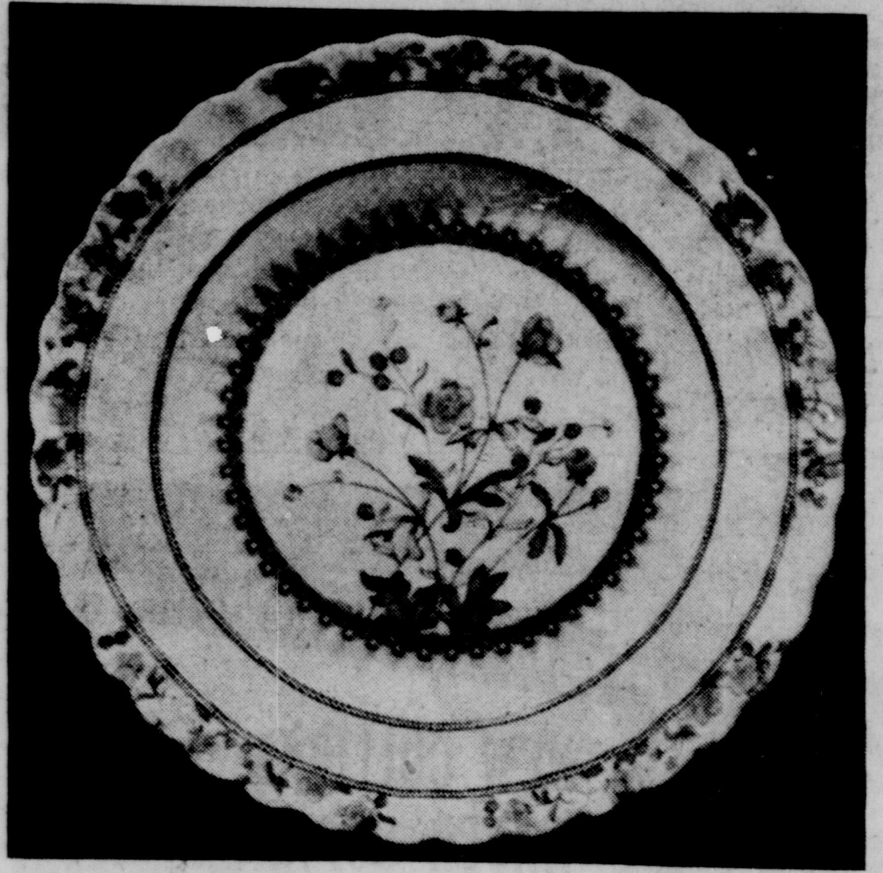
JOSIAH SPODE was living in the period of the rapid expansion of his industry and no small part of that expansion was due to the innovations which he introduced. The English potters had produced the body known today as "Fine English Tableware." They were acquiring skill and taste in modelling attractive shapes and had just begun to produce complete sets of dinnerware. Production, however, was limited by the slow and costly methods of complete hand decoration.

It was Spode who perfected the process of underglaze printing and introduced underglaze blue into Staffordshire. This was a revolutionary advance and the wares of Spode were in great demand. He rejected the classical influence of the time and adopted the Chinese influence as his own. With unerring instinct he adapted Chinese designs; he copied them directly and he combined them with purely English motifs.

SPODE'S MAJOR triumph was the perfection of Bone China. After years of experiment and failure, in 1794 Spode drew from his oven the first piece of English Bone China, pure white and sparkling in its translucent beauty, a new ware that rivaled the finest ever brought from the Orient. His perfected formula is the standard today.

In selecting Spode, you may be sure of lasting beauty. Your pattern will not look out of date in a few years. The Spode your grandmother had is appropriate for the tables of today and the tables of tomorrow. One of the great economies of buying Spode is that each piece is priced separately. Spode is always "open stock"; you buy only the pieces you need.

Spode is displayed locally at Dirigo Fine Table Appointments, 170 N. Milwaukee ave., Wheeling.



FIRST MADE in the early 1800's, Spode Buttercup has continued to delight generation after generation of people who appreciate fine things. The beauty of natural flowers makes Buttercup appropriate for any setting.

She wore a juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls, and a waist-length veil. Her bouquet was of white feathered carnations, sweetheart roses in shades of pink, and white stephanotis. Everett Ostrom, uncle of the bridegroom from Cleveland Heights, Ohio, performing the service. Only the immediate families attended the double ring service.

The couple stood before the fireplace which was banked with flowers and lighted candelabra to repeat their vows. Mr. Barr gave his daughter in marriage.

For her marriage the bride wore a simple white sheath dress and carried a sheaf of rust mums. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Constance Barr. Best man was Robert L. Oliver of Chicago.

The couple met while attending Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington, where the bride was a member of Phi Gamma Delta sorority and the bridegroom a member of Sigma Kappa fraternity.

The couple met while attending Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington, where the bride was a member of Phi Gamma Delta sorority and the bridegroom a member of Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Suburban Matrons Discover It Isn't 'Smart' to Be Fat

by BOB FREVERT

To be "calorie conscious," to be slim, is to be among the elite, the knowing—a symbol of one's higher level of education and awareness of modern living. It isn't "smart" to be fat.

According to a report issued by Dudley-Anderson-Yutzy, New York, N. Y., a store survey showed that as income and position rise, pounds go down.

Among women of $5,000 to $7,000 income, 59 per cent wore the small "misses" sizes; in the $3,000 to $4,000 bracket, only 42 per cent wore the "misses" sizes.

IN THE THICK of the "calorie" battle, people become amateur nutritionists, observes the report.

They absorb the flood of little booklets listing the calorie count of various foods.

Suburbanite mothers complain they are always sitting down and putting on pounds—as chauffeurs to their children, shuttling from school to piano or dancing lessons to scouts.

Some 14 million oldsters count calories to keep well; the middle-aged watch their weight to keep young.

WIVES ARE TOLD that fat can kill their husbands, contributing to a coronary attack such as was suffered by President Eisenhower. So they attempt to keep their husband's weight down.

The old American institution that the "Fat" child is cuddly and cute falls by the wayside.

The dabbling of amateurs in such a complicated subject as nutrition is bound to result in certain misunderstandings, the report says.

FOR INSTANCE, the untrained eye doesn't always check such things as the amount of food for which the number of calories is indicated, such as 3 teaspoons, 1 cup, 1 pound, according to the report.

There are "empty" calories and "full" calories.

The report suggests that in the tide of change to the "slim" figure, every food needs re-evaluating.

Here is a new look at the banana, once so lowly. It is easily digestible, prescribed now by doctors as baby's first food.

SOME PEOPLE believe bananas are fattening, said the report, a fallacy due to preoccupation with calories and fattening foods. There are only 88 calories in a medium banana, according to USDA Handbook No. 8, Composition of Foods.

Besides, each calorie contains more than its quota of vitamins and minerals, lacking in many reducing diets, the report states.

The United Fruit Test kitchen is embarked on a whole program of "modern eating"—salads, main dishes, desserts, that will give the banana the new look it merits in modern meals, says the report.

THE REPORT stresses that "amateur nutritionists" need guidance in avoiding fad diets, need to learn how to eat intelligently and bypass the hardship of weight reduction.

Largely misunderstood, states the report, is the true calorie count of many foods, as they are eaten and with what accompaniments. Bread must be calorie-counted with its butter; berries with sugar and cream.

Also, calories must be understood in terms of nutrients. According to the report, a doctor pointed out that one might spend a daily ration of 2,000 calories at a ball game on candy and popcorn; calories not planned on the basis of needed protein, vitamins, and minerals.

EACH WEEK THE Heights Liquors brings out a new list of special items at special low prices. They make a point of seeing that all of the various classifications of liquors are included in their list of specials. This week beer is going to be one of their big features.

Budweiser in either cans or bottles and Pabst in bottles are specials. Brinbrew beer, "Ohio's finest," is also on their list of money saving items.

Old Stag straight whiskey, blended whiskey, Scotch, gin, vermouth, brandy, French vodka, wine and bonded bourbon are also on their list of specials.

If you are entertaining and need extra cocktail glasses, the Heights Liquor store will be able to help you out by supplying you with extra glasses at no charge. They also supply their customers with free ice.

IT IS HARD to realize that the number of shopping days until Christmas has grown to such a small number, especially since we are mainly concerned with how our Thanksgiving holiday will be spent. However, as we realize that the time for shopping between now and Christmas is so very short, we all have to start to make some plans.

The Jacob's Hardware and Supply will be mailing out their toy and gift catalog in the near future and in it their customers will have a chance to see the hundreds of different items that are available at the Hardware and Supply store.

Toys are a new item with the hardware store this year, but they have gone all out in seeing that their stock of toys and games is as complete as any collection you will find.

Right now at Jacobs Hardware and Supply you will find a huge selection of toys. Jacobs provides their customers with a lay away plan with no carrying charge and they will store your selections right in their store until just before Christmas. This is the perfect way to keep little ones from hunting all over the house for their gifts weeks before Christmas.

THE TOY SELECTION at Jacobs ranges from rocking horses to educational toys for every age group. They have a large selection of remote control and powered action toys that are as fascinating to the adults as to the youngsters.

There is a large selection of toys that are priced well under a dollar that will be just the thing to fill those stockings with.

Electric trains are a part of Christmas and todays modern toy designer had designed interesting accessories for the young railroad engineer. A wrecking crane that operates a caboose that is illuminated, and a cow that you get off the track by remote control are just a few of the items that go with the trains.

Space will not permit us to even begin to make a dent into the supply of toys that Jacob's have, but a quick trip down to their store in the Prospect Heights shopping center and you will find one of the outstanding toy departments of the area.
